NAVAL FUND REQUESTED

Budget Calls for $30,000,000

Congress Given Estimates for Construction Work Already Authorized

Amounts Fixed After Board Presents Report on Value of Aircraft in War

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Budget proposals to carry out naval construction and other work already authorized by Congress were presented to the House today by Director Lord of the Budget Bureau, the request totaling $30,000,000, of which $1,000,000 would be made available at once for work on the battleship Florida. Work on the Florida already is in progress at the Boston navy yard, and can be completed with the $1,000,000 carried in the new budget proposals. It will not be available for service with the fleet until part of the pending work is finished.

A provision of $2,000,000 is included in the budget proposal for the laying down after July 1 of the first two of the eight 10,000-ton post-treaty cruisers already authorized, and a like amount is asked for beginning construction work on six new gunboats needed chiefly in Chinese waters. The new cruisers will cost approximately $16,500,000 when completed, and the Navy General Board has stated that twenty-two of these ships would be required to place the cruiser strength of the American fleet on the basis of equality contemplated by the Washington naval limitation treaty for the battleship tonnage strength of the American and British navies.

FOR AIRCRAFT CARRIERS

In addition to the provision for construction of cruisers and gunboats, the budget request calls for $14,000,000 to complete the naval aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington, in process of conversion, from battle cruisers, and $3,000,000 for procurement of additional naval aircraft. Each of the new aircraft carriers will carry seventy planes of various types and the aircraft appropriation will be for the purpose of providing these machines to be ready when the ships are commissioned.

Included in the $30,000,000 request also is a $9,000,000 item for changes and repairs on six of the older battleships, including addition of deck armor, alteration to oil burners from coal-burning craft; addition of "blister" underwater protection and other improvements permissible under the terms of the Washington treaty.

The budget as presented to Congress was approved by President Coolidge after he had been given an opportunity to examine in de-

AUTO SHOW FIRE LOSS IS $3,000,000

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 13. — Fire which swept the Kansas City Motor Shop shortly after midnight tonight caused damage estimated as high as $3,000,000.

Hundreds of shining cars were destroyed. The building, that of the American Live Stock Pavilion, valued at $75,000, was destroyed.

The flames started from defective wiring in flimsy decorations and when discovered by a watchman did not cover more than two square feet. Before the watchman could bring fire companies to the scene the flames had taken a commanding lead.

The fire started in the accessory division, an annex. The loss there is estimated at $1,000,000.

JARDINE TO SUCCEED GORE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—William M. Jardine, president of the Kansas Agricultural College, is President Coolidge's present selection for the post of Secretary of Agriculture. Unless there is a decided change in the situation the President will send the nomination of Dr. Jardine to the Senate tomorrow to succeed Gore, Secretary pro tem, since the death of Henry Wallace, thereby completing his new Cabinet. Dr. Jardine and Senator Curtis of Kansas called on the President today.

It is learned that the nomination would have been made last week had not the mention of Dr. Jardine brought a series of protests from the friends of J. G. Fields of Oklahoma, which delayed it.

THREE FACTORS ENTER

Three factors are said to enter into the prospective appointment of Dr. Jardine as follows:

(1.) President Coolidge has been impressed by the record and ability of the Kansan, particularly his work on the Agricultural Commission.

(2.) Herbert Hoover, upon whose judgment the President relies as much as he does on anyone's because of the intimate relations between the Departments of Commerce and Agriculture in the matter of marketing, believes Dr. Jardine will co-operate with him thereby ending the feud between the departments of several years standing.

(3.) The President has been desirous of giving recognition in the Cabinet to Kansas, which never has had a Cabinet member in its history of sixty years. He believes that as one of the chief farm States of the Union it is fitting that it should be recognized in the Department of Agriculture.

His determined stand against the McNary-Haugen bill first brought Dr. Jardine sharply to the administration's attention. Although it was an unpopular action, he issued a statement declaring that the measure was unsound and that the farmers were deceiving themselves in believing that betterment would come from such a scheme.

KNOWS FARM PROBLEMS

Dr. Jardine was made a member of the President's Agricultural Commission. His work on the board has demonstrated that he knows farm problems. Upon his shoulders fell the work of explaining legislation it proposed to Congressional committees.

It is no secret that the President desires for Secretary a man with more business experience than a college president has an opportunity to get. But familiarity with farm needs is essential and Dr. Jardine is considered to stand above most of the other candidates in his apparent grasp of the various problems.

Dr. Jardine strongly favors the development of co-operative marketing. He believes that the government can advance the movement to a greater extent than it has. Dr. Jardine also believes that the attention of the farmer must be centered first on his home or domestic markets. He favors a high tariff on farm products.

ERSTWHILE DEBUTANTE NOW BANKER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—From a society woman, who had never done any work as a wage-earner until twelve years ago, Mrs. William Laimbeer has advanced to a position in the National City Bank of New York, where she will have charge of all business done at the bank by women.

She went into business after her husband, a Wall-street broker, was killed in an automobile accident and the responsibility of caring for her three children was thrust upon her. She began in a position little above that of a clerkship and steadily advanced to the rank of executive in the first billion-dollar commercial bank in America.

A popular debutante as Nathalie Schenck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spotswood D. Schenck of New York and Newport, Mrs. Laimbeer had many suitors, but her first marriage was with Capt. Charles Glenn Collins, who served with the British army in the Sudan and Boer wars. They were married in Monterey, Cal., and disagreed while spending their honeymoon in Honolulu. She returned to her mother's home and obtained a divorce in 1907.

There was one child by this marriage.

Capt. Collins later had difficulty with the law. He last figured in newspaper dispatches in 1923 when he was acquitted of charges of a gem swindle in Bombay, India.

Mrs. Laimbeer is the first woman to become an officer of the National City Bank. Her rise has broken a century-old tradition of a conservative bank.

ADMIRAL CHARGED WITH FAKING BOMBING REPORT

Ease With Which Airplanes Can Sink Battleships Hidden, Colonel Tells Quizzers

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—A charge that the navy "doctored" the official statement on the results of a bombing test to prevent disclosure of the ease with which airplanes can sink battleships, was sprung in the session of the House Aircraft Committee today.

Lieut.-Col. Schauffler, a reserve officer of the Army Air Service and a supporter of Brig.-Gen. William Mitchell, accused Rear-Admiral William R. Shoemaker of blue penciling the official statement to remove confession that battleships are doomed by the development of bombing aircraft.

CENSORSHIP CHARGED

When the statement of the results of the test of bombing the old battleship Virginia was laid before him, Admiral Shoemaker, according to Col. Schauffler, exclaimed:

"It's true, every bit of it, but my God we can't let this get out or it will ruin the Navy."

The witness also read into the record a letter received by him on the 10th inst., from Lester B. Gardner, a New York magazine writer, charging that newspaper men on the bombing trip were practically prevented by the Navy from sending their accounts of the experiments until after the Pershing statement, doctored by Shoemaker, had been wirelessed by the Navy.

ADMIRAL IN DENIAL

Admiral Shoemaker tonight branded Col. Schauffler's story as "ridiculous" and announced he will ask to be permitted to go before the committee tomorrow morning if any invitation to testify does not reach him in the meantime. He doesn't recall ever having had a conversation with Schauffler aboard ship on the way to the maneuvers during which, as Schauffler testified today, Admiral Shoemaker was alleged to have remarked:

"Well, anyway, these ships have their water-tight compartments and they can't be sunk."

"Such a statement," Admiral Shoemaker said, "is on a par with the rest of his testimony." The water-tight compartments may not have been removed, but the doors had been removed by the Bureau of Construction and repaired before they knew the Army was to use the ships for bombing tests and, of course, they were bound to sink with the water rushing from one part to another."

It is also probable that Secretary of the Navy Wilbur will be called before the committee and asked if he has changed his mind concerning the damage which a 2000-pound aerial bomb may inflict upon a battleship since the recent version which he gave before the Naval Appropriations Committee. Repeated testimony before the committee has been given to the effect that the Navy "was trying to cover up" the real story of the bombing tests and it was not until Brig.-Gen. William A. Mitchell, assistant chief of the Army Air Service, took the stand that the actual results of the bombings were aired before the public.

Col. Schauffler began his testimony today by reading into the record a letter, which he sent on February 5, to Representative John C. McKenzie, Republican, of Illinois, chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, stating that after the Virginia had been sunk within a few minutes' time off Cape Hatteras, Lester D. Gardner had written a description of the test to be signed by Gen. Pershing and broadcast from New York at the request of the Radio Corporation of American, of which Gen. Harbord is president.

ESKIMOS OF ARCTIC ISLE TRIP RETURN

Ten of Original Thirteen Left on Wrangell in 1923 Reach Canada

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Feb. 13.—Eleven Eskimos, ten of whom were in a colony of thirteen persons that Harold Noice left on Wrangell Island, in the Arctic Ocean, 110 miles north of Siberia, when he reached there August 20, 1923, arrived here today on the Iyo Maru, a Japanese steamer.

The eleventh was a baby born on Wrangell Island. Charles Wells of Uniontown, Pa., and Nome, Alaska, died in Vladivostok, Siberia, after the Russian transport Red October, which reached the island August 20, 1924, took off the colony. Two Eskimo children died, one in Vladivostok, and one in Manchuria, whither the Russians allowed the colony to go after Wells died with pneumonia as the stated cause.

The Eskimos, who were taken aboard the Iyo at Harbin, Manchuria, were bound for their homes on Golovin Bay, seventy-five miles east of Nome.

Noice took the party to the island when he went to relieve a party of five led by Alan Crawford, a young Torontoan, to the island in 1921 under the auspices of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, to hold Wrangell for Great Britain. Noice found that all but Ada Blackjack, an Eskimo woman from Nome, had perished.

CLEAN SHOW CRUSADE ON IN NEW YORK

Commissioner of Police Sends Picked Squads to Report Conditions

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The police took a hand today in the drive against certain Broadway plays which have been complained of as too naughty even for New York.

Commissioner Enright sent "qualified members of the department" to a selected list of shows tonight as critics. They were instructed to report what they see and hear back to Mr. Enright, Chief Magistrate McAdoo and License Commissioner Quigley.

Notice was sent, also, to the offices of William A. Brady, whose "Good Bad Woman," offered in connection with Al Woods, was the immediate cause of the clean-show crusade, to furnish the department with a copy of that show's manuscript.

Mr. Brady has offered to remove this play provided others, which he says are just as bad, also are taken off the boards.

Mr. Enright declined to name the plays against which complaints have been made, but it was understood that several beside the Brady-Woods productions are to be censored by the police, including the Belasco show, "Ladies of the Evening."

Three other men are being sought in Colorado Springs.

COLLINS IS YET ALIVE

Explorers Hear Victim's Moan

Hopes of Rescuers Fall as Cavern in Shaft is Blind Passage

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CAVE CITY (Ky.) Feb. 13.—Floyd Collins has survived his two weeks' imprisonment in a natural trap in Sand Cave, Brig.-Gen. H. H. Denhardt, in command at Sand Cave, announced after an executive session of the military court of inquiry this afternoon.

The announcement was based upon statements made by witnesses before the court that they had heard Collins breathing when they entered the main passage to the cave this morning.

It was the first indication in two days that the victim was alive, and came on top of a discouraging report from those digging a shaft toward the cave that a natural tunnel found at the fifty-five-foot level of the shaft which was expected to lead to the early extrication of Collins was a "blind passage."

Ed Brenner, a miner of Cincinnati, and A. Blevins of Louisville, testified that they heard Collins breathe when they went into the natural passage of the cave this morning for soundings from the rescue shaft. Their statements were put into the records.

HEAR COLLINS COUGH

Brenner and Blevins had gone into the cavern five hours previously with Andy Blaig and John Schickle of Louisville, who had reported hearing Collins cough twice.

At the conclusion of the executive session, Gen. Denhardt called newspaper men together and had the court stenographer read a transcript of the miners' testimony. He announced that he believed the witnesses' statements, and on the basis of their testimony believed Collins was alive.

Brenner and Blevins reported that they had penetrated the natural passage to the slide which last week blocked the way just ahead of the trapped explorer.

"I heard Collins give one long gasp like a groan," Brenner said. "It was not loud."

"'Floyd! Floyd! Floyd!' I yelled, but got no answer."

"'Hold out, we're coming,'" he said he shouted, and then proceeded with the soundings according to prearranged signals.

WITHIN TEN FEET

Brenner estimated he was within ten feet of Collins when he heard the sound. The soundings for the shaft itself indicated, as near as he could guess, that the workings were between ten and fifteen feet from where he was stationed. He could not say whether the shaft was in a direct line with the cave passage or to one side.

Ever since the work on the shaft was begun a week ago today on the top of the hill overhanging Sand Cave, those in charge had hoped to find some crevice, some fissure, through which they could penetrate to the main passageway and thus speed up the work.

Early this morning such a tunnel was found. A strong down draft, indicating that it possibly was an opening to the cave, was felt, and a period of frenzied digging began. Shortly before noon H. T. Carmichael, in charge of the operations, and several others went down into the shaft. As a precaution, spectators were driven away from the vicinity of the shaft by National Guardsmen. The military court of inquiry, sitting at

BAY REGION WELCOMES SUN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—With sunshine bursting through the clouds, the work of restoring to normalcy the floodswept section of Northern California, began in earnest today, with home owners, farmers, and railroad crews busy repairing the damages caused by the wind and rainstorms of the last four days.

Marin and Sonoma counties, where the storm wreaked the greatest havoc, took advantage of the first rainless day since last Tuesday to straighten out its tangled railroad service, so that by tonight all electric trains were running on schedule and mails once again were being distributed with regularity.

From the Weather Bureau came the hopeful prediction that, for the time, the rains were at an end, and that the weather for today would be fair.

Throughout Marin and Sonoma counties, where steam railroad service is still curtailed, the mails today were distributed by large motor trucks furnished by the Army Transport Service. The trucks are carrying the mails to Petaluma, Novato and Santa Rosa.

All highways have been cleared in Marin and Sonoma, except a section at the foot of Corte Madera hill, where the base of the roadway was washed away. Motorists bound for Sausalito will be forced to detour for the next few days.

The authorities of Marin and Sonoma counties were taking every precaution to prevent a recurrence of landslides, and today had large forces at work shoveling out sections where slides were imminent.

The State Highway Commission began a survey of bridges against which the flood waters had backed.

High water in the Red Bluff section was responsible for the wrecking of ninety-six feet of the 172-foot bridge spanning Reed's Creek. The bridge that spanned Coyote Creek, on the Menleyville road, nine miles southwest of Red Bluff, was broken from its foundations and swept down stream.

In the Burr Valley section, four slides covered the Gilliam road for a long stretch, while the channel of Eliza Creek was changed, leaving a bank twenty feet high on the Blossom road.

From the upper reaches of the Sacramento River the crest of the

HUGHES LAUDS ROOT AT DINNER

Places Him in Ranks of "American Nobility"

Says He Displayed Genius for Statecraft

Credits Him With Founding International Court

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. — Secretary Hughes tonight elevated Elihu Root to "the American nobility," placing him "in our hall of illustrious men who hold the only patent of nobility in this republic, that of worth of character, distinction of attainment and preeminence in service." This, said Mr. Hughes, is "the nearest approach that we can make in this country to the gift of an earldom."

Secretary Hughes delivered his tribute as the principal speaker at a dinner to Mr. Root at the historic Union League Club, of which the former Cabinet member twice was president. The occasion was the celebration of the eightieth anniversary of Mr. Root's birth, which falls on Sunday, and men high in the public life of the State and nation gathered to acclaim his services "to his country, to the cause of international justice, to the Republican party, and the Union League Club."

GENIUS FOR STATECRAFT

In addition to Mr. Hughes, those who spoke were: Solicitor-General Beck, United States Senator Wadsworth, former New York State Governors Odell, Miller and Whitman and former Senator William M. Calder, president of the Union League Club. Mr. Hughes explained he paid tribute to Mr. Root not only as an admirer of the veteran statesman's achievements, but as a friend of forty-two years' standing. From the time Mr. Root was United States District Attorney for the southern district of New York, to the present day, said the Secretary, he has "displayed a genius for Statecraft as distinct as that of the most eminent painter, sculptor or poet for his art."

Referring to the statement of Socrates that "it is pleasant to grow old with good health and a good friend," Mr. Hughes said of Mr. Root:

"But it is to grow old, not only with health and friends, but with memories of the worthiest actions. We greet one tonight who has all the blessings that age can win and hold."

ZEAL OF REFORMER

Then he sketched briefly the high lights of Mr. Root's career, speaking first of his services to his native State, New York, characterizing him as a "great citizen, the mentor of the commonwealth." He told of Mr. Root's work as a member of the State's constitutional convention of 1894, in which he reconstructed New York's judicial organization. He also commented on Mr. Root's service with the 1915 State constitutional convention, which, he said, made it known that "his is the unquenchable zeal of the reformer held in control by a supreme practical judgment."

"In his services to his country," continued the Secretary, "he has been true to the highest ideal of his profession, and there could be no higher praise than that.

He had the work of applying to some 10,000,000 of people in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines the principles of American liberty. You will find in his instruction to the military Governor of Cuba in February, 1901, the formulation of our relations to Cuba which were afterward embodied in what is called the Platt amendment. You will find in his reports the explication of the principles to be applied in Porto Rico and the Philippines, and the foundations of whatever successful administration we have had in these islands.

"Mr. Root has one of those rare equipments which would make him pre-eminent in any office, executive, legislative or judicial. He would have made a great President; a chief justice of highest distinction; as he was conspicuously an able administrator. In the Senate, by the dignity, worth and eloquence of his utterances, he recalled its most illustrious days.

"It is, however, in the international sphere that he has rendered the most notable service. He became Secretary of State under President Roosevelt. It is no disparagement of that dynamic personality to say that Roosevelt needed Root. Roosevelt admired and trusted Root, and Root admired and admonished Roosevelt."

MADE WORLD COURT POSSIBLE

Hughes cited Mr. Root's visit to South America where he enunciated the principles "which must ever guide us in our relations with the Latin-American republics; his adjustment of the school controversy with Japan and the 'gentlemen's agreement' on Japanese immigration; "he told of Mr. Root's instructions to American delegates to the second peace conference at The Hague and of reform in the American consular service. He continued:

"But Mr. Root has rendered even greater service in the international field since his retirement from office. . . . If you asked me what I considered to be the crown of his endeavor, I should say it was his skill in cutting through the entanglements which stood in the way of the establishment of a permanent court of international justice. His suggestion as to the method of electing judges made that court possible, and this successful endeavor in the interest of international peace through promoting the reign of law will ever enshrine his memory."

MAY WHEAT GAINS IN DAY OF CHANGES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Violent fluctuations and big export sales served to emphasize today the fact that the United States is again the cheapest wheat market in the world. Swings in price today went as far as 7 cents a bushel up and then 7 cents down in the course of establishing Chicago values on a world parity basis. In the end May delivery of wheat stood 3 3-4 cents to 4 1-2 cents higher than at the finish of trading on Wednesday.

Even greater price changes took place in the more distant deliveries of wheat, July covering an extreme range of 7 1-2 cents and September, 7 1-2 cents. At times the trading was of a half-frantic character, especially at the opening when the market seemed to be aiming straight for the zenith, although Wednesday's close had been weak almost to the point of demoralization.

One of the sensational items in the new export business was a purchase of 250,000 barrels of flour for Russia, in addition to other huge sales which were reported on Wednesday, but were then regarded with mistrust. To a considerable extent, profit taking accounted for the temporary sharp setbacks which the wheat market later underwent in the face of such encouraging news.

Heavy liquidating sales on the part of owners of corn and oats were also a decided handicap against buoyancy of breadstuffs.

COLLINS STILL ALIVE IN CAVE

Cave City, some six miles away, adjourned, and the members, including Gen. Denhardt, went to the cave. The Red Cross unit at the town was advised to be prepared for any emergency, and Dr. William Hazlett of Chicago was called from his room at a Cave City hotel. It had previously been arranged for him to be the physician to first see Collins. The report that a recovery was imminent spread to Cave City and caused a general exodus.

TENSE MOMENTS

Every move of the officials at the mouth of the cave was watched with straining eyes. The minutes grew into hours.

Then the officials came out bringing with them a discouraging story and postponing until tomorrow at the earliest and probably as late as next Tuesday the time they now expect it to take them to extricate Collins.

The hole, which proved a blind passage, was found near the fifty-five-foot level, measuring from the higher side of the shaft away from the mouth of Sand Cave.

In a conference with newspapermen immediately after he came out of the shaft Carmichael told of the failure and explained the plans for the immediate future.

The test drill sunk in one corner of the shaft had reached a total depth of seventy-one feet this afternoon, Carmichael said. The next ten feet should be the hardest kind of going, he said, seven feet of that distance being limestone and the remaining three a rocky formation. Progress will be impeded as much as 50 per cent, he said. Up to this time the shaft had been dug at the rate of about ten feet a day. The hard rock will reduce this to five feet daily. When the sixty-foot level or below is reached, lateral tunnels will be dug in the most likely direction in an effort to tap the cave proper.

SEEK CREVICE

Meantime, the workers, discouraged, but undismayed at the outcome of their first venture into a natural fissure, continued to hope and search for any other crevice that may hasten their work to a conclusion.

Below the limestone layer, the drill struck a "void" or soft spot. Carmichael said the void also had been encountered in the first test hole, a few feet to one side of the shaft. The void under the shaft and the void to one side are not on the same level, Mr. Carmichael added, but did not explain whether there was any significance attached to the difference in the two levels.

Noon tomorrow was the time estimated it would take to go through the limestone. To reach the imprisoned man might take until Tuesday, provided no unexpected fissure leads to a recovery sooner.

This statement was made prior to the announcement that Collins was believed to be alive. Whether this would necessitate a change in the plans had not been made known early tonight.

Casade Hangs for Slaying of Local Officer

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN QUENTIN, Feb. 13.—Francisco Casade was hanged at the State prison here today for the murder of Oscar Longfellow, a Los Angeles motorcycle officer on November 29, 1923, Thanksgiving Day.

Longfellow was shot while taking Casade to jail on a charge of disturbing the peace. Casade was tried twice. The first jury failed to agree and he was given an opportunity to plead guilty and receive a life sentence. He refused to do this and was convicted at his second trial.

Warden Frank J. Smith did not mount the gallows with Casade to direct the hanging, but stood among the spectators.

RIVER COMPACT IS HANGING FIRE

Asserted School Fraud Quiz Backed by House

Resolution to Draft Wealth in Wartime Passed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Feb. 13.—The Senate still is hanging fire on the Colorado compact with little prospect that definite action will be taken in the three weeks that yet remain of the session. To the seven propositions on the subject now pending today was added another resolution by Senator Colter, president of the Arizona High-Line Canal Association, asking appropriation of $100,000, for "further investigation" declaring against the tri-State agreement suggested and asserting that the compact upsets basic law and endangers Arizona's rights.

The House passed without debate or opposition a drastic concurrent resolution offered by Wisener of Yuma, directing the Attorney- General to proceed at once in an investigation to determine whether State school money had been illegally loaned to the Lyman dam project in Apache county and if it so appears, to sue the responsible officials on their bonds.

PROJECT CONDEMNED

Two years ago a joint legislative committee returned a torrid report on the manner in which the State had financed the project and condemned both its financial and engineering features. Mr. Wisener declares that nothing has been done to carry out the recommendations of the committee. The project has paid no interest and now owes the State more than $600,000. The first appropriation was made in 1918, during the administration of Gov. Hunt and was protected by a later appropriation during the Campbell administration.

Gov. Hunt's bill designed to abridged the powers of the State Corporation Commission was presented in the House today by Mr. Provost.

Senator Lines offered a bill to elect majority candidates in primary elections, a measure rejected at the last general election, but still favored by Democratic central committees.

The House passed a resolution urging Congress to enact the Capper-Johnson bill, providing for conscription of wealth in war-time. It killed a Senate bill providing for standard weights on bread when discovery was made that it might interfere with home bakeries.

SCHOOL BILL OFFERED

Recommendation of a new compulsory school bill was given in the House after recommendations had been made that children of Mexican cotton pickers might not be thrust into country schools to the detriment of regular pupils. The special House committee will investigate concerning the State's mentally deficient children, to report next session.

Senator Donnelly has brought in a measure establishing an industrial commission of three members, to be named by the Governor, for adjustment of workmen's damage claims and establishing a State insurance fund. Definite percentages of the man's wage compensation are to go to a widow till death or remarriage, the child 15 per cent of the wage when there are two children. Other new bills include: Providing that no person shall be excused in a liquor case on the ground of possible self-incrimination; appropriating $50,000 toward the cost of the Agua Creek flood control dam above Phoenix; appropriating $15,000 for water development near Flagstaff, and $10,000 for the same purpose in Northern Mohave county; prohibiting shooting of game birds within three miles of an incorporated municipality.

MILLIONS ASKED FOR NAVY WORK

tail the report of the Navy General Board on the study it made at his request of the relative values of aircraft, battleships and submarines as naval weapons. That report is still in the President's hands, but is expected to be made public next week and add fuel to the aircraft controversy now being waged before Congressional committees.

STICKS TO BATTLESHIPS

The report was submitted to the President some time ago, but is understood to have been referred by him to the Budget Bureau for examination in connection with appropriations to be made during the present session of Congress to carry out authorized naval construction projects. The Budget Bureau referred it back to the Navy Department for suggestions on this point and today's request for a considerable appropriation to carry out the projected work on old battleships is construed as confirming the expectation that the report will show the conclusion that nothing as yet known warrants abandonment of a naval defense policy based on the battleship as the essential unit of sea warfare, although the board is also expected to urge the value of naval aircraft as essential auxiliaries of the fighting fleet.

South America Wheat Figures Show Decrease

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — Reductions in wheat and oat crops in South America and an increased flax crop in Uruguay were reported today to the Department of Agriculture by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

Aggregate wheat production for Argentina, Chile and Uruguay for 1924-25 was estimated at 224,000,000 bushels, compared with 288,000,000 last year, or a decrease of 2 per cent.

Oats production for the three countries was forecast at 58,000,000 bushels, against 87,000,000 last year, a decrease of 33 per cent.

The flaxseed crop of Uruguay was estimated at 1,535,000 bushels, compared with 1,178,000 last year, an increase of 30 per cent.

PINEAPPLE PACK DUE FOR JUMP

Hawaiian Shippers Buy New Boat to Take Care of Industry's Growth

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Hawaii's pineapple pack now approximates 7,000,000 cases a year and within a few years should reach 9,000,000 cases, according to the Matson Navigation Company, which handles 90 per cent of the shipments and which held its annual meeting here today. President E. D. Tenney of Honolulu was unable to attend the meeting because of press of business in the islands.

Announcement was made that the growth of the pineapple industry had made advisable the purchase by the company several weeks ago of the seagoing tug Moositauka for the towing of barge loads of pineapples from newly established plantations on Lanai and Maui to Honolulu. The increase in passenger travel has caused the company to begin construction of the largest passenger vessel built in America to date, the Maiolo, which is expected to make biweekly trips between this city and the islands, negotiating the 2091 miles in four and one-half days.

EDISON PROJECT HIT BY DECISION

pounding of water to be brought from Vermillion Valley reservoir, Florence Lake reservoir and Blaney Meadows reservoir through the Florence Lake tunnel and enjoin the defendant from impounding water which they propose to impound at some future time at Mammoth Pool and at points above that place in the development of their west side project?"

Judge Woolley holds that he cannot agree with a contention of the defendants that the plaintiffs' rights cannot be invaded until the water is taken.

"In my opinion," the court holds, "if any rights of the plaintiffs are to be invaded by the completion of the Florence Lake tunnel, that invasion will only come about when the actual turning of water into Huntington Lake."

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY IN DECISION.

"The injunction as I understand it," declared Roy V. Reppy, general counsel for the Edison Company, after reading press dispatches last night, "will not in any way affect the completion and functioning of our electrical power plants. The judge's decision, apparently, will rest on analysis before a number of points can be definitely determined, but on the whole it seems that the decision upholds the main points of contention advanced by the company.

"Apparently, the court will allow us to run a certain amount of the river's flood water through the Florence Lake tunnel; just how much, however, seems to be the important point. It must be remembered that all of the water going into the lake returns to the river again through another outlet, none of it is lost.

"It may be that we will have to pay some of the riverside property owners for water rights; that was one of the issues on which we hoped to get a court decision and it will save further litigation."

The Herminghaus heirs here, in statements made last night, also saw a victory for their case in the judge's decision. Their contention, they declared, was that the river's flood waters provided their lands with necessary irrigation water, and that the company's power operations would reduce this considerably and would constitute a violation of their riparian rights. The opinion of Judge Woolley, they maintained, upholds their claims.

Two of the three heirs make their home in Los Angeles. They are Mrs. Amelia Herminghaus, 636 South Serrano street, and her daughter, Mrs. Pearl H. Womack.

Mrs. Womack said last night that the injunction suit was filed nearly two years ago, and has been bitterly contested ever since.

The actual trial of the case consumed twenty-one days, and Judge Wooley suspended court for a week while he considered approximately 5000 pages of evidence presented in the case.

Angelenos Lost in Nevada Storm for Seven Hours

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 13.—Exhausted after wandering aimlessly for seven hours in a blinding snowstorm, three men staggered into the ranger camp at Lucky Boy Canyon near Hawthorne, Nev., early this morning. They were M. E. Gorman, E. Hart and J. T. Becker of Los Angeles, who had been forced to abandon their automobile nine miles from Sweetwater last night when they had become marooned by the heavy snows and drifts.

Following attempts to turn the machine around, the car became mired in the snow and the men struck out for aid and lost their way. They arrived in Reno tonight after receiving food and aid at the ranger station.

CHARGES BOMB REPORT FAKED

Colonel Accuses Admiral of Hiding Test Results

Letter is Read Into House Committee Record

Air Service, the letter states, and was then submitted to Gen. Pershing, who said he would O.K. it if the Navy placed its stamp of approval. Schauffler, in the letter, states he was sitting on a life preserver box on an upper deck when the letter was brought to Admiral Shoemaker by a junior officer.

"Admiral Shoemaker reads the statement," the letter continues, "and exclaims: 'It's true, every bit of it, but my God, we can't let this get out or it would ruin the Navy. We will have to change this some, and see if it can be put under the general's signature the way we want it.'

"During the next fifteen minutes, Admiral Shoemaker and his junior officer went over this statement, word for word, blue penciled whole lines and paragraphs and changed the wording so that upon completion of their job there was absolutely no resemblance to the original statement written by Mr. Gardner. I personally heard all this and saw the whole proceedings from start to finish, and would be willing to take the stand and swear to this."

PRESS OBSTRUCTED

The letter from Gardner to Schauffler substantiates Schauffler's version of the incident and adds a paragraph:

"Quite as interesting is the account of the difficulties placed in the way of the twenty newspaper men to get their accounts of the bombing to their papers while Gen. Pershing's Navy-prepared statement was sent through by wireless. Newspaper men were told that they could send messages by government wireless, but that the rate was $170 per 100 words, and that payment must be made in advance. The New York Times' correspondent, Hal Smith, was the only correspondent able to arrange for this payment, with the result that his story did not go from the ship until after 11 o'clock, too late for the early editions."

ADMIRAL'S VERSION

"Can you imagine Gen. Pershing letting anybody in the Navy blue pencil his stuff?" asked Admiral Shoemaker. "The truth is that a statement by Gen. Pershing was handed to me with the request that I make suggestions for any changes that might occur to me. I remember I changed two paragraphs to bring out the point that the water-tight compartments in the Virginia were not intact and that she sank more quickly than she would had this been the case."

Other witnesses of the day were principally navy aviators, who were asked their opinions as to unified air service and an air corps in the Navy. Representative Frail, Democrat, New York, asked that the committee obtain a list of naval officers at the air station here who are not experienced flyers, but take at least four hours of flying a month as passengers in the cockpits of planes in order to get "flying pay" which means a 45 per cent increase. Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker appeared at the morning session and gave his recommendations for aiding commercial aviation.

POKER GAMES IN PRISON EXPOSED

Former Chaplain Also Admits Bribe Plot

Wealthy Bootleggers Testify in Trial of Official

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Feb. 13.—Description of stud poker games carrying a $50 limit, with wealthy bootleggers serving sentences in the Atlanta Federal penitentiary as participants, and statements of the defense that it intended to show that a chaplain at the institution was the "ringleader" in a plot to sell "soft jobs" to prisoners, were the principal develonments today in the trial of A. E. Sartain and L. J. Fletcher, former officials of the prison, and Laurence Riehl, Columbus, O.

Sartain, who was warden of the prison; Fletcher, his deputy, and Riehl, a visitor last year in the warden's home, presented the first witnesses in their defense today, the government having rested yesterday.

EASY-JOB BRIBE

Father Thomas P. Hayden, former prison chaplin, has testified, as a government witness, that he participated in a conspiracy to receive $10,500 in bribe money from seven Savannah men, convicted in the "rum-ring" exposure in that city in 1923, for which they were to be given "easy" assignments in the prison.

Fletcher, Sartain and Riehl were the other conspirators, the prosecution charges.

Outlining the case to the jury, the defense stated it intended to show that Hayden alone received bribe money and, through two witnesses, it attempted to develop testimony of deals the chaplain was alleged to have made on the pretense of giving them "soft jobs," but the court ruled it could not be admitted.

Clem Herbes, Cincinnati, referred to as a member of the "George Remus gang," and who served a sentence at the prison for conspiracy and attempted bribery, was one of these witnesses. He stated that he had been assigned to Father Hayden's quarters after the latter had asked him if he wanted the place. Sartain and Fletcher were never paid any bribes by him, he said.

MANUFACTURED WHISKY

On cross-examination Herbes said he had engaged in the legitimate manufacture and sale of whisky before he was sentenced, and declared that he had not been guilty of the attempted bribery charged—involving an alleged offer of $500,000 to a director of prohibition agents.

Maxwin Kessler, wealthy New York bootlegger, and a negro, succeeded Herbes at the chaplain's quarters, the witness said, adding that Father Hayden wanted to "clean house," and had sent him to the hospital.

Several witnesses testified that the assignments and privileges given the Savannah prisoners involved in the charges were not unusual and that a number of other inmates enjoyed the same position.

So far the new Governor of Texas has made no formal response to the invitation asking her to take part in the inaugural parade. The information that "Ma" may come to Washington was obtained from a member of the Texas delegation, who stated that he had been so informed by friends of the Governor. The local committee is hopeful that if "Ma" does come she will bring along the famous "Old Gray Mare Band" of Brownwood, the official musical organization of the Lone Star State, as well as at least one company of the Texas Rangers.

MRS. STOKES ATTENDS TRIAL

Hears Attorney Outline Husband's Case for Defamatory Evidence

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, [illegible] trial of W. E. D. Stokes, New York millionaire, who is charged with conspiracy to defame Mrs. Stokes to aid in divorce proceedings, made her first appearance in the courtroom today since the proceedings two weeks ago. The occasion for her appearance was presentation by Assistant State's Attorney W. W. Smith of opening statement for the prosecution.

Completion of a jury was effected unexpectedly shortly before noon, twenty minutes after Judge W. N. Gemmill had interrupted a series of questions and challenges with a warning that he would take the examination of jurors into his own hands unless it was speedily finished.

Mr. Smith's statement, which will be continued at 10 o'clock Monday, outlined the course the evidence will follow. He pictured the defendant, Stokes, as approaching Chicago negroes under the assumed identity of "Dr. Johnson," and engaging in the procuring of affidavits defaming the character of Elwood Stokes.

Judge Gemmill delayed the trial before hearing evidence on motion by Smith's counsel to quash the indictment. Mrs. Stokes was indicted on previous charges by the grand jury in the divorce suit brought by Stokes in 1918.

BRITISH BALK AT PROTOCOL

Canada's View of Geneva Peace Plan Means Rejection; Opposes Japanese Clause

BY JOHN STEELE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The British government has made known Canada's view on the Geneva peace protocol and this means rejection of the protocol by the British Empire, at least in its present form.

Canada, while not disassociating herself from the principles of international brotherhood, arbitration and co-operation which underlie the protocol, has determinedly set her face against any acceptance of the protocol as it was hastily drafted at Geneva. She is especially emphatic in opposing the Japanese amendment which will permit foreign interference in Canadian domestic affairs, especially on the immigration problems and restrictions on colored races.

Canada also refuses to accept the protocol's rules for the application of sanctions by nations which have failed in their obligations under the protocol. She offers constructive suggestions which have received favorable consideration by British government officials in the framing of amendments to the protocol.

This clinches the [illegible] obviously made clear by [illegible] New Zealand and South Africa, Ireland, alone of all the self-governing dominions, refusing to admit herself, and it is [illegible] she leans strongly to the American viewpoint, and would like to see France against the protocol and Europe at Geneva.

RAINFALL HEAVY IN SAN GABRIEL MOUNTAINS

Figures showing that the recent rainfall was considerably heavier in the San Gabriel Mountains than in the valley and consequently replenished the underground water supply for the Los Angeles district, were compiled yesterday by Chief Engineer Reagan of the County Flood Control district.

The heaviest precipitation was recorded at Dillon's Camp in Pacoima Canyon, where .84 of an inch of rain fell. Some snow fell on the high peaks near Opid's Camp on the West Fork of the San Gabriel.

Lack of Ticket to Inauguration Worries Dawes

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Charles C. Dawes, Vice-President-elect, is wondering how to take care for all his friends who will go to Washington to attend the inauguration ceremonies, but any one has any spare tickets, Dawes let it be known, he could use them.

He has been allotted 400 tickets, calling for seats in the Senate chamber, but the reviewing stand, where bas many of the parade from Capitol hill to the Pennsylvania avenue to the White House, he has ten admission tickets, shortage has put a damper upon many Chicago friends of the Vice-President-elect is that he is for going to Washington for the special trains.

Members of the Hamilton club have chartered a special train, the scarcity of tickets is threatening them, for they do not know what happens, tickets or no tickets. But Gen. Dawes has a number of friends and relatives who are depending on him for tickets, and is wondering where they will come from.

Man Who Posed as Prince Sees Steel Mill Job

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Alexander Gregor, who masqueraded in Los Angeles for a week as a Russian prince, is back at the home of his father, a steel mill worker in Indiana Harbor, it was learned today.

The "Prince Esterhazy of Hungary," as he called himself, declared that it was "a wonderful experience, everybody took me for royalty."

"It was all a joke, and I enjoyed it. I made any number of breaches of royal etiquette," he explained.

Welcomed back as a prodigal son, young Gregor, who is 20 years of age, sat in the southern Indiana basement apartment of his parents and declared he never more would neglect his father and mother, declaring he was through with nonsense and would get a job in the steel mills.

Young Gregor leaped into local limelight when he was charged with entering the home of T. C. Herbst, 351 South Hope street, and helping himself to Mr. Herbst's clothes. It was the episode that wrote finis to his career of inviting certain Hollywood beauties to accompany him on a visit to the Prince of Wales on the royal ranch in Canada. He was released on probation and paid his way to return to his parents.

CONFESSES AS SLAYER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Feb. 13.—Rafael Sanches has been formally charged with the murder of Gabriel Domingues. He has confessed to the killing, in which he says he was after he had been taunted by insulting Sanchez's wife. The slain man was an old resident of the city, employed as a road camp drymap.

UTILIZED THE MAIL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Feb. 13.—Something new has been added in connection with a 240-pound catfish captured on the Santa Cruz river near Tucson. The mail-order fish was shipped and spread on the floor of a local restaurant apparently to feed curious citizens. Large crowds have been made.

GRAPEFRUIT ON GAIN IN BRITAIN

Imports from United States Continue Increase

Fifty-nine Per Cent Rise Registered in 1923

Advertising Scheme is Aid to Greater Market

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Imports of grapefruit into the United Kingdom continue to increase rapidly according to figures of the recently published annual statistical report of the Board of Trade, states K. A. H. Egerton, clerk, American Consulate-General, London, Eng., in a report to the Department of Commerce. During 1923 Great Britain imported 50,000 hundredweight of grapefruit, an increase of nearly 59 per cent over 1922 imports. Official figures for 1924 are not available but one large importer expresses the opinion that the sales of grapefruit have continued to increase through 1924. In 1923 the United States supplied 54 per cent of grapefruit or about 28,000 hundredweight, as compared with 19,000 hundredweight in 1922, when we furnished 61 per cent of total imports.

The past year has seen a number of advertising schemes inaugurated in England for advertising fruit, and it is thought that a considerable development in this direction will probably take place in the near future. The Fruit Brokers' Federation of Great Britain has started an advertising scheme called the "Fruit Trades Federation Scheme," which calls for a compulsory levy of 1-4d (about ¼ cent) a package on both the grower and the salesman or broker on oranges, onions, grapes, tomatoes, pomegranates, melons, apples and pears from certain sources including the United States. American growers contribute toward this scheme in case of apples, pears and oranges but not grapefruit. New Zealand growers are pushing their apples in this manner, and South African growers their fruits, including grapefruit, while Australian growers have accepted it as a means of advertising their apples and pears.

Besides these co-operative schemes Mr. Egerton adds there is one London importer of American grapefruit who is spending considerable money in giving publicity to a particular grapefruit. The contribution method of advertising fruits seems to be working fairly satisfactory and if American grapefruit growers wish to increase their exports to England it might prove wise to consider co-operating with the Fruit Brokers' Federation of Great Britain unless they consider it better to inaugurate on a co-operative basis advertising campaigns to increase the demand for the best grades of American grapefruit in the English market.

COOLIDGE APPROVES AMENDED CODE BILL

APPROPRIATION BILLS FINISHED

House Clears Its Calendar of Last of Measures

Senate Continues Fight Over Independent Offices

Attaches Rider to Abolish Pullman Surcharges

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The House cleared its calendar of annual appropriation meaures today with the passage of the $15,000,000 bill for the legislative establishment.

Meanwhile, the Senate continued its fight over the independent-offices appropriation measure and recalled from the House the conference report on the Interior Department supply bill because of the action of the conferees in reducing from $45,000 to $35,000 the item for the Flathead reclamation project in Montana.

Besides these two measures, the Senate still has to act on the District of Columbia and legislative appropriation bills, but leaders are confident that all of the supply authorizations can be cleaned up within a week or ten days.

Democratic leaders in the Senate in formal conference decided not to throw any obstacles in the way of the calling up of the measures in the legislative program agreed upon by the Republican majority, but Senators were left freedom of action in opposing any of the dozen bills on that program.

At the same time the Cranston bill for reorganization of the prohibition enforcement unit and the Federal employees' reclassification measure were added to the list of bills on which action will be sought before March 4.

Administration leaders also undertook to smooth the way for consideration of the government reorganization bill by agreeing to eliminate the provision for a Department of Education and Relief and to retain the Good Roads Bureau in the Agriculture Department, instead of transferring it to the Interior Department.

The amended measure will be presented tomorrow to the Republican organization conference for decision as to whether it should be pressed at this session.

While the Senate failed to reach a vote on the independent-offices bill it attached as a rider to that measure, a provion prohibiting the 50 per cent surcharge by railroads on Pullman accommodations. The plan is to force a vote in the House in this way on a subject which that body has failed to consider at the present and the last session.

CIVIL WAR PENSION BILL PASSES HOUSE

Gross Revenue Falls But Expenses Are Cut

Taxes on Properties Rise $6,739,000

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — Net earnings of $987,133,650 by Class 1 railroads in 1924 were reported today by the Bureau of Railway Economics which announced that the total represented a return of 4.35 per cent on estimated property valuation and was slightly more than the 1923 figure—$983,736,200 which, however, was described as representing a return of 4.49 per cent.

The figures presented by the bureau were compiled from Interstate Commerce Commission reports and covered nearly 99 per cent of the country rail mileage. The gross revenues for the roads in 1924 amounted to $5,986,492,109 and operating expenses before the calculation of taxes, rentals and other costs of running railroads were $4,558,307,800. The bureau calculated that gross revenues had fallen 5.9 per cent below the 1923 total, but that operating expenses had been cut by 7.8 per cent during the period. The record indicated, the bureau said, that "railroads were operated in 1924 at the greatest efficiency in their history," but that they had still failed "to earn the return of 5 3-4 per cent which has been set up by the statute as fair."

Among the larger items of expenditure made by railroads during the year, the bureau listed taxes, which amounted to $344,073,000. This was $6,739,000 greater than tax payments for 1923.

For the last month in 1924 the report showed sharp increases in earnings. The net income was $86,988,470 in December, 1924, while in December, 1923, it was $70,030,000.

HITS ALLIES' ATTITUDE ON ALIEN FUND

President Says Property Held is Concern of Only Germany and America

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Return of the $250,000,000 worth of German property seized during the war and still held by the American government is regarded by President coolidge as a question in which no other nation except Germany has any legal interest.

The statement of the President's views was made at the White House today in connection with some recent suggestions that the Paris war claims agreement entered into by the United States and the Allies might have a bearing on disposition of the property.

Mr. Coolidge sees practical difficulties confronting any proposal for immediate return of the property to its former owners, but has found Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in thorough accord with his views as to the legal aspects of the question. Senator Borah recently introduced legislation for return of the property within sixty days, but Congressional action before adjournment is considered improbable by all leaders.

Friday the 13th Jinx to Espee Stockholders

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. — Friday the thirteenth proved to be the traditional unlucky day for stockholders of the Southern Pacific company who for several months had been wistfully anticipating an increase in the annual 6 per cent dividend rate.

"Dear sir: I don't know whether your respected board of directors is aware that February 13 falls on a Friday. If not, I desire to remind it that raising the dividend on that day might prove disastrous to the road. On Friday the 13th, two years ago I lost my wife and several years before that, on a similar date, lightning struck and destroyed our home.

"I would like a larger dividend, naturally, but would urge postponing the meeting a day or two, if necessary, to declare it."

The directors did not raise the dividend.

SENATOR WOULD END RAIL LABOR BOARD

USEFULNESS ENDED, ASSERTS HOWELL IN URGING AMENDMENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. — The Railroad Labor Board was brought under attack in the Senate once more today after it had occupied an inconspicuous place in the debates of that body for several months.

Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, offered an amendment to the pending independent offices appropriation bill to strike out all items relating to the board, which, he continued, had "outlived whatever usefulness it ever had." Cases filed before the board have decreased by 75 per cent in the last year, he said, and complaints filed with it have consisted "almost entirely of trivial matters."

He attributed the decline he saw in the importance of the board to loss of confidence on the part of railroad unions, the increased number of "company unions" and the "substitution of more efficient and more economical means of arbitration."

Senator Howell still had the floor when the Senate recessed under a special order requiring that it meet at 8 o'clock tonight to discuss bills relating to the "District of Columbia."

FIND RANCHER WAS MURDERED

Doctor's Lay Rich Man's Death to Blow of Hammer

Deny Fall from Windmill Was Cause of Fatality

Kings County Grand Jury to Start Investigation

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Feb. 13.—Lee Camp, wealthy Kings county rancher, was murdered with a heavy blunt instrument, probably a sledge hammer, and did not meet his death by a fall from a tank house, December 14, 1924, Drs. C. P. Kjaerbie of Fresno and Ralph Motherall of Hanford maintained today following an extensive autopsy which was completed late last night on the recenlty exhumed body.

The blow which caused death, Dr. Kjaerbie pointed out to W. R. McKay, Kings county District Attorney, who with Sheriff William J. Hime, Undersheriff J. J. Walker and Constable W. N. Dalby witnessed the post mortem, that the bared skull evidenced the fact that a fall could not have caused death as a Coroner's jury presumed.

BASIS OF FINDINGS

Summing up their conclusions, the surgeons said their findings were substantiated as follows:

First—If Camp had fallen from the windmill, thirty feet in height, there would have been other bruises on the body besides those on the head. There are no body bruises of any description, nor abrasions nor lacerations.

Second — If Camp had fallen from the windmill, striking on his head, there would have been one big wound instead of twenty wounds found on the skull last night.

Third—If Camp had fallen from the windmill and struck on his head, portions of the hair would have been scraped away in the fall. The hair over the wounds is unharmed and not scraped from the scalp, indicating that death came as a direct blow to the base of the skull.

Fourth — If Camp had been killed by falling upon the gear wheel which was lying at the base of the mill, that portion of the head which was marked by six parallel bruises directly behind the right ear would have shown the brunt of the blow. Where the gear wheel bruises show, the skull is broken but the break is the result of a blow delivered three inches to the left of the gear marks.

JURY TO GET CASE

Fifth—If Camp had been killed by the fall upon the gear, notwithstanding the above conclusion, the gear wounds would have been greater than they are. The wounds are but superficial bruises and did not even penetrate the scalp.

Sixth—If Camp had fallen from the windmill striking on the back of his head, his neck would have been broken even from a height of ten feet. The vertebrae in the neck are intact and show no signs of injury.

Dist.-Atty. McKay this morning announced he will present all the facts in the case to the Kings county grand jury, which meets next week.

"I will let the grand jury decide what shall be done in this case," he said. "I will swear to no warrants myself."

Camp's estate, consisting of property and life insurance, is valued at $200,000. With the exception of $5 bequeathed to Mrs. Pearl King, his sister, all this went to Mrs. W. S. Brown, his foster-mother, Camp residing at the Brown home. W. S. Brown is a paralytic.

MURDERER NOT KNOWN

"I know that murder has been committed in this case," McKay declared last night, "but further than that I know nothing. No arrest is impending as I have no evidence on which to base a complaint. Nevertheless, our investigation will continue and we are hopeful, nothing more.

"Press dispatches have quoted me as saying that I know who murdered Camp. I did not. If I did the person would be in jail right now."

McKay arrived here early last night from Oakland, and was joined a few hours later by Sheriff Hime. A short time after the arrival of the peace officer Undersheriff Walker and Constable Dalby arrived at the Coroner's office, bringing with them the cog whel which was found beside Camp's head.

The cog wheel was the subject of close scrutiny by the officers last night and a gray hair, somewhat similar to those on Camp's head, was found stuck in the bits of mud that clung to the nether portion of the wheel. None of the doctors, however, was willing to state that the hair was one of Camp's, and it is understood that the hair will be removed and examined microscopically within a few days.

ANGELENO IN TRINIDAD ON UNIQUE TRIP

Man Sailing Around World on 30-Foot Boat Expects to Reach Here in Fall

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, Feb. 13.—Harry Pigeon, an American navigator now on the home stretch of his 'round-the-world trip alone in his thirty-four-foot sailboat, the Islander, has reached the Island of Trinidad, off Venezuela, South America, according to advice from the Trinidad consulate to D. M. Wesson, a friend of Pigeon now in Paris.

The little craft narrowly escaped destruction off the mouth of the Amazon River when an oil tanker, thinking the Islander was a derelict as Pigeon was asleep below, attempted to come alongside and crashed against the little vessel. A broken bowsprit, however, was the extent of the damage and, with the help of the tanker's crew, Pigeon was able to repair this and proceed to Trinidad.

The navigator, who left Los Angeles in November, 1921, was last heard from at the Island of Ascension in mid-Atlantic. He intends to leave shortly for Venezuela and thence through the Panama Canal to his starting place, arriving about September 1.

NEW FARM BILL PASSAGE URGED

Organizations Support Export Corporation Measure

Federation Spokesman Takes Rap at Herbert Hoover

Charges Secretary Seeks to Dominate Agriculture

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The report of the President's agricultural conference was considered from different angles by the Senate and House agricultural committees today in pressing forward with plans to complete hearings on the subject next week and begin consideration of proposals to recommend to their respective chambers.

Organizations opposing the conference's report will be given an opportunity to present their views before the Senate committee next week while the House committee plans to invite Department of Agricultur experts to discuss the report and present information on the department's work in fostering co-operatives and grading agricultural products.

While Chairman Carey of the conference, was explaining the report of his colleagues to the Senate committee today, representatives of agricultural organizations advocated speedy passage of the new McNary-Haugen Farmers' Export Corporation measure before the House committee.

The conference report was attacked at the House hearing as a political document and defended as the basis for a worth-while agricultural legislative program, while Secretary Hoover was charged by Charles E. Hearst of Iowa, chairman of the legislative committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation, with "seeking to dominate the agriculture of America." Mr. Hoover's department also was mentioned briefly at the Senate hearing. Mr. Carey answering a question about "feeling" between government agencies with a statement that he thought "there was a fine fight on between agriculture and commerce on some points."

Mr. Hearst, in his testimony, urged that the McNary-Haugen measure be enacted and protested against any delay in action on agricultural legislation.

DEFENSE GAINS IN SUGAR TRIAL

Trent Unshaken in Barrage of Redirect Examination

Prior Sale at Higher Figure Brought Out at Trial

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Richard H. Trent, one of several defendants in the $17,500,000 Hackfeld sugar accounting suit on trial here, refused to admit under redirect examination today that he believed, when he purchased stock in American Factors, Ltd., in 1918, that the stock was worth more than $150 a share, the price at which it was sold.

Plaintiff's counsel failed to wring such an admission from Trent in spite of a barrage of questions designed to establish the allegation that the stock actually was worth considerably more than $150 a share. The plaintiffs claim property in Hawaii worth $17,500,000 was fraudulently sold by Trent and associates, with the approval of A. Mitchell Palmer, war-time alien property custodian, for $7,500,000.

Trent conceded that he "might have paid as much as $160 for the stock," but pointed out that the intrinsic value of such properties at that time was uncertain because of war conditions.

It was brought out that some American factors stock was resold a few days after the original sale and brought $160. Trent denied that he knew, prior to the stock sale, that certain representatives of the so-called "sugar group" of Hawaii were authorized to pay as high as $160 for the stock, if necessary.

On re-cross-examination it was brought out that Trent, prior to May 27, 1918, recommended a price of $8,200,000 for the Hackfeld properties. On May 27 Palmer cabled Trent fixing the price at $7,500,000, exhibits indicated.

POWER PLANT SOLD

ROTORSHIP IS CLEARING KIEL CANAL

BY JAMES B. WHARTON

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, North American Newspaper Alliance.]

ON BOARD THE ROTORSHIP BUCKAU, IN KIEL CANAL, Feb. 13.—With both our huge rotors whirling at a speed of 105 revolutions per minute, this strangest of ships is clearing through the canal, seaward bound at better than nine miles an hour. Before Capt. Callsen twisted the tiny hand wheels on the bridge which started the fore and aft rotors whirling, our auxiliary engine was giving us only seven miles an hour. With the whirling of the rotors our speed increased to nine and a third miles an hour.

Since we left Kiel at 7 o'clock this morning, our passage through the famous old Kaiser Wilhelm canal, has been virtually a sensation. A crowd gathered from miles around, lined the grassy banks, starting at our great revolving towers and cheered with amazing enthusiasm as we passed. Crews of the vessels which crowd this waterway massed against their rails and stared suspiciously at the revolving cylinders, which some shipping experts say may ultimately put thousands of sailors out of work.

A brisk southwest wind is causing us to list to starboard like a yacht with wide spread canvas. If the weather holds good we are certain of a successful north sea passage. Once beyond Cuxhaven Capt. Calisen's orders are to run entirely with rotor power. If we make this North Sea passage successfully we will be rotoring across the Atlantic next May or June and into the New York harbor.

Woman Keeper Killed by Tiger in Manila Show

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA, Feb. 13.—Two serious accidents have marred the visit here of a traveling carnival.

A man-eating tiger today killed a Filipino woman, Loreta Fernandez, when she entered the animal's cage, as she had been in the habit of doing during the several months she had been traveling with the show. As soon as she stepped into the cage today, the tiger grabbed her by the throat, crushing out her life before a guard managed to shoot the animal.

The other accident occurred when a Filipino riding on the Ferris wheel jumped out of his seat, falling thirty feet to the ground, and sustaining injuries expected to prove fatal.

Tired Burglar, His Work Done, Sleeps on Job

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Feb. 13. After spending the night in a store he robbed, a burglar was awakened by activities of the owner as he opened up for business Wednesday morning. He arose, prepared his toilet and leisurely started to don his clothing.

The proprietor of the store heard him stirring about in the rear room and peeped through an opening to see what was going on. While he looked on in mute astonishment, the burglar dressed, donning one of the proprietor's shirts, which looked better than his own, and departed.

C. Minnick, owner of the grocery store at 407 Soledad street, told police of the brazen actions of his uninvited visitor and asked them to find him. In addition to the shirt, the man took a quantity of cigars, a flashlight and 100 pennies from the store.

FANATIC LEADERS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

FILIPINOS SAID TO HAVE COLLECTED MONEY BY CALAMITY TALE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MANILA, Feb. 13.—Two leaders of the Coloum, the fanatical sect in Surigao Province, were arrested today by the Philippine constabulary.

The men arrested were said by constabulary officers to have been collecting money from different people who, for compensation, were promised protection from an impending calamity. It was declared that the Coloum leaders had induced many persons to desert their homes and that they were threatening to cause another uprising.

More than 200 of the fanatics were killed in an uprising a year ago before the movement was put down. Constabulary officers expressed the belief that today's arrests would prevent further trouble.

WORLD FAILED TO END, ROWENITE KILLS SELF

EDISON TUNNEL CREWS PRAISED

Workers Are Likened to Attacking Soldiers

Constructive Genius of Engineers Thrills

Achievement Cited as Omen of Advancement

BY S. FRED HOGUE

"Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BIG CREEK (Cal.) Feb. 13.—Moving in platoons like soldiers in motion behind the lines, and falling into position for their last assault on the rock fortress, now almost demolished, that still blocks the great Florence Lake tunnel. Thus, to me, appeared the march of the Edison men.

There are 2700 of them and they are completing a siege that has endured for four years. High above towered the grim, granite-ribbed, snow-caparisoned summit of Kaiser Mountain. Far to the east, across a white desert, rise the dazzling slopes, bathed in a winter sun of the Vermilion Mountains, while the northern horizon is hemmed in by the sentinel peaks of the lofty minarets that form the highest mountain range in the United States.

These Edison men are what may be termed the shock troops of American industry. Under skilled leaders they have been conducting a campaign of even greater import to their age and generation than those of Alexander or Napoleon.

GENIUS THRILLS

Here in the vast silences, on the rim of the western world, I have been thrilled by the exemplification of the construction genius of the Anglo-Saxon. For these men are in the vanguard of progress. They are harnessing the forces of nature and turning them against the desert. The river which will flow through this tunnel will find its way to the valley, 7000 feet below. It will plunge over the series of precipices at whose feet turbines and generators will convert mechanical force into the electric power that will set whirling the wheels of industry on the cities of the plains.

Power will be generated which will make possible 1000 new manufacturing plants in the city of Los Angeles, almost 300 miles away. After the flood has turned the last turbine it will flow through great irrigation canals and fertilize the fallow plans of the great valley of the San Joaquin. The desert will be converted into orchard and meadow lands. New communities will rise and a place will be made for 500,000 additional population in this valley alone.

NECKLACE OF LAKES

The high mountain valleys are being converted into a necklace of lakes as rich in scenic beauty as the best that Switzerland can offer. About these lakes are already rising hundreds of mountain homes, and the High Sierras will soon have summer resorts excelling those of the Adirondacks.

I have seen the march of the helmeted Prussian Guards when German militarism was at its zenith, of the French Pantassins, the Seaforth Highlanders and English Grenadiers. That was in the days before the great World War had made the free peoples on the earth sick almost unto death of war, with its brutalities, its injustices and its cruelties. But greater to me is the march of the Edison men.

Military grandeur has been choked in its own blood, but a new grandeur has arisen. That which attaches to the triumph of peaceful industry. Millions of pounds of powder have been expended in this siege, but it has not caused the waters of the San Joaquin to run red with human blood. The Anglo-Saxon has turned from warring on his fellow-men to combating the forces of nature, to subduing them and bringing them to do his will.

SOLDIERS OF PROGRESS

Let those who despair of the advancement of human progress reflect on what these constructive campaigns mean. The troops of Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon and the last Kaiser were bred and trained for destruction. Their government was that of the pestilence, but the Edison men are soldiers of progress. They make possible a greater fulfillment of the promise that life holds forth to those whose feet the God of heavens sets upon his footstool.

When one views life in the great cities, with its squalidness, its vices and its miseries, he may despair of the ultimate destination of the race. One must flee, as I have done, to the mountains and the other great open spaces, must look into the faces of the sturdy, iron-muscled, clean-hearted young men who are there carrying on the war of civilization, and he will discover that the present generation is proving itself worthy its forbears.

Scattered all over the United States other troops of modern industry are engaged in campaigns similar to that now waged by the Edison men in the High Sierras of California, and it is through the victories they are winning that our progress will continue.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE]

BERTON, Feb. 13.—Chief Arthur Ellis was dismissed from the police department after a special session of the Council. His dismissal followed the Chief's refusal to resign as requested to do so yesterday afternoon.

Sergeant Dorsey Ellis announced his resignation to the council after the Chief's dismissal. Following Ellis said, "The Chief was dismissed by me and I am sticking by the Chief. He is fired and I resign."

Monday night the City Council unanimously to ask the resignation "for the good of the city and for the best interests of the city." It was claimed that the Chief had refused to cooperate with the police committee, the other Councilmen.

Following instructions of the Mayor Crooks sent the letter to Chief Ellis:

"Dear Sir: At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held on the evening of February, 1925, I was instructed by the board to request your resignation as city marshal of the city of Fullerton. Please consider this your notice to appear before the board with the same."

In a statement after he had received the letter, Chief Ellis said, "I have the right of the Board of Trustees to discharge me, but I am aware of any reason why I should resign."

Members of the deposed Chief declare that his dismissal is due to the fact that he took an active part in the recent county-wide campaign for which the city of Fullerton was asked to pay $2400 toward part of the expense. This action was conducted without the knowledge of the Fullerton Trustees or expenditure.

Charges by friends of Ellis that he was dismissed by the administration, according to the minutes of the meeting at which "it was decided that the resignation of the Chief be accepted" action was taken when Police Arthur Ellis refused to carry out the instructions of the police committee to dismiss Sergeant Dorsey Ellis by declaring that he would resign before such action."

Following a request by members of the police force for the dismissal of Chief Ellis, as the result of months of disharmony in the police department and the failure of the Police to co-operate with the administration in the enforcement of law, Ellis was appointed to his post by a previous administration and had held office for approximately four years.

Following Trustee W. J. Carter, chairman of the police committee, announced the appointment of Patrolman F. C. Yates as Chief until the permanent appointment of a man to fill the office.

The trees are the first of their kind in the San Fernando district and give to the boulevard a most beautiful aspect. It is understood that the Chamber of Commerce of Lankershim is also behind the movement to have the trees removed. ## CLOCK SAID TO BE CAUSE OF SLAYING

Accused Admits Stabbing and That Slow Timepiece Was to Blame

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 13.—Had Mauguerito Salazar's alarm clock not been one-half hour slow one morning last December, Jose Subia would probably be alive today. Admitting on the witness stand in his own defense that he had stabbed Jose Subia at Woodford last December, Marguerito Salazar charged with murder, gave to the jurymen his version of the knifing already recounted several times by the State's witnesses.

Marguerito and Jose were section hands employed at Woodford. On the day of the quarrel they were late for work and were left behind. When the section foreman and his men returned that afternoon at the end of the day's work, Marguerito appealed to him, explaining that his clock had been slow and he fancied he had time to spare. The section foreman sent Jose Subia to check the time on Salazar's alarm clock. He did so and found that the clock was one-half hour slow when compared with the foreman's watch. Then Jose and Marguerito left the foreman's car. Marguerito told the jurors that Jose called him a foul name for blaming the clock for being late.

L. G. Edwards, 1138 West Fifty-second street, Los Angeles, will be superintendent of the show, which is expected to be the forerunner of a more pretentious exhibition later in the year.

POLITICS WARMING UP IN PASADENA

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 13.—Pre-election campaigning for the oncoming City Directorate election started in earnest in Pasadena today, in the interests of members of the present Board of Directors who are seeking re-election. William Archdeacon, prominent Pasadena Republican leader, opened campaign headquarters at 372 East Colorado street. The organization sponsoring this action calls itself the Citizens' Protective Association.

The opposing force operating under the name, Municipal Voters' League, is working in the interests of several independent candidates. The Voters' League also favors a change in form of government from the present City Manager and director to Mayor and Council form.

The coming campaign promises to be spirited in every way. Already charges of incompetency, high salaries, increased taxes and the like have been hurled in all directions.

Van Nuys Begins Plan to Obtain Law on Parking

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Feb. 13.—Efforts on the part of the Van Nuys Realty Board to enlist the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce to bring about a movement to establish a two-hour parking limit on Sherman Way, principal street of the town, is expected to meet with much opposition, according to opinions expressed here by leading merchants on this thoroughfare.

James R. Goldsworthy, real estate man, is instrumental in bringing about the movement. At his suggestion a letter has been sent to the chamber suggesting that an ordinance be put in effect between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Most of the Van Nuys merchants state the city is not yet ready for large enough for a parking law.

Goldsworthy and other civic promoters here, however, assert that the ordiance is necessary, pointing out that many motorists come to Van Nuys with the intention of stopping, but are forced to ride through and out of town because of the lack of parking accommodation in the heart of the city.

HUNTINGTON PARK IS HOST TO CHAMBERS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 13.—Huntington Park entertained the members of the Harbor District chambers of commerce last night for the first time since the organization was formed four years ago, and representatives to the number of more than 300 were present when Frank F. Merriam, speaker of the State assembly, and president of the chambers called the session to order. During the evening, Mr. Merriam was called on to make a few remarks on the reapportionment of the State, and he said that he was in favor of a reapportionment which would give the people of the State the right kind of representation in the State assembly; that he did not believe it fair that three counties should have the say of the expenditure of the State's funds. As an illustration he said that one district in the northern part of the State had one representative for 15,000 people while in a southern district there was one representative for 150,000 people. He said that the northern part of the State is against reapportionment.

The condition of the man is very critical. Albert made no statement. He went to his home immediately after the attack and remained there until Marshal Thomas went for him. H. J. Banta of Los Angeles was the speaker of the evening. "The employee that does not accord the customer the same smiling courtesy and attention that he would give a friend visiting in his own home is not only cheating the customer and himself, but also his boss and all of his fellow-employees, by hindering their advancement," was the gist of his message.

The entire banquet of many courses, including the provisions, the china, the silver, the kitchen utensils, and the decorations, all came from under the mercantile roof, while the chef, his corps of kitchen police and brisk waiters, were all mercantile employees.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Feb. 13.—After having served in the local police station since August 5, 1922, the police "blotter" bearing the names of 11,300 prisoners has been filed. A new volume was started this morning. Of the 11,300 names to appear on the discarded book, those arrested for infractions of speed laws lead in number. Intoxication, motor-law infractions and disturbing the peace follow in line. The first name to appear on the new book today was that of Roy Moser. He was arrested this morning in front of a Windward-avenue café. When asked about the disturbance, Moser stated he was from Texas and that it was his duty to yell. He is detained in default of $25 bail.

The entire party caught 101 of the pretty fish within two hours. Alton was modest in telling about the huge catch. "When you come back and tell about how many fish you catch," he said, "nobody ever believes you, so I won't brag about what we got. However, within two hours we yanked out 101 of the prettiest rainbow trout I ever saw."

LOADED BUCKET CRUSHES DIGGER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ONTARIO, Feb. 13.—J. K. Stray, 60 years of age, is believed dying in the San Antonio Hospital tonight as the result of a 200-pound bucket of dirt and rock falling on him. He was engaged in digging a well on his property in the Etiwanda section at the time of the accident. His back was broken and his body badly mangled.

The accident is said to have occurred when a gasoline pump operated by the rancher's son, James Stray, to hoist the bucket out of the well, suddenly and for no accountable reason, reversed and allowed the heavy load to drop on the aged man.

It was with much difficulty that the injured man was gotten out of the hole.

At the hospital, where Dr. A. L. Weber was called to attend him, Mr. Stray was found to be suffering from a fractured left hip, a broken right knee, a mangled left hand and other minor injuries as well as a broken back. All hope of saving his life was despaired of. Mrs. Stray and a young daughter were away from home at the time of the accident and for a time could not be located, but reached the hospital late this afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Stone, a daughter, residing at 751 Market street, Riverside, was notified and hastened to her father's side. Another daughter, Mrs. Brinderson, is reported to live in San Bernardino and a fourth daughter resides in Los Angeles, it is said.

Imperial Drain System Work is Being Speeded

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CALEXICO, Feb. 13.—Work on the drainage system of Imperial Valley is well under way with gratifying results thus far. In June, 1922, virtually 100,000 acres of land in the valley had been written off the assessment rolls because of its water-logged condition. A bond issue of $2,500,000 was authorized that year and surveys made in 1922.

More than 6,000,000 cubic yards of dirt have been removed and 112 miles of drainage built. About 20 per cent of the water-soaked land had been redeemed and put back in crop last year. R. S. Carberry, chief engineer of the Imperial Irrigation District, estimates that 40 to 45 per cent of the land will be back in crop this year in addition to prevention work in other portions of the valley. The work is being conducted with reference to the entire area of 600,000 acres the general work of preventing additional trouble going hand in hand with the work of reclaiming the watered area.

The drainage problem is being met here with greater facility and greater assurance of success because of the two great channels, New River and Alamo, cut by the flood of 1906. These channels through the result of a disaster, have now come to be regarded as an asset of incalculable value as main drainage outlets. All the drain outlets are below sea level, a distinct advantage.

Boys' Forced Confession is Investigated

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 13. — Thirteen witnesses were examined in a grand jury investigation opening here today into accusations made by three Modesto youths, Elgin Peak, Herman Head and Harold Smith, that they had been forced by cruel treatment to confess a crime they did not commit and as a result were "railroaded" into San Quentin penitentiary. The hearing, conducted by a special committee of the grand jury, was in secret, and at the close of the day's testimony it was announced that no statement regarding the case would be made until after a meeting of the jury's full membership next week. Among the witnesses called into the jury-room was Fenn H. Palmer of Santa Monica, whose complaint that the youths had robbed him resulted in their arrest a year ago.

MANY WITNESSES IN WOOD DEATH CASE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Feb. 13.—More than twenty witnesses have been summoned before the Imperial county grand jury in connection with the investigation of the death of Barney Wood, aged Brawley rancher whose skeleton was found in a shallow grave on his place near here last November. Wood disappeared from his home in October, 1922. John Speer and Fred Uselton have been arrested on a complaint charging them with the slaying of Wood. The rancher was believed to have a large sum of money secreted at his home and this was asserted to have been the motive for the killing.

LIBERTY TO BE SHORT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Feb. 13. — James Archdeacon, former teller in a Pasadena bank, will be brought to this city from San Quentin to answer a charge of embezzling $6000 from the Security National Bank. He was sent to prison on another charge some months ago and his term will expire within the next few days. Detective Sergeant Cecile Burlingame left tonight for the north to arrest Archdeacon when he is released from San Quentin.

INDICTED ON THIRTEENTH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VISALIA, Feb. 13.—A. M. Harding, 27, rancher of Milo district, was out of luck today when the Tulare county grand jury returned a murder indictment against him for the killing of Fred C. McAlister, 43, his mountaineer neighbor on Friday, January 30. No indictment was returned against Fred Samis, who was held with Harding for implication in the case.

The grand jury resumed its probe of the case today, following a vacation over Lincoln's Birthday. Investigation was asked by Dist.-Atty. McCormick.

The killing of Harding was the climax of a feud of the Milo section lasting over a period of years. Both factions are reported to have "packed" guns for each other on more than one occasion and arrests were made from time to time.

Harding and Samis are reported to have gone to replace a bridge over an irrigation ditch on an old goat trail in the McAlister place, which had been used as a cattle trail for a half-century. This trail led to the hills and Harding is said to have desired its use, McAlister objecting.

They are said to have told officers that they watched for McAlister's coming to see what he would do when he saw this bridge. Also that when he arrived he started tearing it out; that they showed themselves and he began shooting. Harding firing back in self-defense. McAlister was shot three times, physicians testifying that the bullets appeared to enter from the back. McAlister's gun was discovered jammed and neither of the other men was hit.

Frank Flagg, a neighbor, was first on the scene after the shooting. He notified authorities and summoned counsel for Harding and Samis.

At the inquest in Porterville an open verdict was returned, stating that McAlister came to his death from hemorrhages resulting from gunshot wounds, according to testimony of the physicians.

Harding is a member of a pioneer family of Milo, a mountain district east of Porterville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harding. McAlister and his brother, Jim, had homesteaded in that region for about eight years.

Brawell & Griffiths of Lindsay, counsel for Harding and Samis, are believed to be prepared with a strong self-defense argument, while it is thought the prosecutors will seek to show McAlister was shot from ambush.

CURFEW HIT IN CALEXICO BY PETITION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Feb. 13.—El Centro Chamber of Commerce directors are opposed to a modification of the Treasury Department order that causes the closing of the international gate at Calexico every night at 9 o'clock. Petitions have been circulated in this city by representatives of the Calexico Chamber of Commerce addressed to Secretary Mellon and urging that the gate be allowed to remain open several hours longer. The basis of the Calexico petition is that business in Calexico and traffic between Calexico and Mexicali are being hampered by the present restriction.

Instead of favoring the Calexico organization's petition, the El Centro Chamber of Commerce directors adopted a resolution protesting against any change in the regulation of the gate and telegrams have been sent to Washington advising Congressmen and Senators from this State of the protest.

Another petition is being circulated in Imperial Valley by opponents of the Calexico Chamber of Commerce plan, asking that the gate be closed at 6 o'clock p.m., instead of 9 o'clock.

HERE'S ONE FOR PSYCHOLOGISTS

Van Nuys Rancher Puzzled by Spooky Incident

Mistaken in Identity Man as Schoolmate

Turns Around and Finds Old Chum There

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Feb. 13.—J. A. Wilson, a rancher living west of here, experienced a queer incident today, the like of which, he says, probably never happened before.

After telling his story Wilson stated he would be glad if psychologists, spiritualists, clairvoyants, end-of-the-world believers or anybody else who knows, will explain how it all happened.

Looking across the thoroughfare he saw S. E. Dodge, an old schoolmate he had chummed with in Des Moines fifteen years ago.

He ran across the street, accosted the man, and then was forced to apologize because the stranger proved to be L. A. Thompson, a tourist from Oakland.

Wilson then recrossed the street to the barber shop.

When he got there another stranger greeted him with outstretched hand.

"Hello, John," he said, don't you know me? I'm Sam Dodge you used to go to school with back in Iowa about fifteen years ago; heard you were here; been looking all around for you."

Wilson was so dumfounded that it was ten minutes before he could explain the incident to his friend.

Both he and Dodge assert that probably never before has such an odd coincidence happened.

LEGAL WARFARE ON BABY RAILWAY ASKED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Feb. 13.—Walter Wilmot, secretary of the Washington Boulevard Improvement Association, has forwarded a communication to City Trustees asking that immediate proceedings for the removal of the Venice Miniature Railway tracks be started. The association also asks that the boulevard, one of the main arteries into the city, be widened to fifty-one feet between Venice Boulevard and Brooks avenue, with a new ornamental lighting system.

In addition to the improved streets members of the association are urging that a nine-foot sidewalk be provided, which will compare favorably with other downtown sidewalks.

J. W. Neeley, George Hines and J. Newell were appointed as a committee to interview property owners to ascertain if they will accept the values placed upon their property by the appraisal committee. The property in question is needed to make the thoroughfare a uniform width of eighty feet from the easterly city limits to Venice Boulevard. Immediate action is expected by the City Council, it was pointed out this morning.

HASSLAUER FIGHT TAKEN TO ALHAMBRA

Hasslauer appeared in the local Justice Court today for a preliminary hearing, and after pleading not guilty to the charge demanded a jury trial. Judge Northrup set the date for the trial February 26 at 10 a.m. The defendant was represented by City Attorney Winburn of Lynwood. A large number of Lynwood citizens came to Alhambra for the hearing, both friends and foes of the accused ex-chief filling the courtroom to overflowing.

Chapter IIv
THE VISITOR

Chris, ascending the trail again, under the redwoods, and out into the hilltop space where the scattered low oaks and manzanita met the chapparal of the mountain-side used to wonder sometimes if there really was a big city, 3200 miles away, where women were buying $100 hats, and having their hair marcelled, where children's parties were costing hundreds of dollars, and tiny, shivering, allen dogs were fed with chicken breasts and cream.

The unreality of it all would wrap her sometimes for days in a musing condition somewhat comparable to the great cottony fogs that swept slowly in from the Pacific, a hundred times a year, and poured steadily irresistably down over the roofs and the tops of the trees, and buried from sight even the dead old silvery sentinel pine, at the turn of the road, and smoked and fumed softly between the very kitchen door and the chicken-shed.

Sometimes the little cabin was far above the fog, and Chris could look down upon its gently billowing white surface, level, yet always moving, and now and then there was a land fog that rose in the canons like blue smoke, and drifted under the trees, joining ghostly fingers across every little valley, rising, thickening, deepening, until it was at her very door —until it had engulfed her.

Summer was the time of fogs, and of dry, hard winds, when the grass was baked and slippery, and the great clump of thistles on the eastern side of the house scattered their little flying winged seeds everywhere. But there was never a day in winter that did not see her whole domain flooded with sunshine, basking in warmth and peace, and even the spring rains were warm and sweet. And then came the buttercups, and the great orange satin poppies with their feathery, delicate leafage, and the pungent wild currant, and the brown Mission Bells. And then the dark mat of young thistle green was delicately veined and lined with white, and tufted quail took his post on the clothes-pole, and watched and warned his scatterd harem.

And then, perhaps, Chris would have a dozen tiny chicks to watch and would fall into long reveries, even while some subliminal consciousness rejoiced automatically in their healthy yellowness. Was she alive? Was she dead? Was this silent, brooding life purgatory, and that terrible dead yet living thing in the cabin the visible form that her sin and her punishment had taken?

Pondering these things, she would go in to the smoke-seasoned, dingy kitchen, where walls and floor were stained with ineradicable spots of grease and soot, and begin her operations among the batered pans and pots again. Cold potatoes to peel, stale bread to toast—she must ask Tom to get her some bread, tonight. She would give a weary glance at the rusty little stove; was it merely smoldering and charring the damp wood?

"Cold? Yes, you're cold! It's this wet wood. I'll get some out of the shed—"

Silence, silence, silence. Stuart would whimper, and doze, and whimper again in his sleep.

In May, three months after the February morning when Dr. and Mrs. Hughes had driven up the hill, Chris came somewhat reluctantly to the conclusion that she must send for the doctor—or some doctor, again. So extraordinary were the health conditions of the little village of some 2000 souls, that there never had been a resident doctor there, but several San Francisco physicians had their summer homes in Hill Valley and Chris knew that any one of them would generously respond to her appeal.

But Hughes understood the case, and although he was an important man, Chris had made up her mind that she must trouble him again. So she had sent him a message, by Thomas Duncan, two days ago.

Not that Stuart seemed ill, exactly, there was indeed a pitiable absence of fluctuation in his condition, either way. In pain or ease, in restlessness or sleep, now with a suspected toothache, now with suspected dyspepsia or headache or neuritis, he could only fret a little more, or a little less.

But he had evidently acquired a cold, or a touch of bronchitis; Chris called Mrs. Duncan in to notice his slightly thickened breathing, and they decided together that perhaps the doctor could give him "something" to clear it up.

So that when Chris came out into her backyard, on a balmy morning forty-eight hours after the message had gone, and saw a motor-car puffing up the long stretch of road below her, she suspected that good-natured Dr. Hughes was responding to her call with his unusual kindness and promptness.

She had brought out a pan full of wet clothes, dishtowels, flannels and sheets, to hang on the line, but she immediately set this down upon the ground, and went indoors to put on a clean dress, and to comb back her hair, rumpled, as it always was rumpled, by the strenuous effort of jerking Stuart's mattress straight, and pulling his sheets smooth and taut under his helpless body.

"Doctor's coming!" she encouraged him. The visit of a doctor to whom he could not speak, and whose visit could afford him no possible relief, could not mean much to the poor fellow, Chris reflected. Yet it was something—a break in the endless solitude of his day. While she was buttoning her stiff, clean, shapeless and colorless percale, she thrust a stout oak log into the stove, that the soup might not stop simmering, emptied the grey suds from her washtub over the lavender and pink and maroon cloud of her sweet peas, reversed the tub, in the hot sunshine, and straightened the kitchen chairs.

And by this time the motorcar had turned out of the woods, and had come up below the cabin and stopped. It was not the Hughes car, Chrissie saw, with disappointment, and the man who got out of it was not the doctor. No, decidedly, it was some stranger trying to find the Muir Woods, who had turned off the main road too late. Shading her eyes with her hand, she watched the thin, somewhat uncertain figure, as it approached. The stick, so firmly grasped, the sunshine glinting on eye-glasses, made some memory stir painfully in her heart, made her feel for a moment a little frightened—a little faint—

The man crossed the 100 yards from the car, and came up to her. And it was Dan.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, Febrero 13.—El Senado ha aprobado una disposición que prohibe los cobros extraordinarios por las camas en los coches Pullman.

La dirección de presupuestos solicitó un crédito de $30,000,000 para llevar a cabo el programa de construcciones navales que hace poco se aprobó.

Collins Vive Aun

CAVE CITY (Kentucky) Febrero 14.—Hoy a última hora se presentaron tres testigos ante el tribunal militar investigador del Gobernador William Jason Fields, y declararon bajo juramento que creían que Floyd Collins está todavía vivo en el pavoroso nicho que lo mantiene preso desde hace catorce días, a gran profundidad bajo el suelo de Sand Cave.

Se trata de tres mineros prácticos que han estado trabajando noche y día con las cuadrillas que luchan bravamente por sacar a Collins vivo o muerto de la tumba que lo aprisionó vivo. El tribunal militar, a efecto de que esos hombres pudieran continuar trabajando, se dirigió a San Cave, y entre dos pueblos, les tomo declaración bajo una tienda.

El testigo más importante era Edward Brenner, minero de Cincinnati, Ohio, que ha estado consagrando su tiempo y sus esfuerzos al rescate de Collins. Su testimonio ha sido corroborado por William Henry Bailey y su hijo, William, Jr., de Louisville. Los miembros del tribunal manifestaron que le concedían cabal crédito y creían en dicho testimonio.

Esta mañana a las 10 fue enviado Brenner a la antigua entrada de Sand Cave, que ha estado cerrada desde que comenzó a perforarse el gran tiro de salvamento. Se le dijo que golpeara con un martillo sobre los muros de roca, para ver si podían oírlo los que estaban trabajando en el piso que a los cincuenta pies tiene el referido túnel.

El objeto de esta prueba era ver si los cavadores del tiro no estarían oyendo alguna caverna subterránea de la cueva, que no se había descubierto en los otros experimentos; pero el resultado que se obtuvo fue muy otro.

Brenner oyó que Collins daba una voz o quejido prolongado, que acabó por calificar de "boqueada". Insistió el declarante en que no es él persona que se deje llevar de la imaginación, y en que realmente oyó el quejido.

"Comprendí que era Collins—¡Collins que se halla aun con vida!", agregó.

NOTAS LOCALES

La Ciudad Será Dotada de Otro Parque

Ayer se aseguró el éxito completo de los esfuerzos del condado de Los Angeles por tener un gran parque público y terrenos de recreo en las montañas de San Bernardino, pues fue aprobado en el Senado de los Estados Unidos el proyecto de ley por el que se trasladan a la jurisdicción exclusiva de la Junta de "Supervisors" del condado de Los Angeles, 5000 acres del Coto de la Selva de Angeles.

El proyecto de ley ya había sido votado por la Cámara de Diputados, y para que entre en vigor sólo falta la firma del Presidente Coolidge. Confíase en que el Presidente lo firme no más tarde que el próximo lunes o martes.

El terreno de que se trata queda adyacente por el norte al campo de recreo de Big Pines, que tiene 540 acres de extensión, y que el condado ha estado arreglando desde hace comd tres años. Los dos terrenos unidos van a ser conocidos en adelante, según dijo el señor McClellan, de la Junta de "Supervisors", con el nombre de "Campo de Recreo de Big Pines en el Condado de Los Angeles". Comprenderá en total 5500 acres. Se halla ubicado a la entrada del Valle de Swartout.

Tan pronto como empiece la primavera, esto es, dentro de dos meses, comenzaremos a embellecer todo el parque, dijo el Presidente McClellan. Daremos entrada a las aguas que han de regar toda la extensión de terreno, construiremos chimeneas, limpiaremos algunos sitios para campamentos y lo pondremos listo para ser utilizado lo más pronto posible.

DEPORTES

Golf

DEL MONTE, Febrero 13.—Las grandes sorpresas que se esperaban para el viernes 13 en el campeonato femenino de golf de Pebble Beach, no se presentaron, pues las favoritas sobrevivieron a la primera tanda del juego de matches, sin esfuerzos extraordinarios por parte de las jugadoras. Lo que se esperaba fuera la contienda más interesante del día se transformó en una fácil victoria para la señorita Marion Hollins, que defendía su campeonato, sobre la señora W. C. Van Antwerp, antes tenedora del título del Estado. La anotación fue de 7 y 5, y debemos decir que la señorita Hollins jugó de una manera casi perfecta durante todo el match.

No menos convincente fue el triunfo de la señora H. G. Hutchings, campeona hace poco del Pacífico del Noroeste, sobre la señora C. C. Cary, de Seattle, a quien hizo arriar su pabellón por tanteo de 7 y 6.

Tanto la señorita Hollins como la señora Hutchings salieron en 39, haciendo lucidísimo juego de golf en la pista empapada por la lluvia. En la vuelta, la señora Hutchings iba 6 arriba, en tanto que la señorita Hollins llevaba una ventaja de cuatro agujeros en el mismo punto, obtenida durante los primeros siete agujeros del match.

HELIUM IN OKLAHOMA IN PLENTY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 13.—Helium gas, which Uncle Sam needs for the great airships of the future, exists in great quantities in the Oklahoma oil fields, but is virtually worthless to the oil producer because it is found in widely separated pools. It is the present practice of Mid-Continent field companies to "mud off" the helium and go on down in search of oil or a natural gas which can be turned into profit sooner.

The Josey Oil Company completed a 10,000,000 cubic foot per day gas well near Cushing, a short time ago. The gas was turned into the Cushing mains and in a few hours, most of the residents were without fuel. Investigation showed that the gas was helium and so permeated the entire Cushing supply that no part of it would burn.

Development of helium gas cars, now under construction for the Army air service, may eventually produce a market for Oklahoma helium. The test car now under construction will consist of three forty-foot cylinders into which the helium will be forced under great pressure so great that the car will hold, loaded, 200,000 cubic feet of the gas.

Helium is now transported in small cylinders, 1250 of which hold about as much as one of the new cars will contain. To transport helium from the Oklahoma and Texas fields to Lakehurst, N. J., now costs $23 per 1000 cubic feet. If discoveries of helium deposits continue as at present, the cost, using the new car, will be but a fraction of the present tariff.

WIFE MADE SPECTATOR OF KILLING

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LINCOLN (Neb.) Feb. 13.—E. L. Griffith, insurance agent who undertook to straighten out an eternal triangle with a revolver, is held in prison here charged with the murder of Jerry Mandrell, while his wife is in a hospital battling desperately for life. She probably will recover, the doctors say. Griffith maintains a grim silence, but his friends say the tragedy was because of the conduct of Mandrell and Mrs. Griffith.

Mrs. Griffith's story is that her husband came home a few evenings ago while she was chatting with a woman friend. He drew a gun and told her to come with him. She tremblingly demanded to know where he was going.

"I'm going to kill a man," he replied, "and you are going to see it done."

The woman left with her husband, while the friend ran to summon the Sheriff. The latter jumped in his car and raced to the Mandrell home, where he knew the stage was being set for the tragedy. When the officer's car neared the Mandrell home it was all over. Griffith was walking down the street while his wife was staggering into a neighboring house.

Mrs. Mandrell said that the Griffiths came to their home in a car, and that her husband had just risen from his chair to answer a knock when Griffith rushed into the room. He mumbled a few words that she did not understand and then began shooting. Mandrell fell dead at the first shot, but Griffith sent two bullets into his body after he had fallen. Then he shot at his wife, wounding her twice.

SAN DIEGO PLANS TO ENTERTAIN OBREGON

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 13.—Former President Alvaro Obregon of Mexico will visit San Diego in the near future, this city being his first stopping-place on a tour of the Pacific Coast, it was announced today at Eleventh Naval Headquarters. Plans for entertainment of the distinguished visitor include several luncheons and a banquet. From here he will go to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

CONTROL PLANNED ON YUMA HIGHWAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Feb. 13. — Capt. Art Leonard of the State traffic police, has arranged to establish a control on the highway between here and Yuma the 18th inst., when a large number of automobiles is expected to make the trip to the Arizona city to attend the Lee Highway celebration. The control is to be placed at the plank road section of the highway. The traffic will be allowed to proceed eastward for a limited period and then the westbound traffic will be permitted to pass. This plan is considered necessary as a heavy traffic jam on the plank road would result, in considerable delay. The sand is so fine that when a car accidentally leaves the planks much effort is required to replace it on the road.

PREACHER NOW ACTS

EDWARDS DAVIS IN FILMS AFTER BIG CAREER

By Grace Kingsley

I suppose that if an investigation of the movies were to be made it would be discovered that every known profession and trade in the world is represented. Ex-doctors, preachers, bankers, stock brokers, fish peddlers, machinists, stokers, shoe clerks, stenographer, delicatessen keepers, and all the rest of them, have found refuge as cinema actors.

Now one of the most interesting of these actors is playing in Pola Negri's Paramount picture, "The Charmer." He is Edwards Davis, erstwhile preacher, stock broker, author and veteran of the stage.

Less than three years ago Davis was wealthy. He had amassed a huge fortune on Wall street, where he was a broker with a wide clientele of actors both of stage and screen. But Davis went in heavily for Sinclair Oil. But the Teapot Dome scandal caused Sinclair Oil to drop with a thud. Davis sat helplessly by and watched his fortune leave him at the rate of $1000 a minute.

Before that Davis had studied for the ministry and had even had charge of a pastorate. And then, private theatricals in the church engaging his attention, he trained young people for the amateur stage. Next, naturally, he went on the stage. He also wrote various newspaper articles.

Sidney Olcott chanced to be one of Davis's friends. He visited the ruined financier and offered him work as an actor, which led up to Davis's present engagement.

Edward Burns in Luck

Edward Burns just plays in all the luck these days. Not only has he signed a five-year contract with C. B. DeMille, but before starting work under this agreement word has just been received that he is to play opposite Bebe Daniels in her next Paramount starring vehicle, "The Manicure Girl," to be made in New York.

George K. Arthur Ditto

And, speaking of luck, despite the handicap of dragging along a middle initial, George K. Arthur seems to be coming into his own. You remember this pepful young person promoted "The Salvation Hunters." Now he has been cast for an excellent part in a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

Jane Novak Ill

Jane Novak is lying very ill in the Savoy Hotel in London, according to cable messages received by her family yesterday. Miss Novak has been abroad, in Germany, appearing in pictures. She is suffering with the influenza.

Tom Mix Returns

Lucille Rickson Better

Lucille Rickson, the beautiful young actress, who has been confined to her home suffering from anemia, during the past several weeks, is slowly mending, according to the latest reports. It will, however, be several weeks before she will be able to go to work.

Mack Sennett Makes Star

Alice Day is being made a star in her own right by Mack Sennett, according to statement issued by that gentleman himself. Miss Day has been appearing for the past year in Mack Sennett Comedies.

"Love and Kisses" is the title of the first comedy in which Miss Day is featured. It was directed by Eddie Cline, with a cast composed of Raymond McKee, Barbara Tennant, Vernon Dent, Sunshine Hart and Jack Cooper.

Schulberg Buys "Shenandoah"

B. P. Schulberg, head of the B. P. Schulberg Productions, Inc., who is now in New York, has telegraphed Sam Jaffe, his production manager at Hollywood, that he has purchased the screen rights of "Shenadoah," the famous stage play by Bronson Howard and that he will include it in his extensive 1925-26 production schedule.

Along with the announcement of the purchase, Schulberg added that his organization will make an elaborate screen version in Hollywood of the play which has proved one of the most spectacular stage successes in the history of theatricals. "Shenandoah" is a drama full of pictorial effects with a swiftly moving plot. Its background of Civil War days will be transferred to the screen in elaborate fashion.

With the possible exception of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the Bronson Howard play has received the widest presentation of any American drama ever staged. It was first produced in New York in 1888 with Wilton Lackaye, Henry Miller and Effie Shannon playing the leading roles. Since then and during the last thirty-six years it has been a regular feature in every stock theater and with every repertoire company in the country. In New York alone, it had five separate revivals.

WHITEMAN JAZZ CONCERT IS HIT WITH THRONGS

BY FRANCIS KENDIG

The kings of cacophony jazzed in all their bedazzlement last evening at Philharmonic, when Paul Whiteman and his twenty-five syncopaters gave their first of three programs here. Ululating saxophones consorted unblushingly with guitars, jew's harps, hurdy gurdys and Stradivari's. Raucousness was rampant, only to give way at a moment's notice to the dulcet nuances of the kettle-drum or calliope.

Indeed, the "concert" was the loveliest caterwauling of melodies which has been turned loose upon unoffending auditory nerves at the Auditorium in many a long night. Every man among them played from one to eleven instruments, approximately, in from three to seven different ways, with various rags, cans and other appurtenances attached thereto.

Paul Whiteman has attempted to refine jazz, to make people who ordinarily turn up their noses to such ordinary music, rub elbows and even tip their hats to this very lively, naughty little brother of dignified music. So far as offering much refinement goes, he has failed utterly, but he has succeeded in making a very good entertainment. But five years, or maybe ten, and then the difference will show. What can even a very good band do when there has been almost no music of any importance written to fit its particular needs? American composers, please come forward—here is something to interest a Strauss, a MacDowell, a Percy Grainger, an Arthur Bliss.

Of course, before such an orchestra can be taken seriously, there must be many changes; now there is too much explosiveness in matters of interpretation; a great insufficiency of thematic material, although there is plenty of wit and cleverness, enough color and variety, and no end of skill among the players. Much has already been done in scoring for such an orchestra, and as the ever-present brasses recede into the corners, and sweeter-toned instruments come forth, still more will be accomplished.

The adaptations, crazy variations, melodic ranting, as yet is nothing, except that it points a way. George Gershwin's "Rhapsodie in Blue" is by far the most worthy offering, and much of that is froth. But with a little more of the pastel shades, real themes, the proper kind of free chording, polyphony and harmonic development, jazz can dignify itself into something very legitimate. There is too much tonal foolishness just now—glib, but so everlastingly funny.

INSPIRED RENDITIONS AT LOCAL TRIO EVENT

The Los Angeles Trio, May MacDonald Hope, pianist and founder, with Sylvain Noack, violinist, and Ilya Bronson, 'cellist, gave for their fourth offering of the season a program of rare symmetry and exuberant charm.

The program opened with Mozart; that elusive yet exacting composer, and closed with the seldom played Trio in G Minor, Op. 15, by Smetana. The work, which was presented in honor of the hundredth anniversary of the composer's death, is one which deserves a closer acquaintance, abounding, as it does, with color contrasts, ever-changng mood and insistent rhythms. The unusual climaxes attained by ascending themes repeated higher, then suddenly dropping to another phrase, gave this work an unusual aspect, though the slow movement did not express the rounded artistry one hoped for. The violoncello was especially lovely in this number.

The Kreutzer Sonata for Violin and Piano, by Beethoven, in a sense, formed the background of the evening's performance. Its brilliance and beautiful and haunting melodies, gave rare enjoyment, as attested by the enthusiasm of the audience. It was rendered with impeccable simplicity—a combination of flawlessness and expression.

The playing of the trio can be translated as artists so in accord that at times one was not conscious which instrument was expressing the melody. It was as though they were asking the audience to share in the joy of the performance—which feeling the audience was instant to recognize. An ensemble program so beautifully balanced and rendered leaves the impression of having gazed upon a marvelous piece of architecture in a gorgeous setting, each exquisite piece contributing to the majesty of the whole.

COMPOSER PLEASES

ARTHUR BLISS'S CONDUCTING AN EVENT

By Edwin Schallert

Honors for Arthur Bliss. He appeared as the conductor of his own orchestral compositions yesterday afternoon at Philharmonic Auditorium and achieved a conquest that was in essence personal, as well as musical. The applause of the unusually large audience, growing into the proportions of an ovation, betokened the interest that was aroused both by his presence and his work, not to speak of the novelty of having him fill the place of the customary soloist on the program of the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Bliss's musical works are not unfamiliar here, nor has the fact been overlooked that he is more or less permanently located in this particular section of the country. His birthplace, of course, is England; his music was slightly known even before his arrival here, and since then a large public has listened to his "Color" Symphony, performed last summer at the Hollywood Bowl.

The numbers by virtue of which he is represented, as well as presented, at the present symphony pair, are the "Melee Fantasque" and a Set of Tunes and Dances arranged for string orchestra from the music of the early composer, Purcell. The "Melee Fantasque" is new, not only among Philharmonic Orchestra offerings, but in America as well.

With Cesar Franck's beauteous Symphony in D Minor, and Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Caprice Espagnole," the Bliss compositions formed a program entirely orchestral and of very exceptional enticement. It was a program, also, unusually well played as regards the work of the instrumentalists both under Mr. Bliss's and Mr. Rothwell's direction.

The Melee Fantasque, (Fantastic Medley—and it is that!) the real novelty perhaps, not so inspired in its course as some of Mr. Bliss's compositions. It seemed the themes were not strikingly vivid, and as a consequence a first hearing, I feel, yielded no truly lasting impression.

One does not discount on this account the merit of the work from the standpoint of general idea, nor from that of instrumental color, of which it possesses quite effective evidences.

In thought, it rather grotesquely combines a sketching of what goes on in a theater, where even jazz perhaps, is not excluded, with certain references, somewhat funereal in character, to the death of a friend—a painter who died as a result of wounds received in the World War.

The work suggests in a rather peculiar though not altogether convincing way, the activities of this friend as a scenic artist in the theater—or at any rate, the lamentable character of his loss in that connection. Pictorially there seems considerable to commend the composition, though emotionally I feel, that it is deficient.

I think that the audience really liked better Bliss's treatment of the Purcell numbers. The themes have been deftly and lightly handled, and in a manner not too obviously like the original, yet truly sympathetic. The Sarabband and the Minuet seemed too abrupt, but the Overture, the Air and the Hornpipe appealed as clear-cut and charming pastels.

In any event, Bliss's appearance was in the nature of a rather striking triumph for him. This was, perhaps in part, because it is felt that so much of his endeavors are now concentrated here, and because in his manner and bearing he presented such individuality. Nor could the immediate effect be underrated of his orange-colored necktie (worn with afternoon frock coat,) no doubt a token of his residence in California!

Bliss's musical knowledge is evident, and though in these two compositions he did not disclose extreme modern tendencies the "Melee Fantasque" was not uninfluenced by the ultra modes.

Mr. Rothwell exhibited a truly distinguishing taste in his reading of the score of the Franck Symphony. This symphony, in fact, has never before acquired so highly favorable—indeed, at times quite entrancing—aspect in his interpretation. The second and final movements rose to truly superior heights in their inspirational beauty. The first movement, which is inclined to be a little too lengthy, was also very compellingly given.

The Caprice Espagnole evidenced in contrast to the Cesar Franck composition a truly picturesque life and gayety. The themes were very expressively and clearly enunciated, and the entire work had a strong descriptive flavor—verging at moments even on the piquant—in the rendition.

TRONITZ PUPILS HEARD

Advanced piano pupils of Philip Tronitz, Norwegian concert pianist, were heard Thursday evening at Chickering Hall. The students performed with excellence and musicianship, displaying fine training.

Ingrid Jacobsen played with Mr. Tronitz the Mozart-Grieg Sonata in C Major for two pianos, displaying a splendid musical intuition. Marie Julius did excellently in the first movement of Beethoven's Sonata Pathetique and in the several numbers of Schutt's "Carnival Mignon." Pretentious numbers were played by Romana Baker, who displayed nice musical taste; her numbers were the first movement of the Grieg Sonata and Mendelssohn G Minor Concerto.

Rosalyne Asner was the guest artist; she plays exceptionally, and was heard in a Minuet by Bach-MacDowell, "Valse Caprice," by Cyril Scott, and Rhapsodie in F Sharp Minor, by Dohnanyi. "Valse Lente," by Schutt, was gracefully done by Mary Louise Fritz; Margaret Orrell played the lovely Schumann "Dedication," and Dora Schiro played beautifully Grieg's "To Spring." All the students acquitted themselves in such a manner as to reflect much credit to their teacher.

Alan Crosland to Free-Lance

Alan Crosland will become a free-lance director with the expiration of his contract with Famous Players-Lasky, he has announced. He has decided not to sign a renewal of the contract.

In the ten years during which he has been a director, Crosland has always been under contract to some company, with the exception of two years he spent in the army during the war. He has been a feature director for Selznick and Lasky. He directed "Three Weeks," "Enemies of Women," "Sinners in Heaven," "Dangerous Money," and others.

Florence Lake Tunnel Cuts Through High Sierras

Crews From Opposite Ends Meet in Bore Under High Sierras—The completion of the Florence Lake Tunnel by the Southern California Edison Company is in sight. At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning crews from Camps 60 and ating from opposite ends of the bore, broke through the granite separating them, and met miles underground, beneath the summit of the High Sierras, which the tunnel cuts. Photo at left shows foremen of Camps 6 A. Gilzean and J. Lamey, respectively, shaking hands immediately after breaking through the section which divided their crews. Middle photo is that of George Clinton Ward, vice-president of the California Edison who has had charge of the gigantic project. The two crews fraternizing underground shortly after the meeting of the opposing bores was effected, are shown in the photo on the right.

Project One of Greatest in History—Construction work on the Florence Lake tunnel was begun in the fall of 1920. As high as 10,000 men have been employed at one time on the tunnel, which is 15 feet in diameter and 13½ miles long, and in the various camps. The cost of the bore is placed at $17,000,000. The project was undertaken for the purpose of diverting the headwaters of the San Joaquin River for the development of 1,000,000 horsepower. The diversion will eliminate devastating floods which for generations have poured through the San Joaquin Valley. Photo at left shows heading at Camp 60 just after thepilot hole was drilled through the heading to Camp 61. At the right a crew is shown "barring down" after the shot that broke the section through had been fired.

Clearing Bore for Last Shot—Radio operators at Camp 60 are shown receiving clearance by radio from Camp 61 for firing the round which united the opposing bores. The message was transmitted by telephone to the heading at Camp 60.

Going In to Finish Job—The electric motor pictured above is in readiness to go into the heading at Camp 60 with the crew which fired the final shot. Rail communication straight through the bore is being established.

Waiting to Take in Officials—Within a few moments after the firing of the last round, officials of the Southern California Edison Company journeyed underground to inspect the work. The electric motor is awaiting its official load.

Carried Mail By Dog Team to Workers—[illegible] (above,) driver of the famous Alaskan [illegible] which for the past five years has carried [illegible] through the snowbound passes of the Sierras [illegible] toilers on the bore. Months at a time, the only [illegible] of communication was through Jerry and his

One Second to Go—The photo above was taken one second before closing the switch that shot the final round in heading at Camp 60. Officials and workers, equally interested in the result of the blast, gathered at firing station.

Celebrating the Event—On the 11th inst., the day following the meeting of the bores, the jubilant officials and workers sat down together at a turkey dinner in Camp 60, shut away from the rest of the world by miles of practically impassable mountain country.

...(Ala.) Feb. 13.—Martha Norelius of Brooklyn ... the final swimming championship for women at Alcazar ... York clipped one and two-fifths seconds off her own figures in a seventy-five-yard event.

In swimming the 110 yards free-style race today, Ethel Lackey, Olympic champion, at 100 meters and national champion at 100 yards, broke all records for 100 meters. She was timed in 1m. 12s. for the 110 yards distance, which is a little more than 100 meters. The Olympic record for 100 meters is 1m. 12 1-5s. In this event Virginia Whiteneck was second and Frances Clark, third.

Arne Borg, Europe's greatest swimmer, broke another world's record here today in swimming 1000 yards in 12m. 12 3-5 s. His former record was 12m. 47 4-5s. made at Gothenburg, Sweden, in 1922. Borg was timed by five A.A.U. officials.

SLATTERY DEFEATS DELANEY

Youthful Buffalo Scrapper Shades Rugged Rival Over Six-Round Route

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Jimmy Slattery, 20-year-old Buffalo middleweight, shaded Jack Delaney, rugged Bridgeport battler, in a furious six-round contest at Madison Square Garden tonight. It was a wonderful exhibition of speed, skill and stamina on the part of the two middleweights.

Slattery's speed, his ability to dance in and out of Delaney's long arms and his accuracy with a deadly right, won him the close decision. Delaney came back strong in the last round, but Slattery's margin of points was too great to overcome. The decision was a popular one.

Slattery weighed 162; Delaney 163 1-4.

In the first round they started cautiously, both dancing about the ring, sparring for an opening. Delaney's right jarred Slattery's head, the Buffalo boy smashing rights and lefts to the head. Delaney was sent to the ropes when a crashing right caught him coming in. Another staggered him. A right to the heart slowed Delaney.

The fourth round opened with a furious exchange of blows in the center of the ring. Delaney rushed Slattery to a neutral corner and almost knocked him over when a straight right caught Slattery off balance. They danced about the ring Slattery forcing the fight.

Slattery rocked Delaney with a right to the jaw in the fifth. The referee was unable to break a clinch until both had landed heavily to the head many times. Slattery had a little the better of a furious exchange at long range. Delaney battered Slattery with four rights to the jaw just as the bell rang.

In the sixth round Delaney rushed, swinging wildly with both arms, but Slattery held his ground and swapped punch for punch. They wrestled. Delaney came through with two healthful blows to Slattery's head, which staggered the Buffalo youth. Two similar blows sent Slattery into the ropes, where Delaney pounded him furiously. They were in a furious exchange of blows at the bell.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

THINGS are rapidly approaching the point where we'll have to match up Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola and let them try it again. What Nurmi did to his Americanized compatriot on their first race was a shame, but it must be said for Willie that he hadn't been accustomed to that kind of running and wasn't prepared for it. The way he has been knocking Mr. Nurmi's nice new world records around recently makes it evident that he alone can make the little Finn really hurry.

Ritola's feat of running two miles in 9 minutes 3 4-5 seconds, or nearly 5 seconds faster than Nurmi's previous record, is certainly one of the really remarkable performances in track history. In all probability this is pretty close to Ritola's limit, although he might do a little better if running against Nurmi but the chances are that if the two were matched over this distance the unbelievable feat of running two miles in less than 9 minutes would be accomplished.

If Bill Tilden goes through with his threatened invasion of the vaudeville stage following his dive into the movies we're liable to see William's tennis crown removed in one way or another. If they don't get him for professionalism somebody's likely to knock the diadem from his noble brow on the tennis court. Bill has to get in some practice to do his stuff and he can't get it while in vaudeville.

One of Tilden's greatest assets is his simply wonderful physical condition. The man has played so much tennis and played it so regularly that he can play indefinitely without weakening at all. Staying up all night, glaring into the footlights and otherwise putting a tax on his physical condition will certainly tell the tale if Tilden isn't careful.

We're glad to see that Gwyn Wilson has lined up the Olympic Club of San Francisco for a dual meet this April. That means that we'll see the Trojans really extended for once. It is pretty generally noised abroad that the Olympians have made desperate efforts to line up the greatest track and field team in history this year in an effort to grab off the 1925 national championship when the meet is held at San Francisco.

In addition to a flock of other talent they already have Johnny Myrra of Finland, who tosses the javelin 200 feet without blinking an eye. They have Racehorse Cochran, who rambled the quarter in 48 flat, and a flock of other stars who

BERCOT GETS DECISION

Seattle Welter Gives Away Six Pounds and Still Out-Smarts Morrie Schlaifer

Definitely marking himself as one of the leading welterweight fighters in the ring today, Dode Bercot of Seattle, got a decision over Morrie Schlaifer of Omaha, Neb., in ten rounds at the Hollywood American Legion stadium last night. Bercot's victory was one of the biggest surprises that has been pulled in the Hollywood ring this year. In the first place, he gave away six pounds to Schlaifer, weighing 144 pounds ringside, to Schlaifer's 150. Likewise, in point of experience, the Seattle battler was the underdog, Schlaifer having fought Mickey Walker and all the rest of the good boys.

Bercot won because he was fast and clever enough to stay out of the way of Schlaifer's whistling swings aimed at all parts of his anatomy. In the middle rounds, Schlaifer began to land his punches and he won four rounds in a row. But when Dode wanted to stay away and box, he didn't have any trouble. Schlaifer was puzzled by the Washington man's style and he lost plenty of points by not being able to stay away from Bercot's long left to the head.

The first round was even, with lots of wild swinging on both sides, but little scoring. Then Bercot won the second and third stanzas

GOLFERS IN SEMIFINALS

Club Wielders Battle for Possession of Cravens Trophy Today in Scotch Foursomes at Midwick

Arnold Statz and Johnny MacDonald vs. George Nickel and R. Monteagle and S. W. Foresman and H. M. Snider vs. Harlow Hurley and W. W. Campbell—that's the way the semifinals of the Midwick invitation Scotch foursome tournament start this morning. The four teams each won two matches yesterday and the team that wins twice today, will be presented with the beautiful John S. Cravens trophy.

In the opening match yesterday morning, Gordon Williams and George Barmore met Frank Chafee and Bob Finkbine, with the result that the latter team won, 3 and 1. The Annandale pair's victory was short-lived, however, for they met R. Monteagle and George Nickel in the afternoon round and were beaten 1 up. Nickel and Monteagle defeated Forve and Culver in the first round.

The real surprise of the day, however, was the brilliant golf displayed by Foresman and Snider of Midwick. Johnny McHugh and Harold Mack, their opponents in the first round, were topheavy favorites to win, but were beaten by the Midwick pair, 3 and 2. Not content with such a victory, Foresman and his partner came out in the afternoon and eliminated Scotty Armstrong and G. P. Toms, 1 up. Playing at the same rate this afternoon, Foresman and Snider should go into the finals.

Arnold Statz and Johnny MacDonald went merrily along their way again. After winning low net and low gross honors yesterday, a reversal of form was rather expected today, but the San Gabriel pair defeated Dr. Paul Hunter and his counsin, R. Hunter, 2 and 1 in the first match and then trimmed A. D. S. Johnston and C. P. Erdman of Midwick, 2 to 1, to go into the semifinals.

Harlow Hurley and W. W. Campbell, the fourth team had to play an extra hole to make the semifinal bracket. They defeated Heath and Wright, 7 and 6, in the morning and then found themselves all square with W. Lloyd Morrow and Frank Tatum at the eighteenth hole in the afternoon match. On the extra hole, Campbell sank a long putt to win.

Any one of the four teams in the semifinals may win the trophy. All are playing splendid golf and are thoroughly used to the course. Arnold Statz and his partner stand out because of their sensational

ALHAMBRA FIVE TRIUMPHS

The sensational winning streak of the Hollywood Athletic Club basketball team, which totaled more than twenty games, came to an end last night when the Alhambra Athletic Club tossers scored a convincing 28-to-17 victory on the latter's court. The result of the game throws the two teams into a tie for first honors in the A.A.U. tournament.

Lamar Wyatt and "Foxy" Fox were the big stars for the winners, the former scoring 14 points, while Fox rang the bell for 10 digits. The defense of the victors nullified the scoring attempts of Kearney and Yardley, Hollywood stars.

Score at half time was 20 to 4 in favor of the winners, Hollywood getting but one lone field goal in the first session. The losers picked up in the second stanza, but the damage had been done. A capacity crowd witnessed the game.

| Alhambra (28) | | Hollywood (17) |
|---|---|---|
| Wyatt (14) | F. | Kearney (7) |
| Christenson (4) | F. | Reed (4) |
| Fox (10) | C. | Yardley (1) |
| Main | G. | Warner (5) |
| Du Puy | G. | McFadden |

Substitutes — Alhambra, Traeger; Hollywood, White.
Referee—Wattis.

SINCE this is the 14th of February, when Valentine greetings to ladies are in order, it is quite proper for the sporting pages to be decorated with the faces and forms of the most attractive and popular of the girl champions.

Golf, tennis and swimming each year attract thousands of the girls of America, and each year the participants in these sports themselves become more attractive because of the active, healthy, outdoor lives they lead.

Aileen and Betty are the personification of grace in the air, and in the water, while Mary Browne and Helen Wills are past masters in the art of stroking a tennis ball with accuracy and rhythm. Glenna's golf swing is a thing of beauty —the poetry of motion—yet she has strength, too, and has driven a golf ball over 300 yards.

Each of these champions added to her prestige in the year 1924, and each should win more laurels this year. Mary Browne was the talk of the country because of her remarkable showing in the national tennis and golf championships. Glenna won her third consecutive title in the north and south championships, and again won the Canadian title. Helen Wills won the National and Olympic singles crowns, and numerous doubles and mixed doubles titles. Youth and beauty never scored on the courts like this before.

Betty Becker—now Mrs. Clarence Pinkston—won the Olympic diving crown, while the fair Aileen Riggin did well in the Olympics, and won another national title at home. And she's only 18 now.

Abe Espinosa Tops Field in Texas Tourney

George Duncan, England, 71-76—147.

MONACHE GOLF CLUB IN THREE TOURNEYS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 13.—Directors of the Monache Golf Club have planned a series of tournaments among members of the local organization, and between its teams and those of neighboring golf clubs. K. F. Premo has been named campaign manager.

A yannigan tournament among members of the Monache Club is the first event. Participation in the tournament arranged by the Golfers' Magazine was authorized. Dates of home-and-home tournaments to be played on the local course with neighboring clubs will be announced soon. The second half of the bankers' contest between teams from the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the First National Bank will be played this afternoon at the Tulare County Golf and Country Club links.

New York Board Picks Men for Opening Battles of Elimination Event

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

Other matches arranged and the dates follow:

K. O. Clyde Jeakle of Columbus, O. vs. Rocky Kansas of Buffalo, at the Pioneer Club, the 24th inst.; Charley O'Connell, Cleveland, vs. Joe Dundee of Baltimore, at the Manhattan Club, the 25th inst.; Benny Valgar, New York, vs. Alex Hart of Philadelphia, and Archie Welker of Brooklyn vs. Solly Seaman of New York at the Ring A. ### GOTTLIEB NABS FEATURE EVENT

Paavo's Setback Comes as Stunning Surprise

Nurmi Loses After Passing Syracuse Trackman

Sixty-five-Yard Handicap is Given to Victor

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Feb. 13.—Paavo Nurmi was beaten for the second time in his American invasion tonight when he trailed Al Gottlieb, Syracuse University star, to the tape by ten yards in a handicap mile race in which Gottlieb started with a sixty-five-yard allowance.

Nurmi's setback came as a stunning surprise, but the most startling part of it was that he was clearly outrun in the last lap by Gottlieb after catching and passing his rival at the start of the lap. Nurmi, apparently believing he had shaken off all pursuit, seemed to slow up about 100 yards from the finish, but the Orange star put on a spurt that carried him to the front again. He was drawing away from his famous rival as he broke the tape.

Despite his defeat, Nurmi was credited with lowering the track record for the Syracuse University gymnasium. His time of 4m. 27 2-5s. clipped three-fifths of a second off the former mark set by Joie Ray of Chicago last year.

Gottlieb's performance was even more creditable than Gunner Nilson's defeat of Nurmi by a yard in a handicap event in Brooklyn last month for the Orange star had only a 65-yard handicap and won by 10 yards, while Nilson, Finnish-American distance man, barely beat Paavo by a yard after starting with an allowance of 100 yards.

CHURCH FIVES WIN GAMES

In three games last night in the Church League, the Grace Congregational five trimmed the Third Presbyterian, 29-to-11, the Christian Reform thumped the Atherton Baptists, 10-to-7, and the South Main streeters won, 55-to-11 over the Towne Avenue team. The South Main street quintet has cinched the title.

ARTISANS TAKE BUT TWO FIRSTS

Manual Arts Wins Relay in Thrilling Race

Nothing Startling Uncovered in Pioneer Meet

Mullard Whips Horton in 880 at L. A. High

Mr. and Mrs. Thrill Seeker got a real one yesterday.

It was in the eight-man mile relay, the last event of the Occidental-Manual Arts track meet. Bud Nash, last man of the Oxy team, was half way home, with a forty-yard lead. Suddenly the baton shot from his hand. The sight lent heart to Junior Hanford, Artisan star. He burst into a wild flare of speed, catching Bud at the straightaway. The two raced neck and neck to the tape, Hanford barely nosing out his opponent in one of the most thrilling finishes ever witnessed.

Despite their decrepit condition, the Tigers took the meat from their Artisan foes, the final score being 70⅓ to 32⅓. Only two first places were allowed the Purple and Gray, Oxy performers coming out on top in the remaining events. Tanner, Oxy hurdler, was high point man of the meet, with 12 digits to his credit, Bud Nash, Hubert Miller and others bringing in eight for their alma mater. Summary:

Relay—Manual Arts. No time.

PIONEERS MIX

Ed Rich's L. A. High track team galloped around a slow, soggy course in its first real meet of the year, the interclass, yesterday, with the result that the Roman team for the coming year is virtually picked. Fast times and good heights or distances were notably missing and nothing spectacular was shown by any of the boys.

Cameron Mullard pulled a big surprise in the half-mile, when he defeated Bill Horton, last year's 880 king, for the second time this year. Mullard has developed a surprising sprint and beats Horton where the latter is at his best. Jack Lyons came back into his own when he won the mile, beating out Emmett Hayworth and Bishop. Capt. Pott Reed's forty-three-foot shot put and Alex Gill's tie with Theophilus Smith at five feet seven in the high jump, were the only good marks made in the meet. The summary:

440-yard run—Won by Mullard, Horton second, Cuthbert third. Time: 58s.

100-yard dash heats—1, Corle, 11 2-5s; 2, Hart, 11 1-5s; 3, Parker, 11 1-5s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Gill, Ralston second, McConaghy third. Time: 18 4-10s.

440-yard run—Won by Dales, Lane second, Owen third. Time: 54s.

220-yard dash heats—1, won by Hart, Maiden second, Corle third; 2, won by Grigsby, Grigsby-LaFever second. Time: 25s.

Shot put—Won by Reed, Reichert and Dochleda tie for second. Distance: 37ft.

120-yard low hurdles—Won by Smith, Lavine second, Moses third. Time: 11 3-5s.

Mile run—Won by Lewis, Hayworth second, Bisbee third. Time: 4m. 52s.

Mickey Walker Performs for Four Hundred

Mickey Walker entertained about 400 fight bugs at four-bits per head at Jack Dempsey's new gym yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the welterweight champ's first workout in Los Angeles in preparation for his match with Bert Colima at Doyle's on the 24th inst.

Walker did no boxing, but punched the bag, flailed the sand container and shadow boxed for about half an hour. He work up a good perspiration and then retired. Proprietor Dempsey announcing that Mickey would spar today.

To satisfy the crowd's desire for action in the ring, Dempsey staged an impromtu match between Billy Wells, welterweight champ of Great Britain, and Herman Auerbach of Salt Lake City.

De Witt Van Court, the hoary-headed pugilistic expert, was hoisted into the ring to act as referee, and did a noble job of it. Gene Delmont and Ray Miller also put on a couple of fast rounds.

INJURY SUFFERED BY GIRL POLO PLAYER

The first serious accident which has happened to a member of the Hollywood Girls' Polo team occurred yesterday afternoon when Anita Haskell, captain of the Movie City outfit, was thrown from her horse while practicing for tomorrow's game, and sustained a sprained ankle.

The Hollywood girls are scheduled to clash with the Beverly Hills Diannas tomorrow afternoon on the field of the Crescent Polo Club at Third street and Harper avenue, in what is believed to be the first polo match ever played between two teams composed entirely of members of the fair sex.

CALTECH FROSH TO MEET OXY TOSSERS

The California Tech frosh basketball team takes on the Occidental babes at Pasadena "Y" this evening. Dodge, Evans, Joujon-Roche, Lambard and Kingman will be in the Engineer line-up. The Pasadenans have been going well of late and hope to trim the Tigers.

London has 3000 cases of sleeping sickness.

PAYNE, GRIMES HOLD OUT

BY ROBERT E. RAY

When the Angels go into spring training at Washington Park a week from Monday they will probably do so minus the services of George Payne, right-hand flinger of note, and Ray "Bummer" Grimes, the hard-hitting first-sacker secured from the Cubs last summer just before the Seraphs started their spurt that landed them in second place.

Both Payne and Grimes are holdouts, which is baseball parlance for stating that they want more money than their contracts call for.

Oscar Reichow, business manager of the Seraphs, yesterday stated that both had been given good increases over their last year's salaries and that they would not be offered any more cash than they were in the contracts which failed to attract the signatures of the pair.

That the Seraph management believes there is a strong possibility of Grimes's not reporting seems to be shown in its signing of Lee Dempsey and Ray Peckham, both first sackers. Peckham, it is said, was given a bonus for affixing his "John Henry" to an Angel contract.

However, all is not gloom at the Angel offices, for Ed Spencer, Babe Twombly and Buck Ramsey came into the fold yesterday, the first two stepping into Reichow's sanctum and signing up, while Ramsey's contract came through the mail.

* * *

Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburg Pirates, who will again do their spring training at Paso Robles, is a visitor in Los Angeles. Dreyfuss got tired of battling blizzards in the East and came to California in advance of his ball club.

Barney believes that the Pirates will this year oust the Giants out of first place, and there are many others who think the same thing. The Buccaneer boss is also of the opinion that the Pirates got the better of the trade with the cubs.

"Marsaville and Grimes were dissatisfied with the Pirates and both clubs should be benefited by the transaction. Cooper needed a change, also. In Grantham, we landed one of the most promising young players in the league, while Vic Aldridge should twirl winning ball for us. Niehaus, the third man obtained by McKechnie, is of unknown quality, but they say he can hit."

* * *

Josh Clark, manager of the Lincoln club, yesterday signed Ray Sorey to pastime with his outfit. Sorey is either an outfielder or first baseman, but will probably be used in the former capacity by Clark. He hit .450 with the Glendora outfit in the Orange Belt Loop this winter.

* * *

Lincoln, according to Secretary Harry Nelson of the "Greater" Association, has abandoned its plan of training at Mesa, Ariz., this spring.

The Lincoln Club came to terms with Mesa townsmen, but when Phoenix would not guarantee Wichita a good sum to train at the Arizona capital, the Lincoln bosses gave up the idea of training at Mesa. Lincoln and Wichita planned to get in a number of exhibition games in Arizona. Now both clubs will do their training in the Middle West, probably at Blackwell and Ponco City.

* * *

Ernie McCabe, who has been catching for the Pasadena Eagles, was offered a Seattle contract by Manager Red Killefer yesterday. It is expected that he will accept.

* * *

HARTZ STARS IN PRACTICE

"Boy Wonder" Burns Up Boards in Workout for Motor Classic at Culver City Bowl

Harry Hartz burned the boards at the Culver City speedway yesterday afternoon at the terrific speed of 134.7 miles an hour and the "boy wonder" trundled his Miller Special home in the evening well satisfied with it, though Harry intends to return to the track early next week and take a whirl at Bennett Hill's world record of 135.95 miles an hour.

Hartz was the speed star of a busy practice session, but Earl Cooper was the hardest working driver at the track. Cooper, who is resolved to make up for his tough luck in the Culver City race two months ago, drove fifty or sixty laps at an average over the 125-mile mark and after a little more work on his machine he expects it to be in winning form for the 250-mile classic that will be staged on the bowl a week from tomorrow.

Cooper has installed a number of new parts to his tiny speed chariot and his strenuous session yesterday was to shake down the engine, which is still.

Leon Duray, with his Miller Special, developed air-pressure trouble, although he turned the bowl at better than two miles a minute and he and Harry Hartz were perspiring over the car in an effort to remedy the defect. Duray's mount is the same that Fred Comer drove to fourth place in December, but it is now equipped with a supercharger, which will make it even faster than before.

Fred Wagner announced yesterday that, contrary to previous reports, the eliminations would be held over a one-lap route. They will be staged between noon and 4 o'clock on Thursday. Each of the twenty-one pilots entered will be given two laps to get his machine wound up and will be clocked on the third circuit of the bowl. The slowest of the twenty-one machines will be dropped from the list as only a score of cars will be permitted to start in the 250-mile classic.

Pietro Bordino, Italian speed demon, who will again drive his Fiat against the greatest of American pilots, has just received a shiny, new Fiat engine from Torino, Italy, where the Fiat factory is located. Pietro is now busy installing the new power plant in his car. Bordino did 132.3 miles an hour with the old engine at the speedway Tuesday, but expects to be even faster after the change.

CONFERENCE FIVES CLASH

Two Games on Tap for Fans Tonight; Grizzlies Go to Redlands to Meet Baptists

Two Southern California Conference basketball games are on tap this evening, neither of the contests having any particular bearing on the outcome of the 1925 race. The league-leading local University of California quintet goes to Redlands to take on the Baptists. Pomona entertains Whittier, while Oxy and Caltech tangle at Pasadena.

Unless the Grizzlies have gone woefully stale since their northern trip they should have little difficulty with the Redlands tossers.

Coach Perry

Earlier in the season the Baptista took a terrific drubbing, scoring but five points during the game. However, they have improved much since then, and playing on their home court will undoubtedly give the Grizzlies a good game of it.

Whittier should take the measure of the Sagehens, although not by any large score. Coach Esek Perry has his 1924 title-winning quintet running smoothly now, and prospects of a Pomona victory are very remote. The Sagehens will be weakened by the absence of Roblee and Millette, while latest reports indicate that Fuzz Merritt is also laid up and probably won't be able to play.

Occidental is slated to entertain the La Verne College tossers at the Franklin High School gymnasium. The latter always put up a good game but the Tigers should have little trouble winning.

Loyola College goes to Caltech to tackle the Engineers at the Pasadena "Y." This ought to be a good scrap, with odds slightly in favor of the home club.

VIRGINIA GOLFERS DEFEAT BRENTWOOD

Winning every match, except one, which was a draw, the Virginia Country Club men's golf team defeated Brentwood, 12½ to 2½ at Virginia yesterday. Halliday and Hicks (V) divided their match with Dickenson and Ferguson (B.) 1½ to 1½, otherwise, the home team made a clean sweep. Porter and Coomba (V) defeated Borde and Byers (B.) 3 to 0. Campbell and Martin (V) won two points from Kirby (B.) Rothwell and Buel (V) won all three points from Campbell and Vincell (B.) Jones and Jerkins (V) defeated Judson and Turner (B.) 3 to 0.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 13. — The Hollywood stables put over a winner today in Worthman, which won the feature event of the day at Tia Juana. Six of the eight horses in this race shared public support. Worthman got out in front and stayed there. Catherine Narrone, which finished second, and Black Wand, third, furnished the principal contention.

Chilliwack, in the fourth, was the only long shot to get under the wire first, this horse winning handily at 15 to 1 from the favorites, Kingman and Accleration. The latter was odds on.

Claims He Can Break All His Records if Necessary

PAAVO NURMI'S STORY
As Told by Him to
Charles E. Parker

[Copyright, 1925, in United States, Canada and Great Britain by North American Newspaper Alliance. Copyright (New York World) Press Publishing Company. All rights reserved.]

Chapter 14

Five Records in an Afternoon

Paavo Nurmi skips lightly over his post-Olympic activities in Europe—activities which brought him nearly half of his imposing array of world's outdoor records—to discuss his current visit to the United States. But a paragraph should be accorded, he agrees, to a certain August afternoon last year when in a single race he set five new world marks.

Paavo Nurmi

It was at Kuopio, Finland. The town was still celebrating his unparalleled Olympic showing, and had persuaded Paavo to go there for a test against time and Kuopio's athletes over a 10,000-meter course. Paavo, in especially fine condition, and seeing no signs of a real contest with the local athletes, proceeded to run as he never before had run for so long a distance.

He was caught in 19m. 18 7-10s. at the four-mile post; in 24m. 12 2-5s. at the five-mile stake; in 29m. 7 4-5s. at the six-mile mark, and in 30m. 6 2-5s. at the 10,000-meter finish line, thus establishing four time-for-distance records, and he added a distance-for-time record by covering 9957 meters in an even half-hour.

Three of these five records, held by Alfred Shrubb of England, had stood unchallenged on the record books for a score of years. The other two displaced marks which Paavo himself had set.

FEARED AMERICAN HOODOO

Paavo's visit to America was not undertaken without certain fears. He knew nothing whatever of indoor running, the trickiness of flat-soled shoes on the hard floors, the precariousness of whirling high-banked turns on the soft wood tracks, the lack of space in which to pass rivals, and he recognized in the men he would be called upon to meet the strongest array boasted by any nation. Then there was in his mind the experiences of other athletic visitors to this land—Joseph Sillenoff, for example, who was whipped by America's tyros when he came here following the Antwerp Olympic Games.

With that careful attention to detail for which the Finns are noted, Paavo arranged his trip. He took passage on a Scandinavian-American liner, which would bring him to New York several weeks before the date of his first competitive appearance. He made advance arrangements for exclusive use of one or another of the National Guard armories at certain hours each day. He flatly declined invitations to become the guest of scores of Finnish-American clubs during those first weeks in this country. Never in his career did he give more thought and study to his sport than following his arrival in New York.

The task assigned him as his first venture on a board track was the duplication of the sixty-minute effort in the Colombes Olympics—a one-mile run, to be followed an hour later by a 5000-meter run. In the former he was to meet Joie Ray, American champion, and generally acknowledged the greatest board track runner ever developed; Lloyd Hahn and Jimmy Connolly, both former national or intercollegiate champions, and each with an indoor record or two to his credit; and Walter Higgins, another former intercollegiate champion, and long experienced in indoor racing. In the 5000-meter run Willie Ritola, who rivaled Paavo in winning Olympic points, and was never more than a few yards behind him in races in which they both participated, was the most capable of his foes, but there were several others with notable long-distance records.

The story of Paavo's first American meet has been too recently chronicled to need detailed description. Paavo won the mile, finishing slowed up, in 4m. 13 3-5s.—a new world indoor record—and an hour later Paavo won the 5000-meter with sixty yards to spare in 14m. 44 3-5s., another new world indoor record.

With those record-breaking victories Paavo started an indoor campaign which long will remain the marvel of the athletic world. Scarcely a week has passed but Paavo has engaged in three or four track meets and at this writing all save two of those meets have seen Paavo break or create from one to three new world records. They range from three-quarters of a mile to 5000 meters, and already constitute an achievement so far beyond anything in athletic history that the most liberal use of superlatives seems futile.

Tomorrow—He Plans a Monopoly of Records

ALLEN WINS TWICE IN SKATING MEET

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

LAKE PLACID (N. Y.) Feb. 13. Francis Allen of Chicago, winner of the international amateur outdoor speed skating crown, set out on his quest for the American diamond trophy and the national championship today by winning the 220-yard and one-mile events.

O'Neil Farrel of Chicago tried to make it an all-Chicago day by winning the 220-yard event for the Lake Placid trophy, with Roy McWhirter, Chicago, placing third, but Eddie Murphy, also of Chicago, could do no better than third place in the two-mile race, and the victory in that event went to Leslie Boyd of New York.

Allen's time was 29s., flat, in the 220-yard event, while in the one-mile event it was 3m. 6 4-5s.

CLEAN BOXING IN CALIFORNIA ASSURED BY RULES ADOPTED

Clean and sportsmanlike boxing is assured the flistic fans of California by the rules adopted by the State Boxing Commission and made public in booklet form yesterday. The rules are patterned after the New York Boxing Commission's restrictions, except there is no reference in the California rules to championship matches and the weight classifications are somewhat different. The kidney and rabbit punch and the pivot blow are barred under the commission's rules and when used by fighters will constitute a foul, making it incumbent upon the referee to award the decision to the fouled contestant. The weights and classes set up in the rules follow:

Flyweight, 112 pounds; bantamweight, 118 pounds; featherweight, 126 pounds; lightweight, 135 pounds; welterweight, 147 pounds; middleweight, 160 pounds; light-heavyweight, 175 pounds, and heavyweight; all over 175 pounds.

Under the rules a contestant shall be deemed "down" when:

He is hanging helplessly over the ropes.

Rising from "down" position.

A boxer hanging over the ropes is not officially "down" until so pronounced by the referee, who can count the boxer out either on ropes or on the floor.

A contestant may go down through accident or weakness, but must rise instantly. If he is sent down by a blow, he may remain down until the count of nine without being disqualified. Referees in boxing and sparring matches or in exhibitions shall, in rendering their decisions, consider and declare a contenestant to be "knocked out" when a man is unable, after being knocked down, to arise unaided inside of ten seconds; a boxer who is in distress, but still on his feet, and the referee intercedes to save him or while in his corner his manager and seconds throw up the sponge, the decision shall be "stopped in so many rounds."

Hitting below the belt.

Hitting an opponent who is down or who is getting up after being down.

Holding an opponent or deliberately maintaining a clinch.

Holding an opponent with one hand and hitting with the other hand.

Butting with the head or shoulder or using the knee.

Purposely going down without being hit.

The use of the pivot blow and rabbit punch

The use of abusive or profane language.

The failure to obey the referee, or any physical actions which may injure contestant, except fair, sportsmanlike boxing.

SPORT-CASTS by Walter Camp

With close to 300,000 golfers digging through the winter in Southern sand traps and with some 2,000,000 divot takers dotting the landscape through the summer months the rumor is getting around that golf is becoming a fairly popular game with Americans. The game has been officially established in this country for only thirty years and yet today we are the dominant nation in a game that was once so completely and perniciously Scotch that an English Parliament ruled that golf be "utterly cryit doune, and nocht usit." What seems to be the explanation of this swift rise to power over the bunkered world?

If there is one man who deserves more credit than any other for the sudden popularity of golf in the United States, that man is Francis Ouimet, for it was Ouimet, by his spectacular victory over Vardon and Ray in the American open championship of 1913, that first focused the attention of the American public on golf. Until Ouimet's victory the average American looked on golf as a ridiculous foreign game that was played by doddering old American gentlemen who should know better. When Ouimet won most of these games the same average Americans didn't know much about the game, but the did know that a slender American youngster of 19 had beaten two British cracks at their own game, the American interest in golf received an inspiration it could have acquired in no other way.

One of the most appealing incidents American sport has ever known occurred on the Merion course during the final round of play for the amateur cnamplonship between Jones and Von Elm. Ouimet was a member of the gallery and during the course of the round he was approached by a spectator who gave his address as Louisville, Ky.

"You don't know me, Mr. Ouimet," the Kentucklan said, "but I've followed your career ever since you beat Vardon and Ray, and I just wanted to assure you that while you may occasionally lose a golf match, you will never lose your hold on the affections of American golfers."

TROJAN SQUAD IS VICTORIOUS

Then Kenny Boyer came to life with a bang.

The red-headed Trojan forward, who rarely has an off-night, had been wandering around like a lost sheep in the first half but when he once got his bearings the visitors were left in the lurch. Shooting from any angle Boyer popped in four baskets one after the other to bring the count to 28 to 21. The Trojans thought the game won and started loafing again with the result that Vukota got another basket and Fawke came through with a timely long shot to make the count 28 to 26. With two minutes to go the Santa Clara captain sank his last basket of the evening.

Vukota was plain poison to the Trojans. Every time he got his hands on the ball Coach Lee Turner almost swallowed his Adam's apple while the U.S.C. supporters prayed for some stout-hearted Trojan to prevent his shooting.

| U.S.C.—28 | | Santa Clara—27 |
|---|---|---|
| Inner (13) | F. | Vukota (15) |
| Badgro (5) | F. | Keating (4) |
| Kaer (4) | C. | Regan (3) |
| Dorsey | G. | Fawke (2) |
| Laranetta | G. | McCormick |

Subs: U.S.C.—Webber (2); Santa Clara—Vallee (4). Scoring: Field goals—Vukota, 6; Boyer, 6; Badgro, 4; Keating, 2; Vallee, 2; Kaer, 2; Webber, Regan, Fawke, Free throws—Vukota, 7 out of 8; Boyer, 7 out of 7; Badgro, 9 out of 11; Dorsey, 4 out of 1. Referee—McCord.

GOLFERS PLAY IN SEMIFINALS

work, but the play of Foresman and Snider in disposing of two former champions, is not to be passed with a nod.

George Nickel and R. Montealegle, a brilliant San Francisco team, are also shooting good golf, but they are up against a tough match in the shape of the fast-moving Stats and MacDonald this morning. If yesterday's results mean anything, Stats and MacDonald will meet Snider and Foresman in the finals this afternoon. The results:

FIRST ROUND

Johnston and Erdman defeated Bedley and Spear, 1 up.

Stats and MacDonald defeated Hunter and Hunter, 2 and 1.

Hurley and Campbell defeated Heath and Wright, 7 and 6.

SECOND ROUND

Nickel and Montegle defeated Chaffee and Finkbine, 4 up.

Stats and MacDonald defeated Johnston and Erdman, 2 and 1.

Foresman and Snider defeated Armstrong and Toms, 1 up.

DODE BERCOT NABS VERDICT

using his hit-and-run tactics, that had Schlaifer dazed and wondering. The fourth and fifth were even with Schlaifer recovering, and making up some of the points. Bercot got a little careless and took one or two hard body punches that didn't do him any good, but kept going.

Schlaifer started his rally then, and won the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth rounds in a row. He began slowing the Seattle slugger down with hard, devastating body punches and had the latter's sides a bright red from his constant pounding. It was in these rounds that Bercot's speed saved him. Had he elected to trade, the Omahan would have won.

Bercot pulled a big rally in the last canto that brought him back to the lead again. He sent Mr. Schlaifer back on his haunches with several well-directed rights and lefts to the head and then followed his blows by short, stiff body blows. Schlaifer lost everything he had gained in that last round. Although he won four rounds to Bercot's three, the difference in weight gave the latter the fight.

The preliminaries were the most pleasing seen in Hollywood for many moons. The boys were all so closely matched that there were three draws out of four fights. The first bout on the program was a decision.

Harry Simone and Young Papke put up an interesting draw in the semi-wind-up. Papke was tough and a hard puncher, while Simone was the more clever boxer. Papke slugged and slashed his way through the entire four rounds and might have had a slight edge, but Simone's cleverness was a big item in his favor.

Eddie Savage drew the only decision of the evening over Battling Trotzky a newcomer in the game. Morris Eagleson, substituting for Jack Heafer, drew in four rounds with Jack Northrip, and Paul Duarte, substituting for Roy Cliffe got an even break with Jack Ketche in the other bouts.

CALTECH TENNIS TEAM GOES AGAINST TIGERS

Opening the Southern California Conference season the California Tech tennis team will meet the Occidental net men at Eagle Rock this afternoon. Parker, Ranney, Adams and Sheffield will handle rackets for the Engineers.

BARKER FIVE WINS

Coach Charles McRay's Barker Brother's basketball team took the wind out of B. H. Dyas sails last night when they beat the latter team, 13 to 7, at Hollywood High. Dyas had been sailing toward a city championship quite complacently till they met the Barker five.

SENIOR SQUAD DOPED TO WIN

Pomona Interclass Meet on for This Afternoon

Expect Maxwell to Run Away With Hurdles

Sophomores May Give Rivals a Real Battle

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 13.—One of the best early season track meets in Pomona history will be staged on the local oval tomorrow afternoon when the four classes vie with one another for interclass honors. A galaxy of stars is boasted by each class and the meet should bring out some fair early season performances both in distances and times.

EUGENE NIXON

The seniors rule as favorites with such men as Capt. Bob Maxwell, Chuck Eaton, Paul Stroud, Douglas Smith, Earl Merritt, Roland Clark and Blackwell Smith, all good for first or second places. Homer Frisbee, star senior broad jumper and hurdler, will probably not compete. The juniors, possessing a team that when sophomores tied with the present seniors in 1924, also have a strong outfit, including Milliken in the hurdles, Bill Snyder in the long-distance race, Mason Hill and Frank Hamilton, high jumpers, Ralph Frankhouse, sprinter, and Paul Jones in the weight events.

Coach Eugene Nixon expects the sophomores to give the seniors the stiffest race for honors, while the freshmen may surprise everyone, even though two or three of their number will not be able to compete. One of the best races of the day should be the half-mile, with Rentchler and Rorehardt, sophomores; Stroud, senior, and Johnson, freshman, all fighting for first place. Johnson copped the novice half-mile event, and he stands an excellent chance of repeating, as neither Stroud nor Rentchler are in the best of condition yet. The same quartet will enter the mile run. The hurdles and sprints will all be feature events, with the quarter-mile a mystery as to who will nab first. Pomona possesses few 440 men, and Kettell, a transfer from Chaffey Junior College, is about the best possibility.

Of course such individual stars as Merritt, Clark, Hall, a promising sophomores, and many others will stand out in their respective events. The possibility of dark horses coming to the fore adds interest to the contest, as never a year passes without some unexpected showing made by a little-known athlete.

OBSERVATIONS BY BILL HENRY

will make the Trojans run in pretty nearly every event. It is rather expected that the Olympic Club, if it is at full strength, will be stronger even than Stanford.

* * *

After the close of the collegiate season the Olympic Club should be practically unbeatable unless the local athletic clubs can get busy and grab off a few of the Southern California stars. The northern organization is hoping to grab off practically the entire Stanford and California track teams intact which would make their aggregation so good that it would be almost impossible to beat it.

In all probability the L.A.A.C. or the Hollywood A.C. will make a big stab at the same thing locally, but they'll have a job on their hands as the Olympic Club has already scoured the country, encouraged star athletes to emigrate to the bay district and doesn't propose to be trimmed in its own backyard if there's any way to finish in front.

Johnny Buff and Diaz in Lyceum Bout

Johnny Buff, former bantam and flyweight champion of the world, will make his second start at the Lyceum Club tonight when he tackles Benny Diaz, tough little Mexican bantie, in a six-round main event. Last Saturday Buff won his way into the hearts of Lyceum followers when he stopped Kid Payo, hard-socking 114-pounder, in the fifth round of what was to be a six-round affair.

Diaz, who is managed by Elmer Leary, wound up a long siege of training yesterday and announced that he was in perfect shape for the go. Diaz knows that a win over Buff will put him in line for big money and he is out to stop the former two-time champion. Buff says he expects to win over Diaz just as easily as he did over Payo.

There will be four other good bouts to round out the card, says Manager Dick Donald.

HUNTER WINS IN BOSTON NET TOURNEY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Francis T. Hunter of Beckley, W. Va., entered the semifinals of the annual Brooklyn Heights Casino tennis tournament today by defeating Harry Brunie of the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, 6-4, 6-3. Hunter meets the veteran Dean Mathey tomorrow, while the national singles champion, William T. Tilden, II, faces Watson M. Washburn in the other semifinal contest.

In the doubles matches today, Hunter and S. Howard Voshell defeated Washburn and E. T. Herndon, 7-9, 6-4, 9-7. Mathey and Samuel Hardy defaulted to Brunie and J. S. McCloy.

WISHON HEADS UTILITY GROUP

Is Elevated to Presidency of San Joaquin Power

Kerckhoff and Balch Remain on Directorate

Pacific National Opens New Branch Offices

As the culmination of the purchase recently of the control of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation by the Western Power Corporation, A. G. Wishon, managing director, yesterday was elected president at the annual meeting to succeed W. G. Kerckhoff. The offices of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation will be moved to Fresno, nearer the center of the company's activities, in accordance to a resolution introduced by H. P. Wilson, president of the Western Power Corporation.

Mr. Kerckhoff and A. C. Balch, who remains as vice-president, together with their associates, sold the controlling interest in the San Joaquin company, the Midland Counties Public Service Corporation and the Fresno City Water Corporation to the New York company a few months ago. The Western Power Corporation, the purchaser, also controls the Great Western Power Company, operating in Central and Northern California. The transmission lines of the two systems will be connected as a result of the deal.

LONG SERVICE ENDS

During the twenty-three years which Mr. Kerckhoff has served as president, the San Joaquin and its subsidiaries have grown from a small company, taken from the hands of a receiver, to one of the largest utility groups in the West, serving the rich San Joaquin Valley and a large population of agricultural and commercial consumers. The company is owned by more than 12,000 stockholders, the majority of whom reside in the territory served.

A. G. Wishon, the new president, is one of the pioneers of the electrical industry in the West and has been associated with Mr. Kerckhoff and Mr. Balch in the management of these properties from the beginning.

Mr. Kerckhoff and Mr. Balch both will remain on the board of directors. The board, as chosen yesterday at the annual meeting includes the following:

DIRECTORS NAMED

W. G. Kerckhoff, A. C. Balch, Ben R. Meyer, A. G. Wishon, A. E. Wishon, A. B. Macbeth, H. P. Wilson, W. B. Joyce, W. B. Holmes and J. B. Black.

The officers, as elected by the directors, are: A. G. Wishon, president; A. E. Wishon, vice-president and general manager; A. C. Balch, vice-president; Ben R. Meyer, vice-president; A. E. Peat, treasurer and comptroller; W. E. Durfey, secretary; W. B. Holmes, assistant secretary; C. L. Whitehill, assistant secretary, and Murray Bourne, general counsel.

In addition to his election to the presidency of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, Mr. Wishon was made the head of the Midland Counties Public Service Corporation and the Fresno City Water Corporation.

To Open New Offices

E. M. Smith, president of the Pacific National Bank, today announced the opening of four additional offices for this institution authorized by the Comptroller at Washington.

The first office will open today at Beverly and Kingsley Drive. Other offices will be opened at Melrose and Arden, Menota and Santa Barbara and Manchester and Vermont.

Edison Dividend

The regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent on Edison preferred stock, Series "A" 7 per cent, has been authorized by the directors of the Southern California Edison Company. At the same meeting the regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent on Series "B" 6 per cent stock was authorized. Both dividends will be payable on March 15 to stockholders of record on the 20th inst.

Promotions Announced

Homer Lawton and J. H. Nest of the Bank of Italy's business extension department, were appointed assistant cashiers by the institution's executive committee yesterday.

Mr. Lawton was assistant manager of the Alexandria Hotel for many years and Mr. Nest was manager of the membership department at the Los Angeles Athletic Club for eight years.

Bank Opens Today

The Culver City branch of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank, will open for business today. Harry H. Culver is the Culver City vice-president and W. H. Meservey is the manager of the new branch bank.

BOND SUPPLIES DECREASE

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Apparently a curious set of circumstances is dominant now in the investment market. Given a plentiful supply of money at low prices the natural assumption is that the investment houses are lading out bonds by the handful to a wealthy and willing clientele. It is true obviously enough that the buyers have the money and eagerly look for a profitable outlet, but the difficulty is that the investment firms are unable to meet the demand. There is a scarcity of supplies, particularly of the right kind.

Money has been available at cheap prices for so long that most of the major industrial and public utility financing has been completed. Bond issues for extensions and betterments and for refunding purposes have been numerous in the past two years. With few exceptions these issues have been quickly oversubscribed, bond salesmen in innumberable cases reporting sales only to find that the quota has been exhausted. Now the point is reached where the shelves of the distributing houses are practically depleted and syndicates are keenly competing for new issues.

SPECULATION PRESENT

This situation, however, is not a novel experience, for it occurs regularly in every upward movement in the security markets. Ordinarily it is not influenced so much by the deficiency in supplies but by the character of the demand for securities. And this latter reason particularly is evident now. Supervened upon the first, it is clearly working a noticeable change in the business of the investment houses.

The truth is that the level of security prices has reached a point at which the yield on bonds is too low to satisfy the ideas of the investor. A return on the investment of around 5 per cent is not compatible with the tenor of the average business man's mind, influenced probably by an incipient tincture of speculation. The spectacular performances in the stock market have worked an insidious metamorphosis and security buyers are manifesting a desire for something with greater possibilities of market appreciation and a higher return. Abrupt rises in United States Steel, American Can, and the preferreds in United States Cast Iron Pipe have left their mark, reflected to some extent in the increasing public participation in the stock market.

To meet this drift in buying demand some of the syndicates have had recourse to the waiting list of foreign securities, usually carrying high interest rates and sold on attractive bases. It is perhaps safe to conjecture that the best of the foreign government, utility and industrial issues largely have been offered, and now the less desirable offerings from the standpoint of safety are coming out. In recognition of this situation, the New York Stock Exchange has tightened its requirements for the listing of foreign bonds, and now insists upon complete information to afford investors an adequate idea of the value of the security.

STOCK ISSUES SOLD

Most bond houses have gone further than this. In recent weeks the offerings of stock issues by nation-wide banking syndicates have become numerous, including both preferred and common shares. Such selling groups heretofore have handled preferred stocks from time to time, but most of them have shunned common stocks as smacking too much of speculation. But where thorough investigation has proved the existence of sound values the underwriting groups have plunged into the stock field with apparent success.

The sale of a large block of Union Oil Company of California common stock a few weeks ago is a pertinent illustration. This stock was purchased by an investment house with a national distributing system, syndicated in association with other reputable firms, and sold to the public. A block of 60,000 Cudahy Packing Company common stock paying 7 per cent was lately sold by a similar syndicate, and another group has just marketed 125,000 shares of General Outdoor Advertising Company common stock. More than likely the bond buyers will have many other stock issues of like nature presented to them in the coming months.

Past movements of the security markets seem to indicate that the higher grade issues are taken up first and advanced until the return on the investment declines to approximate correspondence to the price of capital. Second grade issues, such as the rails and the public utilities follow, and later the more speculative industrials press closely on the heels of the standard issues of the type of United States Steel.

Undoubtedly, if past performances are reliable, the present activity in the oil and mining issues carries a hint of the early termination of the bull movement in security prices.

Redlands plans a $200,000 community hospital, and Santa Barbara is to have another hotel to cost $500,000. In Berkeley a public safety building will cost $150,000. War memorial buildings in Butte county will cost $200,000. In Venice the $325,000 sewer bond was carried.

INQUIRIES FOR STEEL ADVANCING

Trade Review Reports New Gains in Issue for Current Week

BY DON PARTRIDGE

In commenting on the condition of the Pacific Coast iron and steel markets this week, Iron Trade Review will say: "Further improvement is noted but the spring-buying movement has not yet gained full momentum.

"Demand for reinforcing bars is greater, in proportion, than for merchant material. Awards this week totaled over 800 tons, of which the Edward L. Soule Company secured 436 tons for a telephone building in Sacramento; 145 tons for the Elks' Club of Sacramento and 110 tons for the Zellerbach Paper Company building, San Francisco. Pending business exceeds 9000 tons.

"No plate awards of importance were made this week, but some attractive tonnages are up for figures, totaling over 9500 tons. The pipe line for Port Angeles, Wash., which called for 600 tons went wood pipe. The Pacific Coast Engineering Company was low bidder on 125 tons for pipe for the port of Portland. Bids are being received for twenty-seven tanks for the Pan-American Petroleum Corporation, involving 1500 tons, while over 1000 tons are involved in a pipe line for Vallejo, bids on which will be opened the 18th inst. Prices are firmer and 2.55 cents to 2.60 cents c.i.f. now represents the range.

"Following last week's heavy total, the largest in the history of the Coast, structural shape awards declined sharply, less than 2500 tons being placed this week. Llewellyn Iron Works secured 1200 tons for the Chester Williams Building in Los Angeles; Dyer Brothers 272 tons for the White Motor Truck plant, San Francisco, and the Virginia Bridge and Iron Company, 200 tons for the Stuck River bridge, King county, Washington. Demand continues good, over 11,000 tons being up for figures or pending. Prices are firmer and 2.55 cents c.i.f. now represents the minimum.

"Awards of cast-iron pipe exceeded 5500 tons of which the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company secured 5300 tons for four and six-inch pipe for Los Angeles. Business up for figures totals over 2500 tons.

"Wire prices have been advanced by the leading interest by $2 a ton to 2.70 cents and 2.95 cents base Pittsburg or equivalent on Bright hard and wire nails, respectively. Both demand and consumption are excellent with little or no speculative buying influence."

EXPLAIN BREAK IN PIPE STOCK

Legitimate Selling is Reason Given for Slump

Brokers Say Shorts Are No Concern of Durant's

Small Floating Supply Cited in Statement

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Common stock of the United States Cast Iron Pipe Company continued its erratic gyrations on the New York Stock Exchange today, closing 3 1-2 points higher at 227 1-2 after fluctuating between 205 and 228. The stock opened 2 points lower at 218, broke to 205 and one dip of 7 points between sales, soared to 228 and then slipped back to 223 1-2.

The stock exchange firm of Hornblower & Weeks, which is known to have been active in executing orders in that issue for William C. Durant, automobile manufacturer, today took the responsibility for the recent break which carried the price from the record top of $250 a share to $220 in Wednesday's trading.

BREAK EXPLAINED

"Our own selling had as much to do with the break as anything else," said the firm's statement. "We had put the price of $250 on it a few months ago and when it hit there a great many customers started to sell all at once, trying to get the same price or around there.

"There has been no squeezing of shorts, no 'private settlements,' no collapse of a pool. We doubt if there was a pool in Pipe. Short sellers always bring about their own embarrassment.

"W. C. Durant has never been interested in the shorts and has never believed there has been much of a short interest. He simply believes that Cast Iron Pipe is worth more than it has ever been for, and continues to hold his stock in that belief.

MANIPULATION DENIED

"On Wednesday when he was supposed to have made a private settlement with shorts he was on his way to Detroit attending to the affairs of his own companies and giving no attention to the stock market.

"We say all this because we do not wish you to lose your stock on any idea that its advance has been due to financial jugglery and the most elementary knowledge of arithmetic will demonstrate that if there are only 120,000 shares of the stock in existence and one man holds at all times from 40,000 to 60,000 shares, and four houses hold an additional 40,000 shares, even though this stock is always freely loaned and hence in supply, there must be a sensational advance in it whenever fresh buying enters the market as it did following the publication of earnings for 1924."

Trade Review Notes Cautious Buying Policies

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"The trade advance still is very leisurely, and while there is very general agreement that business is about equal to that of last year, there is some disappointment visible because January business was not larger than it proved to be.

"Buying still is reported cautious, and this week, as last, weather conditions have not been wholly favorable. In this connection it might well to remember that sentiment of many observers often takes its key from speculative conditions and these latter have recently shown evidence of a subsidence of the buoyancy which has been shown throughout most of January."

Weekly bank clearings $7,780,516,000.

JAPANESE SELLING CHECKS ADVANCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Cotton futures advanced moderately under scattered buying on the local exchange today. Demand was encouraged by continued dry weather in Texas, coupled with higher cables from Liverpool and further bullish spot advices from the South. After an early rise of 20 to 25 points heavy selling from Japanese interests and the South served to check the advance and final prices were 5 to 10 points under the day's best, but 13 to 16 points net higher.

Spot cotton closed 15 points higher at 24.75c.

El Segundo's prospects for another test well probably will be decided within the next few weeks, as a result of negotiations now going on between the Pan-American Petroleum Company and the trustees for the Sausal-Redondo Syndicate, lessors of the majority of the Pan-American acreage at El Segundo.

According to James C. Anderson, president of the Pan-American, the company has not released any of its holdings at El Segundo, and still controls about 1200 acres in that district. Mr. Anderson asserts that no definite decision has been made as to whether another wildcat will be drilled in that district.

Trustees for the syndicate which leased the Sausal-Redondo ranch to the Pan-American, declare that the company has so far refused to drill a second well, and that as a result the syndicate has made a final demand that the terms of the lease, which required the drilling of a second well in the event of the failure of the first test be fulfilled.

The Pan-American officially abandoned its Pacific-Southwest No. 1 at El Segundo more than three months ago, after drilling to a depth of about 5200 feet. According to the terms of the lease, the company was required to start a second well within ninety days of the abandonment of the first and, according to trustees, this period expired on January 26.

In the event the Pan-American decides not to drill another hole, trustees for the syndicate have declared their intention to drill the well themselves, and to determine once for all the petroleum possibilities of the Sausal-Redondo ranch.

Quit Parkford Well

The Pan-American Petroleum Company has officially abandoned its Parkford No. 1 wildcat well in the Kern Bluffs district, near Bakersfield, it was reported yesterday by J. C. Anderson, president of the company. The well was drilled to about 5000 feet, before it was decided to suspend operations.

Mr. Anderson said that the company had not relinquished any of its holdings in this neighborhood, but declined to say whether another well will be drilled.

Well Starts Flow

The Superior Oil Company's Maxwell No. 1, the original well of the southeast part of the Rosecrans field, has again started flowing, and is making about 275 barrels a day, according to field reports.

The Superior's Maxwell No. 3 is producing about 300 barrels a day, giving the company a total of nearly 700 barrels daily production in this field.

Stands Cemented

The Winwell Oil Company's wildcat well at Lawndale is standing with casing cemented at about 5200 feet, according to field reports. The cement will be drilled out and a test made about the 20th inst., it is said.

This well is reported to have had good showings. It was drilled to 5574 feet. The project is located about a quarter of a mile north of the Riverside-Redondo Boulevard, and about two blocks west of Hawthorne Boulevard.

Near Completion

The Courtney Oil Company expects to have its No. 12 well, the old Foster No. 55, in the Signal Hill field, on production for the second time within a day or two, according to officials of the company. This well was completed in the early days of the Signal Hill field, and made 1200 barrels a day for several months. It was taken over by the Courtney company, and deepened from 3500 feet to 4400 feet. The crew began swabbing for a production test yesterday.

The Courtney's Industrial No. 2, which was taken over from the White Star Oil and Refining Company a few months ago, is bailing, and is expected to come in within a week. This well has never been on production. When the Courtney Oil Company acquired it, the hole was down about 3200 feet, and was drilled to its present depth of 5010 feet. Good showings and heavy gas have been found, it is said.

Prospects Not Good

Chances for getting any production in the Petroleum Midway Company's Rideout Heights wells are poor, according to drilling officials of the company. Operations are continuing in only three of the wells, the Pellissier being shut down.

The Rideout Hamburg well has been plugged to 2200 feet, testing by stages. The Witte-Vining is plugged to 2750 feet, and the Seward-Rideout well to 2990 feet.

LEAD PRICE CUT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The American Smelting and Refining Company today reduced the price of lead from 6.75 to 6.50 cents a pound.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. — With the Senate requested to authorize a thorough investigation of pending and recently completed railroad consolidations, Wall street today began to wonder how far the present series of inquiries into the proposed mergers and the conduct of corporations would extend. The projected combination of the American and National Sugar companies recently was blocked by the Department of Justice and since then Congress has instituted investigations of the General Electric and American Tobacco companies.

William H. Williams, chairman of the boards of directors of the five railroads, the Missouri Pacific, Texas and Pacific, Wabash, International Great Northern and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, is traveling to California on a combined business and pleasure trip. He is not expected to return before the middle of March. The financial district does not anticipate possibility of dividend action by any of these roads this month during his absence.

The gold export movement switched to Argentina today with shipment of $100,000 by the Equitable Eastern Banking Corporation, while South American dispatches last night indicated the movement would expand to $5,000,000. A shipment of $800,000 to India also was consigned by the Mercantile Bank of India.

The Hawaiian Pineapple Company's net profits in 1924 declined to $2,359,270 equivalent to $7.86 a share on the $30 par value, compared with $2,760,910 in 1923, or $9.20 a share. The company is the pioneer in the industry, which has grown to be the second largest in the Territory of Hawaii, being exceeded in value only by the sugar production.

Stocks of slab zinc were reduced 2212 short tons in January, the total of 18,896 tons on February 1 being the smallest amount on hand since January 20, 1922. Productions in January reached 50,386 tons, the highest output for any month in time of peace. Shipments for the month were 52,598 tons.

Fewer commercial failures in the United States were reported this week to R. G. Dun & Co., the total of 468 being twenty less than the week before. The East showed an increase of nine, but decreases appeared in other geographical sections, chiefly in the South.

YOUR INCOME TAX

[This is the twenty-fifth of a series of income-tax articles based on changes in tax legislation as embodied in the Revenue Act of 1924. The reduction in rates, 25 per cent credit on "earned income" and other benefits of the new law as they affect the average taxpayer, are fully set forth. Another installment will appear tomorrow.]

NO. 25

Deductions for contributions or gifts are limited to 15 per cent of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefit of the provisions of the law allowing such deduction. This means that from the total of all the taxable items there is subtracted all allowable deductions — business expenses, losses, taxes, etc.—except contributions, the remainder being the amount upon which the 15 per cent limitation is based.

A new provision of income tax legislation is that if during the taxable year 1924, and in each of the ten preceding taxable years, the amounts contributed for purposes specified by the Revenue Act of 1924 exceed 90 per cent of the taxpayer's net income "as computed without the benefit of this paragraph," the full amount of such contributions and gifts made within the taxable year is deductible.

Claims for deductions for contributions or gifts must be substantiated. Taxpayers are required to state in their returns the name and address of each organization to which a gift was made and the approximate date and the amount of the gift in each case.

Gifts to an individual are not deductible, but if made to an organization described by the act—religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational—may be deducted even though the organization distributes its funds to individuals. A church constitutes a religious organization for the purpose of this deduction. Donations made to missionary funds, to church building funds, pew rents and assessments, and dues paid to churches are regarded as contributions.

Deductions for contributions for political campaign purposes are not allowed.

Report Shows Prosperity of Markets Here

Satisfactory progress in the business situation is shown in a survey of conditions in Southern California made by C. R. Bell, vice-president of the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank.

"Continued growth of deposits in Los Angeles may be considered the outstanding feature of the money market," Mr. Bell reports. "Local deposits reported for the first week of February totaled $938,000,000, as compared with $842,000,000 the previous year and $660,000,000 two years years ago. Loans reported for the same period by all banks totaled $753,000,000."

"While there was some damage to crops in Southern California this season," continued Mr. Bell, "it was more than offset by higher prices received for the principal products. Prices for oranges and other citrus crops have been steadily rising recently and it is safe to forecast a greater return from crops this year than last.

"Trade outlook, both retail and wholesale, is encouraging. Real estate and building projects have reached a stable and conservative basis. There is seasonable activity reported in all wholesale lines with buying fairly liberal."

Cuba's population now is 3,000,000.

Erratic Course is Traveled by Wheat Futures

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Grain markets fluctuated in a violent manner today, wheat having a range of 7@7¾, corn 4¾@5¼, oats 3½@3 and rye 4¼@4 for the day. Wheat was up as much as 7 cents at the opening on May in response to an advance of 1¾@3¼d in Liverpool. It touched 1.84¾, only to break back to 1.77¾, the inside figure of Wednesday, and then rallied to 1.81¾@1.82 at the last, closing with a net gain of 4¼ cents. Deferred deliveries were up 1¾@2¼, with July at 1.53¾@1.53¾ and September 1.41¾. Buenos Aires wheat closed 5@5½ higher for the day.

Liquidation was on in both corn and oats, with corn 1¾@1¾ lower at the close, May being 1.36¼@1.36¾, July 1.37¾@1.37¾ and September 1.38¾@1.37. Oats were unchanged to ¼ cent lower and rye ¾@1¼ higher.

An immense trade was on in wheat, with commission houses heavy buyers and sellers at times, price changes of ¼ cent between trades being the rule, rather than the exception. At times there was a difference of over 1 cent per bushel in various parts of the pit. It was a market in which individual operations or news were no factor, and few of the brokers who were executing orders care to see such erratic price movements again.

On all of the sharp breaks there was heavy buying by foreigners and by exporters. The liquidating and short sales putting American prices down to a point where at one time spot Duluth No. 1 northern spring wheat at the seaboard was at a full delivery difference, as compared with Liverpool March. Argentine wheat was quoted as much as 5 cents per bushel over American c.i.f. Europe, and a big export business developed. The board finally estimated export sales at 2,500,000 bushels, largely American, in addition to 250,000 barrels more of Canadian flour to Russia, equal to 1,125,000 bushels of wheat. So far this week Russia has taken 1,250,000 barrels of flour.

In a long summary of the world's wheat situation the Department of Agriculture said it appeared that the world's supplies at the beginning of the harvest of this year's crop will be very low. A small carry-over will be a strengthening factor in the market, until the movement in the new crop gets well under way and should help maintain prices for the new crop. The world's wheat acreage and the developments in the condition of the 1925 crop will determine the market trend and ultimately the price.

General belated liquidation developed in corn, with May dropping to 1.34¾, or 12¾ cents under the recent high. Numerous stop-loss orders were uncovered on the way down, but at the last the stops had been reduced to a minimum and a good class of buying made its appearance. Boston reported a large business in cash corn and oats out through during the day, and the spot corn and oats basis was ½@1 better, as compared with the May.

Belated liquidation in oats carried the May down to 51¾, but the decline brought in an excellent domestic and foreign demand, with shipping sales of 340,000 bushels, while Minneapolis reported around 1,000,000 bushels sold to the East and South, and late messages from the seaboard claimed 700,000 to 800,000 bushels of oats had been placed abroad. The market rallied sharply from the low point, with May 54@53¾ at the last. Price fluctuations were extremely rapid throughout the day.

Europe came in as a big buyer of cash rye, with sales estimated at 1,250,000 bushels, and the removal of bears against this grain was instrumental in making the higher level for futures.

Liquidation was on in provisions, and with stop-loss orders caught, prices declined sharply, the close being 37½@45 lower on lard, 9@28 on ribs and 15@28 on bellies.

KS PURSUE LESS TREND

Respond to Reports of New Increases

Price Recorded in American Can

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Resumption in the stock market after the holiday failed to indicate price trend, a body of stocks moving in certain fluctuations confined to high-priced specialties was reduced in volume in the absence of several operators, the day's transactions approximating about a million shares.

Evidence of speculative interest in oils was based on a further rise in Mid-Continent crude prices and Western gasoline prices were also features. Several petroleum issues moved 2 points in the early trading, many of the gains were reduced in the usual profit-taking which swept the general list toward the close.

CURRENCY MOVEMENTS

Pressed Steel Car Iron Pipe was weak. It opened 2 points lower, dropped to 205 for a loss of 7 points between 11 to 215 and then rallied to 213½ for a net loss of 1½ points for the day. Texas broke to 151 and then rallied to 163. Commercial Solvents "A" and "B" fluctuated within a range of 15 points, closing at 175 and 174 for net gains of 5 and 7 points, respectively. Savage Arms was run up nearly 3½ points to 95½ and then fell back a point from the top.

Strength in American Can, which established another record top at 176 7-8, closing slightly below that figure for a net gain of more than 6 points, was the outstanding development in the Industrial group. Baldwin showed a net gain of more than a point at 132 3-4. United States Steel common closed fractionally lower at 126 and Studebaker recorded a nominal gain at 45½.

CARRIERS HEAVY

Railroad shares were reactionary. Nickel Plate reached 2½ points to 131 on profit-taking. Renewed heaviness of the St. Paul issues, the preferred dropping more than a point to 22, reflected speculative uneasiness over the road's plans for refunding its heavy maturities this year. Southern Pacific, which opened 3-4 higher at 106 1-4, canceled its gain on the announcement that only the regular dividend had been declared, setting at rest rumors that a special distribution was coming at this time.

Call money opened at 3½ per cent, but advanced to 4 in the early afternoon, closing at that figure. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

Foreign exchange rates were reactionary. Demand sterling sold nearly ½ cent lower around $4.77 1-4, and French francs broke about 10 points to 5.25 1-4 cents. Moderate recessions took place in most of the other European rates.

Stock Market Averages:

Dividend Rate on Espee Stock is Undisturbed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Directors of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company today declared only the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share on the road's stock, setting at rest rumors that the annual rate would be increased from 6 to 7 per cent at this time. After the meeting Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the road, said that the question of an increase had not been considered.

Mr. Kruttschnitt who had just returned from a tour of inspection over the Southern Pacific, stated that conditions along the lines of the system were extremely encouraging. He even declared that it was delightful news to hear that the road's tracks had been washed out by heavy rains in California and that the expenses of repairing them would be borne gladly in view of the benefits to crops.

The El Paso and Southwestern Railroad acquired last year, he said, had been thoroughly amalgamated with the Southern Pacific, but he characterized reports of further mergers as mere "cross tie gossip."

BOND QUOTATIONS

Prices Soft

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Bond prices drifted irregularly lower in today's dull trading, which was marked by conflicting movements in virtually all groups. Oil lines showed a burst of strength in the early dealings but failed to maintain their extreme gains.

Buying support was evident for the obligations of several foreign countries which have been mentioned as prospective borrowers in this market. With Poland scheduled to float a loan here next week, the government's 6 per cent bonds scored further additional improvement today while Sao Paulo 8s also recorded a fractional gain. An offering of $3a,600,000 Argentine treasury notes was quickly subscribed.

Several heavy spots developed in the industrial list. Warner Sugar refunding 7s lost ground and American Writing Paper issues fell back about 2 points. Mariand Oil 8s with warrants broke 3⅛ but the underlying demand for petroleum issues was buoyed up by favorable trade news. Skelly 6½s closed 1¼ points higher at 119 after setting a new high record at 120.

St. Paul issues reacted in sympathy with weakness of the road's shares which was based on uneasiness over the company's refunding plans. The proposed Senate investigation of the entire railroad consolidation question discouraged buying of other rail bonds.

[Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds as on the New York Stock Exchange, and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are received over Associated Press wires, and in exposite translation the closing is omitted when it is the same as the low, and both low and close are omitted when they are the same as the high.]

NEW YORK CURB

Oils Advance

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Outbound price movements again characterized today's curb market, most of the popular oils advanced in reflection of the higher Mid-Continent crude oil and gasoline prices, but the advance was not uniform. Prairie Oil and Gas closed 5 points higher at 247, after having sold as high as 252½, and Standard Oil of Indiana showed a net gain of 1¾ at 68½, that company having advanced gasoline duplicated its recent high price on reports of successful drilling operations in adjacent territory.

Public utilities and radios were reactionary. Lehigh Power Securities broke 4 points to 82 and Commonwealth Power, Kinsella Radio and American Gas and Electric showed losses of 1 to 2 points.

AVERS WIFE THREATENED TO KILL HER

Woman Mentioned With Dr. Roberts Files Charge in Marital Mix-up

A climax to the marital troubles of Dr. Raymond Raleigh Roberts and his wife, Veronica Law Roberts, which have been aired in divorce and police court, came yesterday when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hamner issued a complaint against Mrs. Roberts, charging her with threats to kill her husband and Mrs. Alyce Decker, whom she accused of being friendly with her husband. The complaint was sworn out by Mrs. Decker.

Mrs. Roberts appeared voluntarily at the District Attorney's office and was questioned by Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts. She admitted voicing threats but declared she was in a highly nervous state and never intended to carry them out. She was allowed to go pending a hearing today before Justice Russill. Keyes told her he will recommend that she be allowed to retain her liberty under her own recognizance after the hearing.

In the course of the difficulties involving the Roberts family and Mrs. Decker, Mrs. Roberts is asserted to have horsewhipped her husband when she found him at the apartment of Mrs. Decker. Dr. Roberts and Mrs. Decker were haled into Police Court and are due to be tried Monday.

On the 10th inst. Mrs. Roberts sued for separate maintenance, asking an allowance of $250 a month for herself and her two children, Raymond Law, 4 years of age, and Betty Jane, 3.

Instructor List for Plattsburg is Announced

Col. James M. Hutchinson, quartermaster in the Army, announced yesterday that another session of the winter Plattsburg, engaged in the task of an industrial survey in preparation for a possible national emergency, will be conducted Monday night at the California Bank Building. Col. Hutchinson will be in charge.

Similar conferences, with the same objective in view, are being conducted in nearly all the larger cities of the nation. Col. Hutchinson also announced the appointment of the following instructors in connection with the local winter Plattsburg:

Capt. Fred M. Fogle, quartermaster, Fort MacArthur, on post quartermaster duties; Capt. S. R. Beard, finance officer, Fort MacArthur, on quartermaster contracts; Col. H. D. Turner, Q.M.R.C., on accountability and responsibility; Lieut.-Col. J. B. Chaffey, Q.M.R.C., on construction service methods; Lieut.-Col. G. H. Chase, F.R.C., on camp quartermaster duties; Maj. M. L. Stern, Q.M.R., on division quartermaster duties; Maj. Wallace J. Jaka, Q.M.R.; Maj. L. D. Collins, on motor transport maintenance, and Maj. Paul Washburn, Q.M.A., on military real estate.

Drug Company Leases Store in Downtown Area

The Thorne Drug Company, which operates a number of drug stores in the downtown district, signed a lease yesterday at a total rental for a ten-year term of $480,000 on the southwest corner of Fifth and Spring streets.

The store is to be remodeled at a cost aggregating $75,000 with modern fixtures and with an entrance into the lobby of the Alexandria. It will be ready for occupancy during August, the brothers, Harry and Benjamin Thorne, announced last night.

The deal was put through with the Ambassador Corporation, represented by Aattorneys O'Melveny, Millikin, Tuller and MacNeil, and Attorney Edward Brophy represented the drug company.

The store has a footage of thirty-nine feet on Spring street and sixty-one feet on Fifth street.

MAN JAILED IN ASSERTED DEATH PLOT

Desk Manufacturer Says Patent Owner Threatened to Kill Him

As a result of differences between Victor Kingman, whose Kingman Manufacturing Company has a $103,000 contract to supply desks for the Los Angeles city schools, and Manford Minick, who has certain patent rights involved in the making of the desks, Constables Adams and McCullum last night arrested Minick and placed him in the County Jail charged with threats to kill.

Kingman said that when his company did not pay Minick royalties as rapidly as demanded by Minick, the latter threatened to kill him and threatened that some day he would find his plant in ruins. Kingman complained to the District Attorney's office and swore out a warrant.

Minick denied he had ever made such threats. He said he had sufficient recourse against Kingman to protect himself without necessity of threats to kill Kingman or destroy property. He said Kingman owes him about $1400.

Kingman said other manufacturing concerns in the Vernon district had received threats but he did not connect Minick with the other threats. It was said at the Vernon police station that about a month ago threats received by a number of manufactories had occasioned placing of extra watchmen about the plants.

Bandit Suspect Arrested; Limps From Old Wound

Still limping as a result, police say, of a bullet wound he received while aiding the robbery of the Westwood Park Branch of the Mercantile Trust Company in San Francisco, Percy W. Beckley was arrested yesterday at 3828 South Grand avenue. He was booked at the City Jail by Detective Lieutenants Evans and O'Connor on suspicion of robbery and will be held for the San Francisco authorities.

Beckley is said to have been shot in the right leg during the hold-up, but escaped. The hold-up men got $5000.

HOSPITAL HEADS CITED

Two Licenses Perilled Following Recent State Survey

As a result of a recent State survey of conditions existing in private hospitals, representatives of two local institutions appeared at a hearing here yesterday before Walter D. Wagner, director of State institutions, in answer to citations to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked.

The institutions are the Canyon View Inn Sanatorium, located at La Crescenta, and the Golden West Sanatorium at Glendale. Reports of investigators submitted to the director indicated patients in these hospitals have not received proper care.

There are forty-three private hospitals licensed by the State, Wagner said, and demands for needed improvements have been made on eighteen of them. Installation of fire extinguishers and the removal of fire hazards are the chief improvements suggested, he said.

COUNCIL AIDS SHRINERS

Resolution is Passed Urging Convention Co-operation

Urging all city officers and employees, as well as all other citizens of Los Angeles, to co-operate to the fullest extent in making the Shrine convention here next June the greatest in the history of this organization, President Workman presented a resolution at yesterday's meeting of the City Council, which was unanimously adopted on motion of Councilman Criswell. A feature of the celebration being arranged in honor of the Imperial Shrine is a great civic parade, and the resolution requested all citizens to aid in making this the greatest parade ever held at a Shrine convention.

Slayer of Five Admits Deed on Way to Gallows

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—John Kammerer, murderer of five, was hanged in the Dupage County Jail at Wheaton this morning. Just before he walked to the scaffold he gave a written confession to Wynne Knoch, Assistant State's Attorney, telling for the first time just how he killed Otto Eder, his one-time friend, and his family of four.

The fanaticism that enabled him to lie in wait in the Eder home at Villa Park one day last summer, killing several members of the family as they entered, bore him through the trying preliminaries to the hanging today. From his last awakening just before 6 o'clock until Sheriff John H. Hesterman led him to the gallows he seemed at ease and unfrightened.

ARMORY CONDEMNED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Feb. 13.—The Tucson State armory has been condemned by the City Building Inspector, who states that the lumber used in its construction was of poor quality. No public gatherings will be permitted until extensive repairs have been made. An appropriation for this purpose is expected from the Legislature.

It Happened on Friday The 13th

Yesterday was Friday the Thirteenth. No more than the usual number of accidents occurred. Little aside from the daily routine took place at the Receiving Hospital. However, there follows a series of happenings which naturally fall under the caption of "unusual," having occurred on Friday the Thirteenth.

A gaunt black cat, symbol of misfortune and particular pet of the imp of mischance, slipped across the road at dawn yesterday in front of the milk wagon driven by Leo Gasparro, 24 years of age, and things began to happen.

The driver halted his sleepy horse and hopped on the step to make a delivery. The step was slippery. The driver threw out his hands in a wild effort to save himself from a fall. One of his hands struck a milk bottle. It broke. His hand was deeply gashed. He led the way to the Receiving Hospital, which many others followed throughout the unlucky day.

"I knew something like that would happen on the thirteenth," was his rueful comment.

David B. Wiley, 91 years of age, of 1653 Waterloo street, was walking along Broadway, lost in thought. He stepped into the street with the traffic signal against him and remembered the new jaywalking ordinance. So he darted back, but stubbed his toe against the curbing with such force as to necessitate treatment at the hospital.

S. Israel was building a chicken coop in the rear of his home at 1408 Riverside Drive. He sat down, but sprang up. He had sat on a protruding nail.

Sybel McLoughlin, 5 years of age, slipped and tumbled down a flight of stairs at the Seventy-sixth-street school. She was bruised. The same thing happened to Mrs. Jennie Funk, 72, of 805 Los Robles avenue, Alhambra, in a building at 416 West Fourth street, with the same result.

E. C. Sheffer, 42, with offices at 204 Van Nuys Building, was in a hurry. He hopped into his car. One of his legs struck the door of the car with such force as to gash the skin about the knee.

Edward Shriner, 45, is an elevator operator at the Trinity Hotel. He was going down in the elevator. A janitor swept some dirt into his face as the elevator operator passed the floor where the janitor was working. A fragment of dirt lodged in the operator's eye. It was extracted at the Receiving Hospital.

During the first hour of Friday the 13th a son was born at Angelus Hospital to Detective Lieutenant and Mrs. Bud Curtis. The boy weighs eight pounds.

Frank R. Leonard, 46, was fitting a light globe into a socket at his home at 446 Cypress avenue, Watts. An unlucky move brought the globe into contact with a jutting piece of wood. It exploded and a fragment of glass lodged in one of the victim's eyes.

The most novel excuse ever given in Police Judge Richardson's court, either on Friday the 13th or any other day, was given yesterday by Lee Burlingham, arrested on Vine street for speeding.

"I had just been married," said Burlingham, "and I was taking my mother-in-law home."

"Ten days," said the judge, "suspended on condition you buy your wife a new spring hat."

Burlingham promised to buy the hat.

George Daniels, 10, of 977 East Twelfth street, made the acquaintance of a strange dog. He pulled one of the animal's ears. The dog turned and bit him in the leg.

Ernest Badostian, 28, of 928 Chadwick Drive, was repairing the windshield of his car. His hand slipped. The gash which he received was treated at the police hospital.

Add to the list of Friday the Thirteenth fatalities: Eleanor Boardman's pet fox terrier Skippy died yesterday, the film actress tearfully reported.

Friday the 13th saw the wreckage of forty-four marriages cast up to the Superior Court in the form of divorce complaints. The number of complaints filed during the day was just two below the record of forty-six for any single day in the county. Today being Valentine's Day, forty-four husbands and wives will receive valentines in the form of summons in their respective divorce actions.

There are at least 146 persons in Los Angeles county who place little or no faith in the popular superstition regarding Friday the thirteenth. And of this number, neither sex predominates. Seventy-three are men and seventy-three women. They were the bold ones who crossed the threshold of the Marriage License Bureau in the Courthouse yesterday.

WESTLAKE BOOSTERS TO HEAR MUSIC BILL

Music will be a special feature of the next meeting of the Greater Westlake Business Association, at the Westlake Park pavilion next Wednesday at 12 M. The music will be provided by A. C. It is planned to have a program at each subsequent meeting.

AERIAL GLIDER GIVEN INITIAL TRYOUT

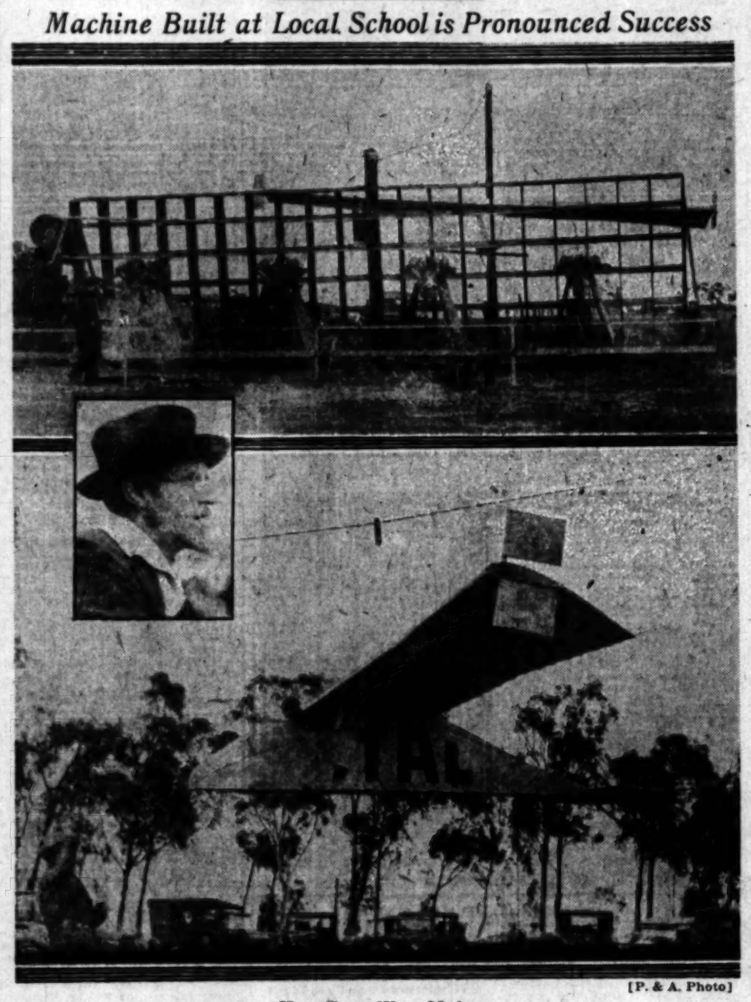
Machine Built at Local School is Pronounced Success



[P. & A. Photo]

How Tests Were Made

COMPLETE success marked the first test of the aerial glider constructed by the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, at Clover Field yesterday.

The glider, built in the form of a monoplane, with a wingspread of forty feet and weighing about 275 pounds, was placed on top of a tunnel-like structure back of which had been set a number of wind machines—airplane engines and propellers.

When the wind machines began turning, the glider, with Frank Clark, a commercial aviator, in the pilot's seat, began to rise. It went up a considerable distance in the air and hung suspended for some time. When the wind machines were turned off, the glider sank.

Prof. A. A. Merrill of the institute, who supervised the construction of the glider, expressed complete satisfaction with the tests. Another glider without a tail piece, which is being constructed for Prof. Merrill by Edward Fiske, a Venice aviator, will be tested out next week. This glider will be hauled into the air by an airplane and then released to determine the distance it can travel.

The tests are designed to evolve a new and much lighter airplane, plans of which are being studied at the institute. This new type of plane would be powered by a small motor but because of its small weight would be able to obtain a speed even greater than the present racing planes.

NASH TALKS ON HISTORY OF PRINTING

The opening session was devoted largely to the reading of reports, the appointment of committees and the introduction of resolutions. An address of welcome was delivered by the president of the organization, Ralph L. Garnier. The morning session closed with a short address by E. W. Houser of Chicago, president of the American Photo-Engravers' Association.

The principal speaker on the afternoon program was John Henry Nash of San Francisco, known as one of the leaders today in the craft of artistic printing in this country.

The convention will conclude this evening with a banquet and dance in the Biltmore ballroom.

F. E. Rising, 150 Poplar Place, South Gate Gardens, reported to police last night that three bandits held him up at Long Beach Boulevard and Poplar Place and robbed him of $300 and his watch and then escaped in his expensive sedan. # NEW PORT TERMINAL PACT

Plans Accepted Propose Equality For All Lines at Harbor; Invitation to Santa Fe

Equality of opportunity for all railroads, including the Santa Fe system, that now serve or seek to enter the harbor district of Los Angeles, and at the same time full utilization of all rails now on the ground, whether owned by the city of Los Angeles, the city of Long Beach or the railroads, are provided in a set of engineering plans accepted yesterday by the Board of Harbor Commissioners and the Greater Harbor Committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce as the basis of further conversations.

The plans already have been accepted by the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Pacific Electric systems. At a conference last week between the plans committee of the Greater Harbor Committee and the leading executives of the railroads, it was agreed that a point had been reached where the cities of Los Angeles and Long Beach and the Santa Fe System must be taken into any further proposals.

BID TO SANTA FE

Accordingly, the Santa Fe today will receive an invitation to name its representative on a new and larger joint committee, representing all the interests affected. The duty of this new committee will be to erect a suitable legal, financial and operating structure on the engineering foundation already provided.

Although the engineers of the railways which already own waterfront property, sat in with the engineers of the Greater Harbor Committee and the members of the plans committee in drafting the proposed unification, their executive superiors have not yet committed themselves to unqualified acceptance and will study the financial and operating difficulties more thoroughly before they give their final assent.

Nevertheless, the members of the plans committee feel they may congratulate themselves and the city on what they believe to be three substantial accomplishments. These are:

Opening the door of opportunity to the Santa Fe.

Providing a plan of unification which can be materialized at an estimated capital cost of $250,000 instead of the $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 which it would require to complete the municipal belt line.

BUILDING OF STUDIO CLUB IS ASSURED

Norma Talmadge Donates $5000 Toward New Home for Film Girls

Erection of a new building to house the Hollywood Studio Club for girls engaged in motion-picture work became assured yesterday with the receipt of a telegram from Norma Talmadge stating that she will contribute the $5000 needed to complete the building fund.

The telegram from Miss Talmadge was read yesterday at a conference between the club committee and Will Hays, film chief, at the home of Mrs. Cecil De Mille, who is chairman of the building committee.

With the final $5000 assured, the committee announced at the conclusion of the meeting that work on the new clubhouse will begin at once. The club has been in existence ten years. It is maintained as a residence and social center for young women engaged in motion-picture work by the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association and is the only housing unit in the country owned and operated by the national board.

The drive for the new building was started because the present quarters of the club proved too small to accommodate the great number of young women seeking admittance. As a result of this campaign, in which leaders of the motion-picture industry and residents of Hollywood co-operated, a sum of more than $140,000 was raised. The contribution of Miss Talmadge put the fund over the top.

Those present at the meeting were: Mrs. Ella King Adams, Mrs. W. F. Callander, Mrs. De Mille, Mrs. Arthur S. Heineman, Miss Jessica Lawrence, Mrs. Willsie Martin, Miss Mary Pickford, Mrs. J. S. Sanders, Miss Cora Tatham, Miss Marjorie Williams, Studio Club Committee; Charles H. Christie, G. C. Greenwood and J. B. Irefeld, Men's Advisory Committee; Will H. Hays and Fred W. Beetson.

COUNTY SURE OF MOUNTAIN PARK

Senate Passes Bill to Give Land to Los Angeles

Measure Permits Transfer of 5560 Acres

Plans for Development Are Now Under Way

Complete success of the efforts of Los Angeles county to have a great public park and playgrounds in the San Bernardino Mountains virtually was assured yesterday by passage in the United States Senate of the bill to transfer 5000 acres of the Angeles Forest Preserve to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county.

The bill already had passed the House of Representatives and now awaits only the signature of President Coolidge to become operative. It is expected the President will sign the bill not later than Monday or Tuesday.

The tract joins on the north Big Pines Recreation Camp, the 660-acre playground which the county has been developing for about three years. The whole now will be known, Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors said, as Los Angeles County Big Pines Recreation Camp. It will include 5560 acres. The park lies, he explained, at the head of the Swartout Valley.

"Just as soon as spring opens, in a couple of months, we will begin developing the park as a whole," Chairman McClellan said. "We will open up the water supply of the added tract, will build fireplaces, clean out spots for camp grounds and make it available as soon as possible."

He said the county already has 150 fireplaces and a headquarters building of 400-person capacity in the 560-acre tract and is building a road from Big Rock Creek into the park to make it more accessible. The road to Big Rock Creek from Palmdale, he said, already has been improved.

Congressman Fredericks effected passage of the bill in the House and Senator Shortridge in the Senate. A news dispatch from Washington said passage of the bill was one of the quickest pieces of affirmative legislation accomplished in the interests of Southern California. Congressman Fredericks sponsored the bill and was given ready support by Senator Shortridge, the dispatch said.

STORMS IN LOBBY OF BILTMORE

Mr. North (Last Name as Above) is Descendant of Breezy Family

Mr. Storms is secretary of the National Glass Distributors' Association, with headquarters at Chicago. He is in Los Angeles attending the convention of the glass jobbers of the Pacific Coast.

His name doesn't match his personality at all. He radiates geniality and has the placidity of the prosperous business man, with a tendency toward a chunky physical build. His name is not an accident. His father's name was North Storms. His grandfather was Pennsylvania Dutch, the family tree being rooted in the William Penn colony. The grand-dad had two other sons, one of whom he named West Storms and the other Hail Storms. West died when he was about 2 years of age.

Mr. Storms has two little girls, Jessie and Roberta. And as he looked over this part of the country after an absence of some years he says, "Southern California certainly looks to me as though it would be a fine abode for North Storms."

When he was a small boy, Mr. Storms visited in Los Angeles. At

AS TO this Friday the 13th, which has slipped by without disaster. . . .

These are just the superstitions you talk about. The real ones you keep to yourself.

A FEAR DEMON

Much more believable is the strange complex—the unreasoning fear that so many people have of riding in subways and elevators.

It must have occurred to everyone, as it has to me, that this is the real reason for the astonishing interest in the boy who is shut in that Kentucky cave. His fate is like an almost universal nightmare coming to life.

WHY WE DREAD

The reason for this seems plain. As commercial and industrial life becomes more complex freedom to express ourselves—freedom to run with the ball, so to speak—becomes more difficult.

No doubt this physical horror of confinement is a sort of oblique reflex, a physical expression of another kind of a shut-in feeling.

IMITATING CHAPLIN

Whatever the law thinks about it, technically, there is no doubt as to what the public thinks about it.

For a motion-picture producer to dress a prize fighter up in a decrepit derby hat and big shoes, and call him "Charlie Aplin," and then disclaim any intention of stealing Charlie Chaplin's fame, is worse than contemptible.

Just so when a producer also gives to one Leo Maretti the name of "Talmadge;" one Ullman the name "Fairbanks."

KILLED BY A TIGER

Animal trainers tell me that they themselves are amazed that this so seldom happens. There is no such thing as a safe wild animal. The great peril is that it is the little unexpected things that start them killing. Just as a kitten striking at a dangling yard ball, so it is natural for wild cat creatures to lash out at any unexpected movement.

The tamers who take the worst chances are those in vaudeville. They tell me that they live in never-ending dread that the stage lights might suddenly go out. If that happened it would all be over in a second.

Incidentally, animal trainers tell me that, of all animals, they most dread polar bears. They have an unpleasant habit of waiting for a chance; then tearing your stomach out.

Actress's Fiance is Rich Italian She Met While in Rome With "Ben Hur" Company

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

There is such a thing in the world as romance. Anyhow there is in Rome. Just ask Kathleen Key, beautiful young actress who has just returned from Rome, where she played an important part in the filming of "Ben Hur."

Kathleen Key

Miss Key is to be married to a handsome and wealthy young Italian business man when he comes to claim her as his bride next May. The happy young man rejoices in the name of Dr. Octavius Prochet.

Dr. Prochet is a native of Turin, Italy, where he is at present in the brokerage business. His family is one of the oldest and wealthiest in Italy, a rather rare combination in these days of decimated fortunes among the upper classes of that fair land. He is a university graduate and started his career as a physician but switched to finance.

When Prochet arrives here it is with the intention of transferring his business interests to this country, as he has several valuable affiliations here.

Miss Key herself has Italian blood in her veins, so it was entirely natural she should respond to ardent advances abroad.

"I met Dr. Prochet in Rome at a dance one night," she said. "You see, there is a charming open-air dancing place in Rome, and it was

WRIGHT HEADS KHJ RADIO BILL

Has Assistance of Wellman and Others

Immanuel Male Quartet Gives Numbers

Charlie Wellman to Appear at Loew's Theater

BY CLAIRE FORBES CRANE

John Wright, the Tailor, came back again to KHJ last night and transformed the studio into a melody shop. As an exhibition of excellent judgment he selected Charlie Wellman for his foreman, who knowing the great variety of desires in Radioland, relegated his own reputation for jazz to the rear, and offered two different styles of entertainment.

The pattern for the first hour was cut to meet the most exacting taste. Fashioned after the period of the classics, it was adorned in garments woven from the heavier frabics. The colors though of the more sombre order, have never been known to fade, and many of Radioland found the rainment of the first hour to perfectly fit their conceptions of proper mental attire. The weavers of this period were Joseph Heindl, 'cellist, William Hullinger, flute, and Melba French Barr, whose soprano voice has not been heard for a period too long to please her many admirers. Needless to say her efforts added much to the warmth of the musical cloth.

The latter half of the evening followed the model so generally accepted by American youth. Made from a skein of lighter material, it was finished in brighter hues and cut to the more modern design. Many found this type of melodic apparel best suited to their tastes. The peppy tailors who assisted Charlie Wellman, prince of jazz, in this task, were Bill Hatch, pianist; Hatch Graham, banjo, and Haroid Hynes, in Jewish monologues.

Just before Charlie Wellman closed up shop last night, he announced that John Wright, who ordered the evening's output, would forward, in response to written requests, a postcard picture of Uncle John with golden-throated radio kindness in his hand and golden-curled Richard Headrick on his knee.

By the way friends, you will have an opportunity to satisfy your curiosity concerning Charlie Wellman's appearance. Beginning this afternoon and for the entire week, he will be seen at Loew's State Theater, representing KHJ in an act devoted to radio. If you wonder what degree of personality the prince of jazz possesses, this is your chance.

The afternoon audience had the pleasure of hearing the Immanuel Male Quartet and Grace Curry, harpist, who were presented by the Pacific States Electric Company. Oliver Saylor of Azusa, Cal., told of the lessons he had learned from the co-operation of the honey bee.

The curtain was rung up on the "children's hour," by Prof. Walter Sylvester Hertzog, relating his tales of American history. Richard Headrick and Vyola Von, who are not only popular screen juveniles but the two of KHJ's favorite youthful entertainers, delighted the hearts of both their child and adult listeners with recitations and their conversation with Uncle John.

Merritt Thayer, 12-year-old saxophonist not only contributed one solo but also joined Johnny Mothershead in a saxophone duet, the latter of whom followed this number with a rendition of the "Song of India." Vivian Marple, 10-year-old reader, gave several short readings.

At 7:30 p.m. Gladys De Witt delivered another chapter in her series of talks on the "Romance of the Santa Fe Trail." This was followed by an address on "Income Tax," by Capt. John T. Riley.

The noon hour marked the debut of Klein and Bosquet's dance orchestra and Harry Aller, banjoist, both of whom furnished the midday enthusiasts with plenty of syncopation. Les Roscoe, the popular pianist, contributed his usual generous share to the program.

BRIDGE WILL TO BE FILED TO DAY

and philanthropic institutions, four of which are located in this State. While the California laws would not permit him to do this, the Illinois laws would. In order to realise his desire, he established and maintained to the time of his death, in a most careful way, his residence in Chicago, where he had formerly resided. All of his property, with negligible exceptions, has been legally and physically located in Chicago for many years.

"Paradoxical as it may seem, Dr. Bridge, at the time he executed his will, was compelled to reside in a State other than California in order that California should be benefited. While the law which was the sole reason for the action of Dr. Bridge has to some extent been recently amended, there are now in force a number of unnecessary and foolish California laws which prevent many from coming there or investing their money. I have particularly in mind our inheritance tax laws, which in some instances are almost confiscatory. Florida, in recognition of this fact, has just amended its constitution so that no inheritance taxes can be established by legislation, with the result that great numbers of people of wealth are seeking a domicile in that State."

"The will shows clearly that, while Dr. Bridge had for several years maintained his legal residence in Chicago, his heart had found its home in California. Of the thirty-eight beneficiaries named therein, twenty-three are domiciled in California, as against fifteen residing elsewhere. Of the five great educational and health-serving enterprises which, after the termination of the life interest of Mrs. Bridge, will share equally the residue of his estate, four, the University of Southern California, the Southwest Museum, Inc., the Harlow Sanatorium, Inc., and Vina are of California; the fifth being the University of Chicago, as successor to Rush Medical College.

"In this connection should also be borne in mind the substantial gifts made by Dr. Bridge in his lifetime to the California Institute of Technology, and, more particularly, to the Norman Bridge Laboratory, the channel which the doctor seemingly had chosen during the later years as the object of his special sentiment and bounty. Codicils to his original will demonstrate the care with which from time to time he safeguarded his successive undertakings with respect to that world renowned enterprise. It is my understanding that the contributions to the institute specifically referred to in the will were all fully discharged during the lifetime of Dr. Bridge, but that some more recent undertakings—notably with respect to the installation of the heating plant—remain to be cared for by the estate when that work is finished.

"In naming Mrs. Bridge as the executrix the doctor sought to assure an administration of his estate under the direction of the person who throughout his lifetime had been his confidante and partner in every philantropic enterprise and who shared with him from her marriage day those enthusiasms for research and sound education, particularly in the medical field and for the humane health-bringing care of the sick, which enthusiasms are so abundantly evidenced under the terms of the doctor's will.

"The estate will be administered in Chicago, where, for the past eight years, Dr. Bridge has been legally domiciled. His removal from California became inevitable when its Legislature decided against an amendment to the then existing law governing testamentary provision for philanthropic agencies. Not the one-third only, then permitted by law, but substantially all of the doctor's fortune was destined, in the view of Dr. and Mrs. Bridge for institutional as distinguished from individual, beneficiaries. They were faced with the alternative of surrendering either their philanthropic purposes or their California residence. Of necessity they chose the latter as the less distressing. When a few years later the California Legislature, with great wisdom, removed to a substantial degree the restrictions on such testamentary dispositions, Dr. Bridge, at my request, reviewed with the aid of his Los Angeles attorneys the question of a resumption of his California residence. Although the review comprehended the fullest consideration of the favorable developments under the California law and the less favorable trend of the Illinois statutes, the doctor's decision to maintain his Illinois domicile remained unshaken.

"Since the will, in its final clause, carries an implication of somewhat heavy responsibility resting on me, pending the distribution of the residuary estate, it may not be irrelevant for me to express my own purpose to safeguard in every way the interests of the magnificent philanthropies to which Dr. and Mrs. Bridge have chosen to devote so large a proportion of their estate. In this purpose, Mr. Benjamin Page, the doctor's friend and personal counsel in California will most heartily co-operate."

SERMONS TO LAUD LINCOLN

Pastors of Many Local Churches to Honor Memory of Emancipator in Services Tomorrow

The character and life of the man who, under God, prevented the disintegration of the Union and whose noble deeds and words provided the people of this republic with that inspiration which makes for practical idealism, will form the theme of scores of sermons to be preached from pulpits of Los Angeles churches tomorrow.

"Abraham Lincoln, Man of Sorrows and Man of Destiny" is the subject of a sermon to be preached at the Forum Theater tomorrow morning by Dr. Charles F. Aked, associate pastor of the Wilshire-Boulevard Congregational Church. Dr. Aked will also be the speaker at 5 p.m. at the Ambassador Hotel Theater.

"LAW ENFORCEMENT"

Tribute to the memory of the Great Emancipater also will be voiced at the Ambassador Hotel Theater tomorrow morning by Dr. Fred B. Smith in his address on "Law Enforcement," according to announcement made yesterday by Dr. Frank Dyer, pastor of the Wilshire-Boulevard Congregational Church. Dr. Smith, who will give a brief account of his recent conference with President Coolidge, is chairman of the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand for Law Enforcement in America.

FOR AGED VETERANS

A program of music played and sung in the time of Lincoln will be given at the First Baptist Church tomorrow evening when veterans from the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle will attend in a body to listen to hymns and patriotic airs which stirred their hearts in the long ago. The sermons at the First Baptist Church tomorrow morning and evening will be by Dr. Birney Hudson, associate pastor of the Temple Baptist Church.

WILL ASSIST NEGROES

For forty years the Evangelical Lutheran Synodical Conference has carried on mission work among the colored people of the Old South, until now there are churches scattered over six States and many large cities of the country. By reason of migration from these Southern States, many Lutheran colored people are living in Los Angeles, having been served for several years by Rev. J. W. Theiss and Walter Troeger, in connection with their own parishes, but now a colored pastor, Rev. John McDavid, has accepted a call to this field and will soon arrive here. To help these beginners to secure a chapel for their use, two services will be conducted tomorrow, one a joint service for Los Angeles county churches in the Trinity Church, Eighteenth and Cherry streets, at 8 p.m., at which Rev. J. W. Theiss will speak and the other, a joint service for Orange county churches at St. John's Church, Orange, Cal., at the same time, at which Rev. Walter Troeger will speak.

"THE PILGRIM SPIRIT"

Dr. George Kenngott, superintendent of the Southern California Congregational Conference, has accepted the invitation from Dr. H. C. Culbertson to preach tomorrow morning at the Plymouth Congregational Church. The subject of the sermon is "The Pilgrim Spirit." In the evening the congregations of Plymouth and Olivet Congregational churches will unite in a service at Olivet, under the leadership of Rev. W. H. Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins will also preach at Olivet in the morning. Next Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. Plymouth Church members will give a dinner at the parish house, the feature of the program to be an address by Dr. E. P. Ryland.

YOGANANDA TO SPEAK

A free lecture on "Divine Healing Prayer" will be given by Swami Yogananda at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The speaker will discuss the fundamental doctrines of Jesus in regard to the healing of the body and the cleansing of the mind. The public is invited.

"ELISHA A JOKER?"

The Girls' Corner Club chorus of fifty singers, under the direction of Mrs. Guy L. Bush, will give a musical program at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening, preceding an address on "The American Church and the Jew," by Rev. Paul L. Berman. In the morning Dr. Herbert Booth Smith will preach on "Was Elisha, the Prophet, a Practical Joker?"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

A lesson-sermon on "Soul" will be read at 11 a.m. tomorrow in each of the eighteen Christian Science churches of Los Angeles. # Go To Church Sunday

Why You Should Go To Church

By Rev. Jas. A. Francis, D.D., First Baptist Church

Rev. Jas. A. Francis Pastor First Baptist Church

Going to a place of worship one day in seven widens our horizon toward the unseen. Reminds us that what we see and hear is not the entire sum of things; that there is an infinite unseen spirit to which our spirit can respond.

Quickens our sense of right by bringing us back to the standard of right, thus causing us to take our own moral measure and temperature.

Makes us aware that we are linked with all mankind by the consciousness that in all lands and languages our fellows are seeking in some way communion with the same God.

Calls our attention again to the world's supreme literature; that book of which Lincoln says: "I am profitably engaged in reading the Bible. Take all of this book upon reason that you can and the balance on faith, and you will live and die a better man."

Gives us an opportunity regularly to join our gifts with those of others, insuring the best that mankind has attained with the more backward races of the world.

CHIP OF THE OLD BLOCK

NOT YET BUT SOON

Paul Poiret, the Parisian designer, says that this will be the year of the best-dressed people and he adds that ultimately women will be wearing trousers. What are those things they are wearing now!

EFFIE'S EFFICIENCY

Once there was a day when some sympathy was felt for a girl who was forced to shift for herself, but the modern flapper can do her shifting with one hand while holding the wheel and powdering her nose.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

The world's-end day and Friday, the thirteenth, both having registered without any frumps or startlements, the prophets and portenders may as well take up the task of making a living by selling safety pins and glue. Business as usual is the slogan.

THE AIR HAZARDS

New British bombing planes have motors of 1000 horsepower. They are equipped to carry torpedoes weighing 1000 pounds, one of which might wreck a fort or obliterate a battleship. Playing with one of these devastating insects is writing a ticket to eternity.

THE WORST OF IT

While Federal taxes are being regularly reduced State and local burdens are being as steadily increased. There are really few compensations in the life of a taxpayer. When he stoops to pick up some prize a massive hijacker sneaks up from behind and kicks a dent in his trousers.

BLACK AS NIGHT

A prowling tomcat became entangled in power wires and left an Iowa town in darkness until the reason was discovered. By that time all nine lives of the animal were singed to a crisp. Let it be known that no expansive kitten can inflict darkness upon a community without paying the price—nine lives or one.

THE SMUGGLER'S TRADE

England also has a smuggling and bootlegging problem that is disturbing the government. The price of spirits in France is barely half the cost in England and a high duty has been placed upon the importation of the foreign product in the British Isles. England has been rather suspected of assenting to the trade in liquors between her own citizens and thirsty Americans in defiance of our laws. Now she is getting a taste of the same treatment at the hands of the French.

SHORTER HOURS

With the general recognition of the eight-hour day there is said to be a movement by the Wobblies for a still shorter day—when they work. Some of their orators are said to favor the passage of a constitutional amendment reducing each hour from sixty to forty-five minutes. In this way the shorter day would be woven into the law of the land. There is objection, however, on the part of those who still want the long hour for their sleeping and eating and this controversy will keep the conversationalists busy for some time ahead.

WESTERN SPIRIT

People have been known to feel that the spirit of the West was expressed in just one fiesta after another. They forget that the pendulum swings wide in the West; it has plenty of room. There are weeks and months of endeavor, of hardship, of desperate risk without a thought of complaint, all in the day's work. There are disappointments that would crush the heart out of the average eastern man and drive him to drink or inertia; but that is where the western spirit comes in. It is the westerner's ability to "up and take another," not once, but many times, and all with a smiling face; and so the pendulum swings back to the fiesta.

THE PLACENTIA MASTODON

It has been a matter of wonder with archaeologists who have made a study of the civilization and architecture of the Maya and other races of Central America and Mexico, where they got their knowledge of the elephants they have carved on so many of their buildings. Dr. Elliot Smith has lately written a book, "Elephant and Ethnologists," in which he advances the theory that they brought their knowledge of these animals from Asia, because up to date no remains of elephants have been found in those places. However, the late discovery of a mastodon's skull at Placentia may help to solve the mystery. If the mastodons got as far south as Placentia there seems no reason to believe their remains may not yet be discovered in Mexico and Central America, thus proving that the Mayas had their models for the carvings on their temples at hand. If this be true, how ancient must have been the Maya civilization? It would make the recent discoveries in Mexico seem as yesterday in comparison.

THE ORGANIZED MINORITY

Whatever may have been the purpose of the original founders of the Ku Klux Klan, it has developed into a secret organization that mingles in the politics of every community where one of its units is located. Secret political organizations have never been helpful to any people at any time. They are especially repugnant to the idea of representative government.

Wherever the Klan is in evidence unscrupulous politicians seek its secret support; and in return they make secret pledges that would bring about their defeat if they were known openly. Invisible government is a government by terror. There is hardly a section in the country in which the Klan represents as much as one-tenth of the citizenship; and this one-tenth seeks to form an organized minority that can control the majority through secret and devious methods.

This is repugnant to the idea of representative government, for it is making the part greater than the whole. The Klan is the exponent of secret diplomacy. Its covenants are all secretly discussed and secretly adopted. All the public gets are platitudes and bromides. Under the cover of darkness it attempts to establish a government that shall be superior to that under the Constitution. It is a matter of common report that any member of the Klan is authorized to deny membership or affiliation whenever doing so shall serve his individual purpose or ambition. An organization that condones perjury is not likely to be much of an influence in the cause of truth.

With the exception of such places as Williamson county, Illinois, the political aspirations of the Klan have already begun to defeat themselves by reason of the methods used. Every loyal American abhors invisible government and doubly abhors government by intimidation. The recent Anaheim election is a case in point. In the opinion of the community, the municipal officials paid more regard to their allegiance to the Klan than their allegiance to the community that they were sworn to serve. Conditions came to a point where the community rebelled; and their offices were vacated and filled by men whose first and whole allegiance was to the public welfare.

If the tenets of the Klan are not in conflict with the government and the morals of the country, why are they kept secret? It is never necessary to plot secretly to perform a public service. Those who violate neither the written nor the moral law of the land have no occasion to wear a mask over the features created in the image of their Maker and ride about the country like witches of the night.

If the Klan desires better government why not work in the open that every loyal citizen may know their purpose and join in the cause? Whatever their professions, it is by their practice that they are condemned.

The Klan is not the only organized minority which aspires to rule. To all such the objections herein set forth apply with equal force. The American government and all its parts are political entities dedicated to the principle of rule by the majority. Nothing less and nothing else shall prevail.

BEING A VALENTINE

For a brief and bob-tailed month February is rich in historical dates, the oldest being Valentine's Day.

It is set forth that there were at least three St. Valentines. Two of the Valentines were martyrs and are said to have been snuffed out the same afternoon—possibly to brighten up a dull hour for the Emperor Claudius. Both were buried along the same highway, the Via Flaminia, but at different distances from Rome. What is thought to be the grave of one of them is still shown.

A third Valentine, who also was raised to sainthood, was known as the apostle of Rhaetia. He was the first Bishop of Passau and was a figure in the church of the fifth century. These are three of the Saints Valentine, but, in spite of this richness of material, it appears that no churchly edifice of consequence carries the name. At least there doesn't seem to be a St. Valentine's church in this country or the British Empire.

The rising generation of sweethearts is prone to run away with the belief that the 14th of February is sacred to the art of Valentino, the supreme Adonis of the League of Lovers.

Be that as it may, the business of loving and sending pretty cards and scented missives telling about it will go blithely on. With the high-pressure sweetheart every day is St. Valentine's Day and every post-office his shrine.

LEGISLATIVE LOOT

Rigid economy! That's the slogan of the Coolidge administration. The President has promised a reduction of national taxation. The punishment of success or the discouragement of business, he says, is not the object of the income tax. Its speedy reduction, he believes, would encourage and stimulate investment.

The business world voices its approval of Coolidge economy. Henry Ford sees in it the financial salvation of the country. Some people will scent a joke in the fact that one of the biggest taxpayers in the world is so strongly in favor of tax reduction. Laugh at the idea as they may, however, the scoffers at Ford as an advocate of decreased taxes must admit that the arguments he publishes in his independent in support of his position are sound ones.

The laugh is not on Ford. Nor is it on the other men of great wealth. When it comes to the payment of income taxes everybody suffers, because everybody must help to pay them by paying increased prices for commodities. The idea that the poor could be helped by high taxation of the incomes of the rich has not, in the economist's estimate, worked out as intended. Both rich and poor have been shorn.

As for the Ford view of the situation, it may be summarized thus: If left to run its own wasteful course Congress never would relieve the poor, no matter if the rich were made to pay all the taxes. If the revenue were ten times as great as it is Congress would easily find ways to spend every cent of it. Taxes of all kinds amount to just as much as we let the politicians have. If we let them have less, taxes will be less. Politicians are not to be trusted with full treasuries. One pays as much now in taxes as was formerly paid in rent. High income taxes mean less production, less consumption, less work, less wages, less comfort and happiness.

This idea is easily extended to cover State, city and county taxes, which have more than doubled in many communities of late. It is undeniably correct to say that politicians, small or great, cannot be trusted with large revenues. To be sure, a city like Los Angeles, with its tremendous expansion, has greater need of money than in former years; but it is intolerably unjust to extort high taxes from people and then waste the money, as has been done in many instances. Coolidge economy would do a lot of good if extended to the Los Angeles City Hall. Our tax money must be expended more economically.

The same is true of State funds. We readily assent to the idea of being taxed to support schools and to build good roads, but we do not consent to be looted by the swelling of political pay rolls or the overcharges of unscrupulous contractors.

It is to be hoped that the example set by President Coolidge in economical administration will be followed by public officials all over the country. He presented the crux of the situation when he said: "Anybody can reduce taxes, but it is not so easy to stand in the gap and resist the passage of increasing appropriation bills."

He stood in the gap repeatedly during the last two sessions of Congress. There are Congressmen who laugh at him for "overworking the economy idea." Such politicians may be depended upon never to overwork it.

It is good at this time that we have a President whose New England thrift is prompting him to call a halt to further legislative loot and that Henry Ford and other captains of industry are with him in his fight.

EXTREMES

"Avoid extremes, as of bees and wasps," said Mark Twain.

Mark has helped many people to keep their balance. The man who laughs much is not likely to go off on a tangent. Cassius was lean because he thought about it too much. It is worth while for a man not to take himself too seriously.

The extremist is hard to live with. That may be why so many of them pay alimony. They keep others awake at all hours by their vagaries. If they would let you alone and allow you to believe as you choose you might not object so strenuously. However, the wasp seldom attends to his own business.

He always wants to convert you. You may feel in no special need of his peculiar kind of conversion and are perfectly willing to live in Hollywood, but he will not have it so.

If it be not one thing it is another. He is a rampage by nature. It is a habit with him. He may have nothing but an oil well that is just about to strike the sand, and all he needs is what you have to finish the job. If he would but bore the well instead of you, you might be willing for him to continue to exist.

He is never orthodox in business or religion. It is impossible for him to travel any paved highway. He is always on the edge of the precipice of success, and you are never quite certain whether he be a genius or a fool. You hesitate to ride with him, either in his car or ideas.

He is never so happy and at home as when driving too close to the edge of the chasm or the speed limit. In business he employs an attorney to keep him just within the law, and in morals he lives so close to the border that he can go over and return before morning without being caught. The man who is an extremist in one matter needs to be watched in everything.

If you could hit him with a club and abolish him without explaining to the police and the reporter you would do it joyfully as an act of humanity.

"Avoid extremes, as of bees and wasps."

AT IT AGAIN

La Follette now attacks large gifts to educational establishments. Can you blame him? The greater the ignorance the more followers he will have.

THE PERIPATETIC PERIL

Look out for the pedestrian,
When down the street you spin;
He is a bold and brasen man
Who smashes mud guards in.
A wicked fist he shakes,
And if your car runs over him,
You bust your four-wheel brakes!

When bumped upon his pate,
And when he's tangled in your wheels,
He's hard to extricate.
He has not sense enough to trek,
But stands there like a dolt,
You get a dreadful jolt.

You think you're going to get him good,
But you are wrong; you ain't,
He may be tossed upon the hood
And scratch the nice new paint.
It's terrible the way he swears,
When nicked upon the head,
And even worse to know his heirs
Will sue you if he's dead.

Beware of the pedestrian,
When on the avenue,
He is the mean and vicious man
Who sets the cops on you.
He wanders in a mighty horde,
A hundred thousand strong,
Along the streets, but, thank the Lord,

WIVES AND THEIR JOBS

An ever-prolific topic of conversation is the discussion of the married woman and her job. The announcement of an intensive study of the subject is made by Miss Emma P. Hirth, who has been assigned to the duty by the Bureau of Vocational Information, for the purpose of bringing together "what is so badly needed for clear and constructive thinking" on this subject, through reliable facts drawn from actual experience. She has asked the aid of 100 women, picked at random from several States, "who are doing some sort of serious work outside their jobs of mother, wife and home-maker."

Dr. Loraine Pruett is quoted as saying that "work is a very good thing and women have too much leisure;" that a great many of their activities are useless; that many of them can attend to their "part-time jobs of feeding and populating the world" and still find time to do something else.

OUR DEAR ONES

Savior, lead our sons today
While they journey by us;
Guide our daughters' feet, we pray,
While they linger nigh us.

While the tide of evil waits,
Ere it overflows them,
Lead them to Thy temple gates
Ere the night shall close them.

May Thy arm uphold them;
May their hearts be ever pure
And Thy love enfold them.

In the springtime of their youth,
Heavenly wisdom lend them;
Guide them in the way of truth
And from sin defend them.

Then in realms beyond the sky,
Where no hearts shall sever,
May they bloom, fair flowers on high,
Fadeless there forever.

R. A. S. WADE.

THE ROCK COD

BY DAVID STARR JORDAN

The two great centers from which most of the fishes of the world have some time migrated are the North Pacific and South Seas. A great ocean has more species of fishes than one, and the Atlantic has been, through the ages, largely recruited from the Pacific's overflow. This interchange has been made possible by the fact that each ocean is open at both ends. Arctic and Antarctic seas are even more by the incident, 2,000,000 years ago, of a broad waterway instead of the present Isthmus of Panama. This constituted a runway of exchange between the West Indies and the waters of Mexico.

The two types of fishes most characteristic of the North Pacific—two which have never found their way into the Atlantic—are the Pacific salmon or quinnots and the tribe which California calls "rock cod." The Pacific salmon are distinguished from other salmon or trout by the fact that they are all geared for a single brood. After once spawning they all dry up like a withered corn stalk, dying in a week or so and floating, tail foremost, down the stream.

The rock cod are, of course, not codfish at all, nor do they bear the slightest resemblance to a codfish. But, as nothing of the sort grows in England or in Spain, the early settlers had to give some names, yet powerless to invent new ones and make them stick. Different sorts have local names—thus the big-mouth kinds are called "Boccaccio," the black ones "priest fish" and a gorgeously banded one of pink and crimson the "Spanish Flag." The Japanese call them "Mebaru," "pop-eyes," because those from deep water have their eyes pushed outward by internal expansion.

There are upward of forty kinds of these fishes known from California, Alaska and Japan. They range from one foot in length to three. They all live about rocks or submarine banks and in relatively cold water. All feed on little fishes, crabs, snails and the like. All are good to eat, although the white flesh is a bit tough and not at all oily.

In color, the individuals of the same species scarcely vary at all. The females look just like the males. In all of them, so far as known, the abundant yellow little eggs are hatched internally, the fishlets, turned out alive in the spring, less than a fifth of an inch long, translucent except for their conspicuous black eyes, big for the size of the bit of protoplasm in which they are set.

But, however uniform in color rock cod of a given species may be, every one has its own pattern and hue. The most primitive form, the Boccaccio, closely related to the fossil rock cods found in the Miocene deposits at Lompoc, is plain olive-green, with a reddish cast below. Others are olive, with a yellowish cast. Others are black, some plain, some speckled. Others in deeper water are pinkish gray. In still deeper waters all are red, some plain, some crimson, some scarlet, some uniform, some spotted, one gayly cross-barred, with red over paler or pink. A number of species have blotches of bright pink, regularly arranged, some on a red background, some on crimson speckled with green. The largest species and the smallest are bright red, the latter having pink markings. In the markets at San Diego every morning one may find a ton or so of huge red fellows, brought in from the Cortes Banks or the Coronado Islands, their stomachs protruding from the open mouths, inverted because of the change of pressure as they are drawn up to the surface.

About the rocks nearer shore are species which are black—either profusely spotted with lemon yellow or with golden yellow in large blotches or again gathered in a sunshiny patch on the back. Two kinds of rock cod have sharp crossbars of jet black, the one on a greenish ground color, the other on a background of bright brick red.

EN PASSANT

BY J. J. LOWMAN

As always, Broadway was in riotous spirits and splendid health, full of confidence for the future and treating life and its concomitants with the cheerful flippancy that makes our country the despair of other nations.

Wildly waving his arms, gesticulating in every known manner and talking to himself, old and broken with the cares and sorrows of life, he was the cynosure of thousands of eyes and a butt for the ridicule of countless passers by.

Yet who knows what tribulations this man had met and what he has endured to bring this end?

Mayhap, this man had seen much, had known many cities and manners, climates, councils, governments and possibly had been honored of them all. Who knows?

Like many others, it is possible that his heart had melted and become water all too easily. At one time he may have had riches and learning. Not for him was the dust of the arena. Probably he knew friends and kinsmen in the first places of the synagogue and they failed to succor him.

It is possible this man could have been a statesman with great position around him. He may have had vessels of gold and silver, ivory and peacocks, books and paintings. He may have known the vanity of gorgeous apparel and had a conception of duty to his God.

This man was to be envied and not ridiculed, for at the best it could be but such a short, short time for him when he would have the key to all life's mystery. This man probably looked forward to the time that he could fold his hands from every task. The lifelong struggle ended; ended all weariness and pain. For him it will be sweet to slumber and forget and to have the poor, tired heart stilled at last. He will be done with all yearning, done with all regret, doubts, fears, sorrows, all forever past. For this man, to look forward must be sweet, it must be very sweet.

COUNCIL ADOPTS NEW WARD MAP

Vote on Measure is Seven For, Two Against

Harbor, Valley in Control in Own Districts

Division Can be Upheld in Suit, Counsel Says

The map dividing the city into fifteen councilmanic districts was yesterday adopted by the City Council, as recommended by its special map-making committee of which Councilmen Allan, Baker and Criswell were members, and City Attorney Stephens was instructed to prepare an ordinance establishing the boundaries of the districts as shown on the map. These boundaries were published in The Times last Thursday.

Councilmen Gregory and Mushet voted against the adoption of the map, as they declared that the San Fernando Valley and Harbor districts should have been made smaller, so that these outlying sections could have representation in the Council. In reply, Chairman Criswell said that the two districts were so drawn that the Harbor and valley sections would have the preponderence of votes in them over the territory which had been added.

Assistant City Attorney Whitehead told the Council that in his personal opinion the map had gone as far as was legally possible in reducing the size of the Harbor and valley wards and he said that as drawn the map could be successfully defended in the courts should its legality be attacked.

Under strict division of the 1922 vote, on which the map was required by the charter to be based, each district would have cast 9817 votes at that election. The valley and Harbor districts each cast at that election less than 3500 votes, so that overbalancing territory had to be added in each district if the 9817 vote division was to be retained.

Under the map adopted yesterday the voting strength at the 1922 election of Ward No. 1 (San Fernando) was 6345 and of the Harbor ward was 6240. The voting strength of Ward No. 1 at the November election for President was 15,399, and in the Harbor district was 16,212.

Former Dancer Gets Judgment in $34,000 Suit

Aileen Flaven, former stage dancer, and her mother, Aileen Flaven Gardner, yesterday were granted a judgment by Judge Craig of $34,000 against W. J. Klett, Harold Klett and Ronald Gilbert, officials of the defunct Klett Furniture Company of Hollywood, for money Miss Flaven and her mother said they invested in asserted worthless contracts for the purchase of furniture.

The civil suit followed an investigation and indictment by the county grand jury of the officials on charges of obtaining money by false pretenses. Two of the defendants entered pleas of guilty and are now serving sentences in San Quentin penitentiary.

The defendants failed to answer the charges and judgment for the plaintiffs was ordered by default. Attorney Thomas Reynolds represented Miss Flaven and her mother.

Woman Saves for Many Years to Get Divorce

Along about 1906 Mrs. Ida Wentz decided she wanted a divorce from Edgar Wentz.

Yesterday she filed her complaint. The intervening nineteen years she had devoted herself to accumulating, penny by penny, the fund she thought necessary to finance the litigation.

"Mrs. Wentz did not know that the law provides for payment of a wife's counsel fee by the husband, when she is unable to pay it herself," Attorney William Durham, who prepared the complaint for her, explained. "She thought she had to wait until she had cash in hand. So she had to delay her suit until she finished rearing her children."

Mrs. Wentz charged desertion. If nothing untoward intervenes she will have her day in court within a few months.

Wife is Jailed on Rum Count; Husband Hides

Mrs. Anna Breen, 1441 McKinley avenue, is held in the County Jail awaiting sentence on a charge of violating the Volstead Act. Her husband, Benjamin Green, under indictment with Mrs. Green, is a fugitive from justice.

"If this woman's husband is any kind of a man he will appear here Monday and take the responsibility for this crime," United States District Judge Bledsoe said yesterday after a jury returned a verdict of guilty against Mrs. Green. E. T. McGann, assistant United States attorney, explained the husband had evaded the Federal officers and left his wife to get out of her trouble as best she could.

Prohibition agents arrested Mrs. Green in May, 1923, when they found a still and a large quantity of liquor in her home. The husband was never apprehended. Mrs. Green will be sentenced Monday.

COMMISSIONER FREES DYER LAW SUSPECT

J. T. Grover, held on a charge of transporting a stolen automobile from Casper, Wyo., to Odessa, Tex., was released yesterday by United States Commissioner Turney. Evidence against Grover was insufficient to warrant an order for removal, in the opinion of Commissioner Turney, and of officials at El Paso where an indictment based on transportation of the stolen car is pending. Grover's arrest, it was decided, resulted from mistaken identity.

You see these same sports clothes must be kept clean and it is important that you wash them properly. White King is the ideal preparation for the purpose. To tell you the truth, White King is just wonderful for all cleansing purposes. It lathers instantly—softens the water as well and won't fade colors nor yellow white. Use it—that is the best way to prove Sallie knows.

Did you ever stop to consider what the beneficial effects were in using pure olive oil like Castruccio Bros.? Aside from the oh-so-good taste, instantly discernible, is the medicinal value. Correct wall covering means many things—Beauty, of course, but just beauty alone is not enough. A wall covering which is really dust and dirt proof and which can be made just like new by wiping off with a damp cloth is what every home should possess. You will find all these virtues embodied in "Sanitas," the most modern and ideal of wall coverings. It's made on cloth and wears forever because it's strong, crack-proof and tear-proof—and it does not absorb water spots. You can't realize how beautiful "Sanitas" is until you see the assortment of patterns, decorative and plain, dull-finished tints as well for every room in the house. "Sanitas" brocaded effects are truly more lovely than real silk and far more inexpensive. Ask to have it shown you.

Did you know that tomatoes may be placed on the prong of a fork, held above the gas burner for a few seconds to sear the skin and then peeled in less time than it takes to tell it?

There is an excellent reason for the great throngs of women who have luncheon each day in Herbert's Grill. That complete 45-cent luncheon which they are now serving is certainly the "piece de resistance" which Los Angeles maids and matrons are truly appreciative of. It's almost unheard-of to be able to get such an elaborate repast, well cooked and served for so small an amount of money. The variety attracts, so does the changed daily menu. Been in yet? Why not drop in today? Hill between Seventh and Eighth is the address.

If there should happen to be the slightest doubt in your mind of the importance of drinking pure water such as Arrowhead water is, free from germs of any sort; listen to this part of a statement made by Dr. H. H. Roberts: (1) Waters which are slightly alkaline and carry the salts having the normal constituents of the blood are most beneficial. (2) The water should come from a source which is free from surface contamination. This source should be located high in the hills or mountains, far from inhabited and cultivated districts. (3) Only a bottled water, bottled under the most perfect and sanitary conditions, is reliable and trustworthy. (4) Water for drinking should be free from bacteria. (5) The act of drinking water should be a business. The normal functions of the body require not less than thirty-two ounces daily. This proves how important it is that we drink Arrowhead water, for it's brought direct from the San Bernardino Mountains, bottled and delivered at your home for 50 cents, the demijohns containing five gallons—to order. And what do you think, that price includes all lumber, casement, sash, doors and trim, screens, frames, plaster board and material for kitchen cupboard and dressing-room case. The kitchen has a combination ironing board and breakfast nook, also cupboard and cooler, all arranged with built-in features so that your work is turned into play. The dressing-room, mind you, has a three-foot built-in dresser, with three drawers; while the living-room possesses selected planed red oak floor, which is laid, scraped and finished by the Woodhead Lumber Company's own department. There is a fine bed, too, to put in the wall or dressing-room and the cunning porch has a most artistic bracket roof. Throughout the house-beautiful red cedar shingles are used, think of that. This is such a remarkable value that really, you should phone or get in touch with Mr. Connelly once and let him tell you all the particulars.

Newton Street Police Station to Open Monday

The new Newton-street police station, on Newton near Central avenue, will be opened Monday with Capt. McClary, at present in charge of the Hollywood division, in command, First Deputy Chief Hilf announced yesterday.

Under Capt. McClary will be two police lieutenants, four sergeants, forty-one patrolmen, one patrol wagon, one ambulance and four police cars. The officers will patrol the district bound on the north by Sixth street, by Stanson avenue on the south, San Pedro street and South Park avenue on the west and Alameda street and the Los Angeles River on the east.

Inspector James McDowell will replace Capt. McClary at the Hollywood division, Hilf said. He also announced the transfer of Sergt. Rehins from Central to Hollywood and Sergt. Nelson, in command of the Hollywood vice squad, to Central. Routine transfers of thirteen patrolmen also were made public.

ART EXHIBIT PLACED

Work of Vienna School Children in Los Angeles Museum

Installation at the Los Angeles Museum of History, Science and Art, of the famous exhibition of art work by children of the Viennese School was announced yesterday by Dr. William Alanson Bryan. The public is invited to visit the exhibit any day between 10 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., except on Wednesday afternoons and Sunday mornings. The hours for visiting on Sunday are from 2 to 5 p.m. The exhibit will close on the 25th inst.

The paintings, drawings and sculpture work were done by young pupils of the Vienna school, headed by Dr. Franz Cizek and which, before the war, was supported by the Austrian government. The works of these children have elicited praise from art lovers in England and various parts of America.

ATTACK OPENED ON WILSON TALE

Defense Attorney Hints at Feud Over Girl

Elerick at Capital During Robbery, Lawyer Says

Cross-Questioning Fails to Alter Bandit's Story

A double-barreled attempt to break down the story of Herbert Wilson, government witness in the mail robbery trials in United States District Judge James's court was begun late yesterday afternoon by Byron Hanna, attorney for Jack Elerick, one of the defendants when he accused Wilson of harboring hatred for Elerick over a girl, and indicated that Elerick has an alibi.

Wilson, formerly leader of the gang, and a life-term prisoner at San Quentin, faced the Hanna cross-examination for five hours yesterday, but met every sally with a cool and calculated reply. In no noticeable particular did he change his previous testimony of robberies and conspiracies.

The girl in question was Helen Gillespie, Wilson's former sweetheart, who died in January, 1923. After Wilson's arrest she constantly visited him in jail, and was indicted for an attempt to free him in 1922.

HINTS AT ALIBI

"Didn't you know that Elerick was in Sacramento, associating with men of prominence from February 22, 1921, to April 1, 1921?" demanded Attorney Hanna.

"Impossible," replied Wilson, firmly.

Mr. Hanna said later he would put on fifty witnesses to testify that in touch with Mr. Connelly once and let him tell you all the particulars.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

BOWLEGS

"Dear Doctor Lulu: I am 18 years of age and many times I sit down and cry when I think of how bowlegged I am. Perhaps it is God's will. If you think it is not, please, Dr. Lulu, please help me.

"BETSY."

Dear Betsy, the time is past when we blame the Lord for our afflictions. You probably had rickets when you were a child.

I am afraid at your age the bones are pretty well set now and nothing but an operation can help you. These operations are performed successfully by skillful orthopedic surgeons.

If there is no known skilful orthopedic surgeon where you live, try to get in touch with some big orthopedic hospital in some large city and have a consultation with one of their staff. There are such hospitals in most large cities.

"Dear Doctor: I would rather give up one meal a day than your deliciously breezy articles, and this is just what I may have to do—give up the meal, I mean.

"I am 72 years of age, five feet, two, in height and at least forty pounds overweight, which is a distressing condition when the present silhouette is the 'eel's hips.'

"I am a strict vegetarian, so any advice as to cutting corners on the carnivorous part of my diet would be superfluous. But roast me for anything else that occurs to you. For instance, the rocking-chair habit, the between-meals habit, the rich-foods habit, which includes heaps of mayonnaise, butter and cooking oil; and last, but not least, the sweet desserts habit.

"Hubby suffers likewise. He has to his discredit meat and eggs and lots of 'em, but no rocking chairs, between-meals, nor rich desserts.

"He has a bad case of common bay window. He is fat and 40; though very red, he is darling.

"MRS. B."

We have to always keep in mind that we want to reduce, not for the style nor the improvement of the appearance primarily, but because we want to improve our health, although the improvement of the appearance is a sufficient reason also. We know that if we continue our present course, we are going to bring on one or more of the degenerative diseases—diabetes, heart trouble, kidney trouble, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, and so on.

I hope by strict vegetarian you do not mean that you omit milk and eggs also, because it is very difficult to get the needed food elements on a strict vegetarian diet. Even in my reducing class I advise two glasses of skim or buttermilk each day. Many find that cutting out meat, fish and fowl, improves the health. Others do not.

For instance, you probably would be benefited by eating some meat and cutting out your rich foods. You should cut out practically all of your oils and rich dessert. However, if you count your calories you can allow a few of some of the things you like.

Hubby goes to the opposite extreme in his excess meat and eggs. You are evidently fond of him, so you had better use your influence in making him reduce that bay window. "Bay window and very red" doesn't sound so good.

The booklet on reducing was sent to you if you inclosed a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in stamps. Did you do that?

My dear followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me, and realize that it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Cover the bottom of a kettle with the sliced root of a head of celery, three branches of parsley, one small sliced onion, and the chicken fat. Mix one teaspoon of salt with one-quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of ginger and dust the pieces of chicken with it. Lay the pieces of chicken on the vegetables and fat, the breast pieces first, cover the pot and place over a slow fire, add a little hot water when necessary, and let simmer slowly until the chicken is tender. Rub two teaspoonfuls of flour to a smooth paste with two teaspoonfuls of water and stir into the stew, shake the kettle to keep from burning and let boil up once. Pour onto a hot serving platter and garnish with finely chopped parsley, and if liked, small tea biscuits.

DOUGHNUTS

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a scant level teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of sugar and half a teaspoonful of cinnamon. Rub into the flour mixture one tablespoonful of butter and when like coarse meal, make a well in the center, turn in one well beaten egg, and half a cupful of milk. Mix to a smooth dough, roll out lightly half an inch thick, shape with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep, hot vegetable shortening, drain on a wire rack and when cold sprinkle with fine sugar.

Attorney Asks New Trial for 'Shorty' Deckert

Mathew ("Shorty") Deckert, diminutive slayer, who was convicted of killing Walter W. Power, young automobile salesman, over a $6 liquor debt, won a respite yesterday when Deputy Public Defender Fagles filed two motions in his behalf before Judge Crail of the Superior Court.

The first motion asked for a new trial, and the second asked that the verdict against Deckert be set aside. Judge Crail set the date for the hearing on the motions for Monday.

Deckert was convicted of first-degree murder by a jury after long deliberation a few days ago. The jury recommended life imprisonment. Deckert was to have been sentenced yesterday.

E.G. LEWIS RECEIVER IS APPOINTED

United States District Judge James yesterday appointed W. E. Hanson of Atascadero as receiver for the Permanent Residence Apartments' Corporation, which operates a hospital at Atascadero. The court's action was on petition of Lenora Achatz, a creditor, filed in connection with a voluntary petition in bankruptcy filed by the corporation of which E. G. Lewis is president and A. W. Wheatley vice-president. Suit is pending against the corporation in the San Luis Obispo Superior Court, according to the creditor's petition.

The corporation schedules assets amounting to $49,145 and debts amounting to $55,467. The assets include real estate valued at $37,660 and equipment of the hospital valued at $13,030. The value of the hospital, as a going concern, is placed at $50,000 in the petition for the receiver. The petition also states that almost all the stock in the corporation is owned directly or indirectly by Lewis. The appointment of Hanson as receiver was asked because he resides at Atascadero and is auditor for A. R. Rutherford, receiver of the affairs of Lewis.

Remarriage of Wife is Cited to Obtain Custody

When Howard Hopkins came back from a trip east that lengthened into about eleven years, he was astounded to find that his wife had married a man named Robinson, he told Judge Gates yesterday during a hearing on the custody of his four children, pending trial of his suit for divorce from Mrs. Sabina Hopkins.

This conduct, he contended, marked her as an unfit person to care for their children.

Mrs. Hopkins explained that she had been informed that Hopkins had obtained a divorce in New York, and as soon as she found out that she was mistaken she left Robinson. She pointed out that in her opinion Hopkins was no person to have the children inasmuch as he had failed to send her a cent for their support during eight years. Judge Gates continued the proceedings until March 6, and probation officers will investigate the situation in the meantime.

STEWART SENTENCE ON CALENDAR TODAY

Alexander B. Stewart, president of the Curtis Packing Corporation of Long Beach, and nine others will be sentenced today by Federal Judge McCormick on charges of violating the Volstead Act and the Tariff Act. The defendants, convicted two weeks ago, were to have been sentenced yesterday, but a continuance was granted on agreement of counsel. The defendants were convicted on charges growing out of the landing of 166 cases of intoxicating liquor on the wharf of the Curtis Packing Corporation on March 22, 1923.

DENIES CULT MADE PROFIT

Adviser to Mrs. Rowen Says Leader is Supported by Husband; Offers to Submit Records

Declarations by Dr. B. E. Fullmer, chief adviser of Mrs. Margaret Rowen, cult leader who recently prophesied the end of the world, that Mrs. Rowen has made no money out of her church work, was the feature yesterday in the continuation of the inquiry into the activities of the church organization by the City Prosecutor's office.

Dr. Fullmer and Willedd Andrews, Mrs. Rowen's attorney, appeared before Chief Investigator Poland yesterday in answer to a request that they divulge information regarding financial transactions of the cult.

"We have absolutely nothing to hide," Dr. Fullmer averred. "We are ready and willing to lay our entire case in the hands of competent authorities.

SUPPORTED BY MATE

"Mrs. Rowen, I know, has never made a cent out of her work with the church. She has been supported by her husband, a working man, and is still so being supported.

"Mrs. Rowen has been the recipient of dozens of threatening letters. For this reason it was thought best that she keep from sight for a little while. She has not deserted her husband, her friends or her church."

Dr. Fullmer submitted to Chief Investigator Poland several of the letters received at Mrs. Rowen's address. The letters will be turned over to Federal authorities for investigation, Dr. Fullmer said.

VENTURA PAPER NOW CONVINCED

Editor Reads Lying Letter About California

Other Journals Join the Friendship Contest

Civic and Business Bodies Indorse Plan

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 13. Arthur S. Pope, superintendent of schools for Santa Barbara county, announced his intention here today of entering the Friendship Contest of letter-writing and said that he intends urging his pupils to do likewise.

"We have sometimes thought," says the Ventura Post, weighing in the editorial scales the Friendship Contest of letter writing now indorsed by nearly every community in Southern California, "that The Los Angeles Times was making a little too much fuss over the lies that are printed in middle-western papers about California and conditions here. Big dogs, as a rule, pay small attention to the yapping of little dogs."

That depends, for one thing, on how many little dogs there are and, for another, on how vicious they are.

The case of the Ventura Post is cited for the benefit of letter-writers in this campaign to make friends for California, because it is so typical. The editor's first reaction is that of the normal-minded person, not in touch with the facts, who doesn't see the mass of what has been printed and has not talked with persons in a position to measure the hurt done. "We're all right," he says. "They're crazy. Let 'em rave."

BEYERS'S LETTER

But it happens that his eye fell on the now notorious letter written by one V. C. Beyers about "this fearful plague" that had "spread to Bakersfield, Hollywood, Glendale and all towns around here." His particular reprint of the letter appeared in a recent issue of the Flora (Ind.) Democrat and was prefaced with a gratuitous embellishment to the effect that "the newspapers of California are withholding the news," that "victims of the plague are dying so fast they do not take time to hold funerals, and their homes are turned to destroy all traces of the mysterious malady."

Whereupon the Ventura Post takes the second step in the normal sequence—the doctor gets mad, publishes the whole letter to show why he got mad, relieves his feelings by telling what he thinks of V. C. Beyers, admits that "we feel there is considerable to be said for The Times"—and when finds he has no space left in which to say it.

The purpose of the Friendship Contest is to refute these lies. Perhaps the better word is nullify. Refutation sounds combative. But it cannot be repeated too often, as The Times declared at the outset, that "this is not a contest to swat enemies, but to make friends."

The most effective method of silencing liars is not to blast them speechless, but to take away their audience. Friends of California, acquainted with the truth about her attractions and advantages, supplied with information, from those they know and trust, about living conditions here, are immune to such poison as the Flora Democrat scatters.

TELL THE FACTS

Don't catalogue the lies. There are too many of them. Don't fight them. Waste no words on them in your letter. Devote your space and your thought to the quiet solid facts that will do your fighting for you.

Magner White, writing in "I'd Just Like to Say," his column in the San Diego Independent, puts it tersely and wisely.

"The letter that wins," he says, "will be one that puts in all the good things about Southern California, and in addition carries the one quality necessary to put any letter over—sincerity."

The Santa Ana Register furnishes another text. The editor first summarizes the purpose and scope of the campaign and then adds:

"But we submit most urgently that a better thing to do—not as an alternative but in addition—is to write letters for publication to your old home newspaper."

That possibility had not been overlooked when the Friendship Contest was formulated. In all these Friendship letters there will be a certain similarity. If a letter possesses merit and touches a timely subject in which the editor believes his readers are interested, he may publish it—very likely will—and even a second and a third from other writers, but not the fortieth, fiftieth and all those between, on the same subject in much the same vein.

Every letter rejected goes into the wastebasket. The advice of the Santa Ana Register would consign to limbo all but a negligible fraction of the letters written direct to newspaper editors.

But if instead, those letters are addressed to individuals known to those who write, they will have their effect on at least one person, and, if after they have been read, the recipient, as he has been asked to do, carries them in person to the editor of his home town newspaper, in the first place, he stands a better chance to obtain publication and, in the second, even if he fails, at least one more letter has been read by one more person.

No, the effect at which the contest aims is mass effect—something very much broader than mere publication can obtain. There will be more letters sent out than all the country newspapers of the land could publish in a month of consecutive issues. Publication can and will help, but the way to get it is through personal contact between the editor and the individual who carries him the letter.

Too much in any one newspaper would become tiresome. Attempts to bombard editors would only provoke first resistance, then irritation, and finally public ridicule and open hostility.

ASSISTANCE OFFERED

In addition to previous acknowledgements of approval and assistance in the campaign, The Times takes pleasure today in naming the following:

Santa Barbara Press, Santa Barbara News, Anaheim Bulletin, El Monte Herald, Arroyo Grande Herald, Hanford Journal, San Diego Independent, Blue Pencil (published by the Advertising Club of Los Angeles,) Two Bells, (published by the Los Angeles Railway,) Ad Pointer (published by the Advertising Club of San Diego,) Irvindale Miscellany Club, Redondo Chamber of Commerce, Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, Inglewood Lions' Club, Inglewood Realty Board, Pomona Valley Realty Board, Monrovia Realty Board, Monrovia Chamber of Commerce, Contemporary Club, Redlands Chamber of Commerce, Santa Maria Board of Trustees, and the Ontario, Anaheim and Santa Ana chambers of commerce.

Following are the rules, The Times reserving the right to make additions and changes if any be found necessary to promote the best interests of the contest and its purposes:

(1.) The duration of the contest shall be from January 25 until March 10 at 6 p.m. Letter copies submitted in competition must be sent to the Prize Letter Editor, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal. They may be mailed or deposited in the Prize Letter Box, main lobby, Times Building. No letter shall be eligible for a prize unless it has been deposited in the Prize Letter Box or postmarked on or before the date and hour specified.

(2.) The purpose of all letters submitted in this contest shall be to make friends for California, through a truthful presentation of her attractions. Contestants may write whatever in their judgment is best calculated to inspire a desire to visit or live here. The effectiveness of the letter, as a convincing communication from one friend to another, will be the principal consideration. For this reason, no letter should contain any reference to this contest.

(3.) All letters must be copies of bona fide originals which have been mailed to actual persons or to newspapers at correct addresses outside the State of California. In other words, write your letter, mail it to some one you know or to your home-town paper and send a copy to the Prize Letter Editor of The Times, Los Angeles. The genuineness of letters will be subject to check.

(4.) Every letter must bear the name and address of the person or paper to whom the original has been mailed, and the name and address of the writer. Put these on the letter itself; not on a separate sheet. Write on one side of the paper only.

(5.) All contestants must be persons now living in Southern California, that is, in Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, Imperial, Riverside, San Bernardino, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Tulare, Kings, Inyo or Kern counties. Temporary residents are eligible. It is not necessary to be a subscriber to The Times.

(6.) Letters may be of any length up to 1000 words.

(7.) Any contestant may write and submit copies of any number of letters during the life of the contest, but each original must be sent to a different addressee.

DR. CONERTY CHOSEN FOR GUARD POST

Named Major in Charge of Medical Branch of Local Infantry Unit

Announcement of the appointment of Dr. James M. Conerty as a major in charge of the medical detachment of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, the local National Guard unit, was made here yesterday, following the receipt of Maj. Conerty's commission from Washington.

The appointment is regarded as a notable acquisition to the local military force, according to the expressions of National Guard officers. Formerly a Los Angeles police surgeon, Dr. Conerty served throughout the war with the Sanitary Detachment of the Eighth Cavalry and was twice complimented in letters from Gen. Pershing. Later he attended Camp Lewis as a captain in the Reserve Corps and his work was such that it was recommended that he attend the Army Medical School at Camp Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

Following the receipt of his commission, Maj. Conerty announced an immediate reorganization of the medical detachment of the National Guard, selecting as his assistants Capt. Alfred Fellows, M. D., Lieut. John Howard, M.D., and eleven new enlisted men. Dr. Conerty has offices in the Merritt Building.

JAIL ALIMONY DELINQUENT

Ryphe K. Perry, Los Angeles Harbor restaurant man, was sentenced to jail yesterday by Judge Burnell for contempt of court because of failure to pay $350 back alimony to his divorced wife, Marie T. Perry. Judge Burnell ordered Perry to remain in jail until he has paid the alimony. Mrs. Perry got a divorce and custody of four minor children on a charge of cruelty.

PROPERTY DISPLAYED BY SHERIFF

Many Identify Articles Said to Have Been Taken by Father, Two Sons

It was hard to say yesterday whether the Sheriff's office looked more like a pawnshop or a department store, for Capt. Townsend of the burglary squad has spread out thousands of dollars' worth of supposed plunder recovered by deputies following the arrest of Charles H. Lee, 52 years of age, and his two sons, Howard Lee, 25, and John Lee, 16, on suspicion of burglary. The goods, ranging from jewelry and silverware to hardware and tools, was placed upon tables and many victims of burglaries throughout the county filed through yesterday and viewed it.

Mrs. Marvin Wickes of Monrovia, made the biggest haul. She proved ownership to about $1000 worth of silverware, and was allowed to take it home with her.
